END OF THE HOGAN CASE

Conference Disposes of It in a Satisfactory Way.

WHAT ACCUSED SAYS ABOUT IT

Delegates to the General Conference Chosen--Report of Rev. Mr. Dony.

Details of the Business Transacted Yesterday by Conference.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Binghamton, N. Y., April 3.--At today's session of the Wyoming conference the case of Rev. J. C. Hogan, which has agitated the conference for upwards of a year, was most satisfactorily disposed of on Wednesday, when the conference opened, the matter was referred to a committee for consideration and at noon today this committee presented the following report:

Your committee of inquiry in the case of Rev. J. C. Hogan, having patiently and diligently looked into the case to the best of our ability and having given a full hearing to Brother Hogan and his friends, submit the following report: First--That no question has been considered by your committee, but the one question of Brother Hogan's appointment to the appointment assigned him by the bishop at the conference in 1893.

AT THE MORNING SESSION.

The morning session of the conference opened with devotional exercises conducted by Bishop Vincent, who expounded a portion of the Epistle of Timothy. During his remarks he took occasion to speak of the relations of women to Methodism. He also spoke of prohibition and said that you must build up the man before you can legislate prohibition.

The business session opened with the reading and adoption of the minutes of yesterday's session. Presiding Elder Eckman asked that Looman E. Sanford be admitted into full membership. Mr. Sanford has served the required four years. He was allowed such candidacy. One of the most interesting services in connection with the conference was the reception of probationers into membership, which occurred this morning.

The honor was conferred upon the following young men: Albert C. Brackenbury, Joshua Brundie, Ferris D. Cooney, Simon F. Cooney, H. Northrop, Charles M. Olmstead, Louis D. Palmer, William S. Wilcox and Arthur Noble and David H. Wilson. The services were conducted by Bishop Vincent, who spoke upon the duties and relations of pastors. When he arrived at the questions of personal habit, the use of tobacco, plumes, sticky shoes and there are such--well, he was always glad when they went to heaven. The boy wants to smoke, and the mother tells him he must not, he says, "Papa does." The mother replies that it is not right, and again he replies, "But the minister does." This is an opportunity to the candidates and satisfactory answers given.

GENERAL CONFERENCE.

At 10:50 the matter of electing delegates to the general conference was taken up, and a resolution was read by Dr. Hard of the delegates committee to the effect that all persons voting must be within the conference limits, that they rise in their places when voting, that each person vote for five delegates only and that six tellers be appointed to collect the ballots. Dr. Hard's resolutions were adopted and the bishop appointed as tellers F. H. Parson, M. D. Fuller, H. B. Benedict, G. A. Place, L. B. Weeks and W. J. Galtier. After the ballots were taken the tellers withdrew to count the vote.

The tellers in the election of delegates to the general conference reported that 88 votes had been cast, 94 being necessary for a choice. The result was as follows: J. C. Eckman received 108; Manley S. Hard, 106; Austin Griffin, 100; L. L. Sprague, 94; E. B. Olmstead, 78; A. J. Van Cleft, 72; W. L. Thorpe, 65; H. M. Crydenwise, 58; H. C. McDermott, 54; L. C. Floyd, 52; A. F. Munster, 47; W. J. Galtier, 44; M. S. Eckman, 42; Hard and Griffin were declared elected. A motion to take a second ballot for the two remaining candidates was carried and the votes taken. By this time the noon hour had arrived and the session adjourned without announcing the result.

Rev. F. A. Dony read the report of the Northern Pennsylvania Sabbath Union. It was as follows:

For five consecutive years you have honored me by entrusting me a most important department of church work. I have sought to be faithful and need only to say that they have not been years for growing cold in the religious life of the Union and its objects, and its methods and agencies, in speaking of the practical work during the year, he said that he had been well sustained, and as a result the Liquor Dealers' association had developed and done much good service in closing unlicensed houses in north Pennsylvania. Other lines of Sunday business have been reached and much good accomplished by the practical use of the society's plan, notably in Wilkes-Barre, Scranton, Pittston, Hazleton, Carbondale, Berwick, Canton, Pottsville and a number of smaller towns. The conviction has been reached in a short time that no evil exists in a short time will be allowed to spread, and there are more calls for practical work than the facilities allow of acceptance. The pecuniary support of the work has been of a steady growth. Last year $2,000 was received;

AN A. P. A. CIRCULAR.

