WEST SIDE EVENTS.

Letter of Retraction Given Out for Publication by George West of the Plymouth Brethren.

George West, a minister who formerly was active in the local Plymouth Brethren camp, has fallen from grace. He circulated a scandalous report concerning a Mrs. Henry Carter, of the West Mountain. The husband asked him to prove his assertions, and West disclaimed the truth of his words. He was dismissed from the ministry of the Brethren denomination and is now a wanderer. He has signed his name to two letters, one of which is as follows:

I hereby declare before the public that the story gone forth about Mrs. Henry Carter is utterly false and made up by me, and also that any time that said Mrs. Carter is accused of the above story I am ready to stand by and justify her. (Signed) George West.

IVORITES ENTERTAINMENT.

Devil Sant lodge of Ivorites held an entertainment last evening and a pleasant event it was. R. H. Williams presided and Miss Norma Williams acted as accompanist of the evening. W. J. Davies sang a Welsh song and Miss Lizette Evans recited. Both were enjoyed. A solo by William Evans was well given and another by Thomas Abrams was applauded. An address by Henry P. Davies, of Elyon street, on the subject "Our Patrons and Our Language," showed much thought. Mr. Davies has a candid and material way of saying things which enhance the goodness of a speech.

Miss Lydia Jones charmingly sang a solo, followed by a song by David Stevens, the rife soprano. B. Hughes gave an address. There were also songs by Miss Etta Phillips, W. J. Davies and David Jenkins. John Evans gave a violin solo and a comic song by Joseph Gray closed the entertainment.

FUNERAL OF MRS. DAVIS.

The remains of the late Mrs. Martha Watkins-Davis were buried yesterday with fitting ceremony in Forest Hill cemetery. Services were held at the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church, of which the deceased was a faithful member. Rev. J. P. Moffatt, pastor of the Washington Street Presbyterian church, officiated. A quartette sang. The members were: Mrs. P. C. Hall, Miss Ella Goldsall, Frank Beck and James Harrison. A large number of the deceased's friends were present at the funeral. There were many floral offerings. The pall-bearers were John Randolph, Charles Lull, Minnie Rees, J. Plummer, Arthur, John Rees and Frank Hagen.

WILL STAND TO THE OLD.

Captain Maryland and Lieutenant Green, of the local Salvation Army, are in New York city in attendance at the reception to the new commanders, Mr. and Mrs. Booth-Tucker. It is about a settled fact that the Scranton corps will remain under the command of the old organization. One of the late commander's foremost principles was obedience. He taught it and in such a way that the members of the army are its complete captives. Now that the great time has come for action the local army will doubtless follow the teachings of Hallington. Booth and obey the old general. At last that was the sentiment shown in the talk of a male member of the army last night. He does not know of any meeting that will not be attended at the old headquarters. He thinks there will be none. The army will go right along in the old channel.

AN APPEAL TO THE LAW.

Action That Has Been Taken by Olyphant Borough Councilmen.

WRIT OF QUO WARRANTO ASKED. They Want to Compel the Officers of the Borough Council to Show by What Right They Now Hold Office.

When the borough council of Olyphant met for organization on the first Monday of March last a deadlock arose over the election of a president, secretary and street commissioner. The council consists of twelve members, and five favored the election of William H. Davis for president, while the other five favored the election of Thos. Curran. Davis and Curran voted, of course, for themselves, and that constituted the six on each side.

After taking ballots by the score the deadlock remained unbroken and the meeting was adjourned until Wednesday, March 31. The two of the Curran faction were late in getting around, and as there were nine present the council was called to order and the election of a president was taken up. Six voted for Davis and the other three voted for Curran. The secretary announced the election of Davis.

Curran men withdrew. By this time the three dilatory Curran men arrived on the scene, but instead of remaining, they went away immediately, bringing the other three of their side out with them and leaving the council chamber to the six Davis men. That did not daunt the latter, however, and they proceeded to elect a president, secretary and street commissioner, choosing W. J. Schumacher, secretary, and Lawrence Howard street commissioner.

Yesterday the six Curran men who are Curran himself and C. O. Hollister, William Timley, R. J. Gallagher, John Keegan and Thomas Gannon, represented by O'Brien & Kelley and L. H. Harris, petitioned the court for a writ of quo warranto to issue to Messrs. Davis, Schumacher and Howard requiring them to show cause why their election as president, secretary and street commissioner respectively should not be set aside.

GROUND OF THE ACTION. The ground on which the action is taken is that they did not receive a majority of the votes of the members of council. There was a quorum present when the petition was filed, and the writ of quo warranto to issue to Messrs. Davis, Schumacher and Howard requiring them to show cause why their election as president, secretary and street commissioner respectively should not be set aside.

Court granted a rule on the respondents to answer, and made it returnable on Monday, April 6, at 9 a. m.

MOVING DAY ROW. There May Have Been More But This One Got Into Court.

Henry Harder took a new home on Adams avenue yesterday and upon moving in found a piano which had been left there by the family that moved on the day before.

During the afternoon J. C. Puderbaugh, an employee of L. R. Powell, went to the place with a couple of assistants to remove the piano. Harder refused to let him have it unless he would be paid 25 cents for storage. Puderbaugh would not pay, words were exchanged and the outshot was that Harder, according to Puderbaugh's story, threatened to shoot him.

Powell has had several arrests and Alderman Miller before whom he was arraigned held him to bail in the sum of $300 to answer at court.

A matrimonial notice in Chicago, and within two weeks had half a dozen answers. From these he picked out the name of Miss Anna Steadler, of Cherokee county, because she said she was a Kansas girl. Without delay he wrote her to meet him at Sedan Saturday, and directed her to wear a blue ribbon on her left arm. Young Duncan drove to Sedan early in the morning, secured his license, donned a blue ribbon and then went to the depot to watch the incoming train. At 2 o'clock he was rewarded. A trim little girl stepped from the train, the two recognized each other, and without further ceremony went to the residence of the Methodist parson and were united for life. Then they drove fourteen miles to Duncan's home, where everything was in readiness for the wedding. They had never met before and had not exchanged photographs.