Supreme President Traynor Maps Out a Political Problem.

Detroit, Mich., April 3.--W. H. J. Traynor, supreme president of the American Protective association, has issued a circular to the order at large upon the political situation. In his circular Mr. Traynor declares that the American Protective association controls the presidential situation and presents an exhaustive plan for the complete political reorganization of the order from the primaries up. He urges the various state councils to send their representatives to the supreme council which meets next month at Washington, pledged to such reforms as the subordinate members of the order most desire, thus avoiding the danger of strong parties from using the order for their own ends. Mr. Traynor makes a strong protest against the Marquette statue and especially warns the order to oppose the resolution of the Massachusetts, "acknowledging Almighty God as the source of all power and authority in civil government, our Lord Jesus Christ as the ruler and our Father and His revealed will as the supreme authority in civil affairs," as a "remarkable and dangerous proposal" to place the affairs of state in the hands of the church.

The writer concludes his letter with the declaration that the Venezuelan war was a misleading campaign designed to distract the attention of the people from the real issues of the day, while advocated by those who are sincere, are mere subterfuges to kill time until after the presidential election has passed and the interests of the people from much needed measures of reform.

REED REVERSES RULING.

Declares That Majority of Actual Membership Makes a Quorum--Cuban Resolutions Go Over.

Washington, April 3.--The house today entered upon the consideration of the report of the conference committee recommending the adoption of the senate resolution relating to Cuba.

Mr. Hitt (Rep., Me.) the chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, has been endeavoring to bring to the attention of the house for some time, the Cuban matter. The time this morning on the report today, but the hour recess intervened before the conclusion of the discussion, and it went over until this afternoon.

Mr. Hitt in favor of agreeing to the report, and by Mr. Boutelle (Rep., Me.) who opposed the report, the resolutions. Before the Cuban matter came up the house passed thirty-eight private pension bills which had been favorably acted upon at previous Friday night sessions. In the course of the next convening the Speaker Reed reversed his famous ruling in the Fifty-first congress, which has been the subject of much controversy.

Mr. Hooker (Rep., N. Y.) reported the result of his investigation into the Mississippi river at St. Louis.

HAWAII CABLE BILL.

Representative Bennett, of New York, today laid before the house commerce committee at their meeting a substitute for the various Hawaiian cable bills.

The bill provides that the cable shall extend from San Francisco to Honolulu, thence to the midway islands and to China and Japan. It also provides for a subsidy of $100,000 for twenty years, government business to be carried free of cost for all time. The tolls to China and Japan are fixed at $1.50 a word and to Honolulu at 35 cents a word with press despatch rates at one-fourth of these amounts. The general sentiment of the committee is reported to be favorable to the proposition, although some thought the amount of subsidy should be reduced.

The president has further amended the civil service rules by placing under the classified service the assistant attorneys and clerks of the department of the interior. The order includes about thirty persons whose salaries range from $2,000 to $2,750 per annum.

COLLEGE REPUBLICANS.

They Meet and Endorse the Presidential Election of Anybody.

Chicago, April 3.--The delegates to the fifth annual convention of the American Republican college league began and concluded the business that brought them to Chicago in two sessions today. The convention was held in Minneapolis. James Harvard Perkins of Harvard law school (senior class of '96), was after a warm contest elected president of the league for the coming year. The resolutions contained no endorsement of any particular candidate for the presidential election.

The skillful and diplomatic wording of the paragraph relating to the presidential nomination evoked prolonged laughter and applause. It read: "We favor for nomination in the approaching Republican convention, and his election as president of the United States, a man whose pure and strong personality and high character of character and morals, in whom the great masses of the people have confidence as an exponent of the true American spirit, and whose political principles are those which we now approve, and pledge ourselves to use all honorable means towards the securing the nomination and election of such a man to the chief magistracy."

Harry Weinstein, of Ann Arbor, was chosen first vice president; W. S. Harris, Princeton, secretary, and LeClare Teikes, U. of C., treasurer.

NATIONAL GUARD MATTERS

Interesting Items Gleaned from the Adjutant General's Report.

THE TALK OF IMPROVEMENTS

Various Reforms Needed in the Opinion of Heads of Departments--Military Education Discussed--Favorable Criticism from Regulars.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 3.--The long delayed report of the adjutant general reached his department from the state printer today and contains much that is interesting to the members of the National Guard. Colonel Ralston, of the Third regiment, makes some exceedingly practical suggestions for the improvement of rifle practice, and accompanies his recommendation with a chart containing target illustrations and a full explanation of the system which he would adopt. Brigadier General Schall calls special attention to the recommendations in this report.

Colonel Asher Miner discussing the Elliot trophy, which was won by the District of Columbia team, says it is evident that if the Pennsylvania team wishes to take first place in these competitions in the future it will be necessary to improve the rifle practice, which can be done by allowing a limited number of commissioned officers to shoot on the regimental teams from whose ranks the state team should be selected. Inspectors of rifle practice, he thinks, should also be eligible on this team. Colonel Miner thinks that the rifle practice should be improved by the use of the carbine instead of the rifle, under requirements especially adopted for that purpose.

Quartermaster General Logan says an item that greatly adds to the expense of the encampment and delays the movement of the troops is the necessity of carrying the necessary articles in size and weight established for the purpose. He suggests that a maximum weight be established for the packages of the necessary articles required at camp would be a great saving in transportation. In his opinion the use of the carbine instead of the rifle for flooring purposes. He thinks a wood floor is not needed, especially where there is good ground, and that a bunk bed instead of a cot is better adapted for flooring purposes.

GENERAL RIPLE'S SUGGESTIONS

Commissioner General Rippe says the increase of the per capita per diem to 21 cents was a wise and just act and was attended by good results. He recommends an increase to 25 cents. As the various companies differ materially, some preferring one thing and some another, he suggests that of the 25 cents allowed for the commissary department in furnishing the regular issue and that the other 5 cents be expended for the several companies, to be expended for such articles as the latest desires of the members would demand.

This would in many cases prevent the necessity which now exists of drawing on the treasury to supply the needs of the members who are in need of such articles as the latest desires of the members would demand.

Lieutenant Colonel Alexander McClelland, chief of general, recommends, first, that an emergency case of surgical instruments be supplied to each of the several commands of the brigade and second, that a part of the military equipment be supplied to the military corps as a separate and distinct body and providing for the needs of the members.

MILITARY EDUCATION.

Brigadier General Gobin, discussing the military education of the masses, suggests that the military spirit found in the schools has its incentive in the influence of the members of the National Guard in their respective localities. He says that they are the men who are seeking the education to fit them for such a career.

In this effort they are being emulated to the young element in many of the schools and academies. It is the object lesson and the practical work of preparation is followed by those desirous of being abreast of the demands of the future.

Brigadier General Gobin takes strong grounds against the twelve company organization and asks to be heard before anything is done in this matter. He represents the members of the National Guard in their respective localities. He says that they are the men who are seeking the education to fit them for such a career.

IN EIGHTH DISTRICT.

Easton, Pa., April 3.--The Republican conference to elect two delegates and alternates to the St. Louis convention of the National Congress of the National Guard district met at Easton today. The district is composed of the counties of Northampton, Carbon, Monroe and Pike.

Walton of Monroe county, and Chester A. Pellet, of Pike county, were chosen alternates, and John Fritz, of Bethlehem, presidential elector by acclamation.

ANNIE MGRATH CASE.

Mystery Explained at the Coroner's Inquest--Old Man Langdon Held by the Jury--Experts Puzzled.

Philadelphia, April 3.--The coroner's inquest into the death of Annie J. McGrath was held today and the cause of the girl's death is but little clearer than when her body was discovered in the house at 2325 Girard avenue on March 23 last.

The chemical expert made an analysis of the girl's blood and viscera could only give it as his opinion that the girl did not die from chloroform or prussic acid poisoning, but that her blood presented an appearance similar to that of persons poisoned by water gas. Still, the indications of water gas in the blood were not sufficient in quantity to have caused death. The expert stated that he was unable to give the cause of death, but it might have been due to inhaling illuminating gas, a specific drug or poison. At the conclusion of the inquest the jury rendered a verdict that Annie McGrath came to her death from causes unknown, and recommended that Langdon be held for further investigation before the grand jury.

Langdon was committed to prison to await the grand jury's action. In consequence of the publicity and sensational features of the case only witnesses, police officials and newspaper men were admitted to the coroner's office. Same H. M. Langdon came in charge of two detectives a short time before the hour set for the hearing. Langdon looked in much better health than when he was arrested, and throughout the hearing was cool and almost indifferent in his manner. The inquest was conducted by Coroner Ashcroft. Henry H. Mord, the father of the dead girl, was the first witness. He testified that his confidence in his daughter was such that he never had any suspicion of her connection with Langdon.

Mrs. Effie Butterfield, Annie's sister, testified that Annie had told her she was engaged to be married to Langdon. The witness objected to Langdon's account of the difference in age between him and her sister. A week prior to her death Annie had written to her mother that she was living with Langdon at 2325 Girard avenue. The witness threatened to tell her father and Annie begged her to keep the matter secret. Mrs. Butterfield admitted that both she and her sister had used chloroform on several occasions for toothache and she told of the purchase of two ounces of the drug by Annie a few days before her death and of the questions Annie asked the drug contractor concerning the same.

AFRAID OF LANGDON. Miss Florence Stewart, the next witness testified that Annie had told her that she was afraid of Langdon, and if he should discover that she went with another man he might kill her. Howard Sausser, a drug clerk employed at a drug store at 19th and Norris streets, testified that he knew Annie well. She came to his store and asked him to sell her some chloroform. The girl stated that she wanted to kill a canary bird with it, but her manner excited his suspicion and he refused to sell her the drug. She returned after repeated refusals on her part that she intended to make improper use of the drug that she sold her two ounces of chloroform. She stated that she had the deadliest poison in the store was. He told her prussic acid was and she inquired as to the effect of this poison on children and young people.

The detective who arrested Langdon testified to the facts that have already been published in that connection, but brought to light a new phase of Langdon's life, when he stated that he had discovered and talked with another girl whom Langdon was about to set up in housekeeping in New York.

Langdon was not permitted by his counsel to take the stand or break the silence he has maintained since the girl's death. The jury was only three hours and at its conclusion the coroner charged the jury. He dwelt upon the mystery of the case; the efforts to learn of the cause of death; their duty and severely adverted to Langdon's refusal to go upon the stand. The jury, after fifteen minutes' deliberation returned their verdict and Langdon was taken back to his cell in the city hall.

Langdon's attorney this afternoon stated that they would apply for a writ of habeas corpus and have Langdon released on bail as soon as possible.

MICHIGAN HAS NEW RATIO.

"One" to "Ten" Is the Fundamental Principle of His Finances.

Detroit, April 3.--Somewhere in this state a clever rascal is at work "raising" one dollar bills, as several of them have come into Detroit this week. He changes the figure "one" to "ten" and the word "one" to "ten," and turns out $10 treasury notes that can hardly be distinguished from the genuine article.

One of the "raised" bills has been shown to the officers of the Preston National bank. They say the work was partly done with a pen and partly by some chemical process.

THE STEEL COMBINATION

Arrangements That Will Protect the Manufacturers.

MEETING AT HOTEL WALDORF

The Price of Steel Will for the Present Be Maintained at $20 a Ton--An Agreement That Will Help the Trade.

New York, April 3.--Conference of the bessemer steel manufacturers which was opened at the hotel Waldorf yesterday was continued today. They were called to order at 10:30 o'clock, and with the exception of a half hour recess were in continuous session until 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. The proceedings were behind closed doors and a sentinel was stationed in the corridor to keep outsiders twenty feet away from the entrance to the parlors. During the conference none of the steel manufacturers would communicate any information to reporters, but at 4 o'clock George T. Oliver, of Pittsburgh, emerged from the conference parlors. He passed down the office of the hotel, where he was found by a reporter.

Mr. Oliver was in excellent spirits. It was evident that the conference had been very satisfactory to him. He said: "We have accomplished the object for which we met. The proceedings were harmonious. We carried our programme fully into effect."

"Will you explain the result of the day's proceedings?" he was asked. "I can say that today we have arranged the details of what we determined upon as a whole at yesterday's session."

The manufacturers decided to maintain the price of steel for the present at $20 per ton. There have been no restrictions made as to the amount of steel which shall be manufactured by any particular firm or firm; but it will be understood that all manufacturers will exercise good judgment in seeing to it that the market is not too greatly overstocked. The business is to be conducted in accordance with the actual law of demand and supply. Special care will be taken to do away with the manipulation of the market by middlemen and speculators who have heretofore caused much mischief by the manipulations of prices. The persons who have been in the habit of reporting fictitious transactions in the steel market, Mr. Oliver feels sure, find their occupation gone.

COMPETITION ENCOURAGED.

Other portions of the programme which Mr. Oliver said were ratified by the manufacturers in confidence are as follows:

The manufacturers will so conduct their business as to effectually put a stop to the losses which they have sustained in consequence of the war. They will be encouraged, but the influence of middlemen will be restricted so that the interests of both manufacturers and consumers will be protected. All negotiations shall be conducted by and for the producer, as the contracting party on the one hand, and the consumer, on the other hand. The advance in the price of pig iron is met by a corresponding advance in the price of steel. There will be an attempt to corner the market by the manufacturers and the men cannot hereafter contract for large lots of steel, not knowing where they can sell them, and then dump their stocks upon the market, thus demoralizing prices.

The concerns which have agreed to act together are as follows: Pennsylvania steel company, Jones and Laughlin steel company, Bethlehem Iron company, Cleveland Rolling Mill company, Balleste Steel company, Union Steel company, Shenango Valley Steel company, Maryland Steel company, Wheeling Steel and Iron company, Wheeling and Ashland Steel company, Carnegie Steel company, Hainesworth Steel company, Jones and Laughlin Steel company, Bethlehem Iron company, Cambria Iron company, Johnson Steel company, Gilbert and Warner company, and the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company.

BRUTAL SPANIARDS.

General Weyler's Troops at Cuba Rival the Turkish Fiends.

New Orleans, April 3.--The following information has been received by Mr. J. Nelson Polhemus, local representative in this city of the Cuban anti-Mr. Polhemus vouchers for its authenticity.

In the township of Jaruco on the plantation of Morales, the troops of Col. Tort, in command of the three rural guards arrested four men and one woman on the charge of being insurance sympathizers and took them to the armory, where the men were beaten and subsequently killed as was also the woman who refused to state all in connection with rebel forces. The woman was soon to become a mother.

On the plantation Salvador, the soldiers maltreated the women, wives and daughters of the laborers, after having threatened with death their male relatives, many of whom were still wearing the deer. This same thing happened in another village near Jaruco.

RECH WAS ALARMED.

The Murderer of Beattie Weaver Feared Lynching.

Mays Landing, N. J., April 3.--When John Rech stopped at the West Jersey railroad near here this afternoon he looked into the faces of a crowd of several hundred people, who had gathered to wait for him.

Not the slightest demonstration or even a remark against the prisoner was made. Only the crowd surged and pushed all anxious to see Rech. As the sheriff started from the depot with him, Rech gave one scared look around at the crowd, and on being reassured by the sheriff, cast his eyes toward the ground and never once looked up until safe within the jail.

Jersey justice will probably be swift in Rech's case, as the grand jury met in nine days, and his trial will probably follow in a few days.
