PLANS OF SCRANTON CLUB

Players Will Report Here on Friday of Next Week.

M'DERMOTT IS NOT BOASTING

But There Is Nothing to Indicate That Scranton Will Not Do Well.

Next Friday and Saturday nineteen of the twenty ball players signed by Manager McDermott will report in this city and on the following Wednesday, the 14th, all but Pitchers Brown and Horner will start on the practice trip, which will include games abroad each day except Sundays from the 15th until the 27th.

BOX CANDIDATES.

Besides Brown, Horner and Johnson, the season will be started with at least one and possibly two pitchers from among Cronin, Starnell, Herr, Getts and Dan Mullarkey.

SCRANTON'S CHANCES.

With the two catchers, eight pitchers, six infielders and four outfielders, McDermott is satisfied that he can choose a select party of eleven ball tossers who will rise to the emergency of any kind of an old ball pace that Providence, Syracuse, Springfield or the others may set.

PRACTICE SCHEDULE.

The practice games scheduled for Scranton are as follows: April 15 at Hartford, April 16 at New Haven, April 17 and 18 at Paterson, April 19 at Newark, April 20 at Newark, April 21 and 22 at Brockton, April 23 and 24 at Fall River, April 25 and 26 at home, Cuban Giants, April 27 at home, Carbondale.

EASTON'S BALL TEAM.

Easton, Pa., April 3--Harry Ramsey, manager of the Easton team, has arrived here ready for the season's work. He will put in the time from now until the 15th arranging preliminaries, including exhibiting games.

MAY BE BLACKLISTED.

Providence Club Won't Allow Egan to Play with Carlisle.

Media, April 3--Jack Egan, the Media ball player, who jumped the Providence club with the Providence Eastern League club, and signed to play this season with the Carlisle, Pa., team, has received notice from Providence that he will be blacklisted if he persists in the course he has taken and refuses to report.

BASE BALL NOTES.

Paul Radford wants to be a league umpire.

The Syracuse players report today at Newark.

Rochester plays nine scheduled Sunday games.

Shortstop Shannon, purchased by Louisville, will play third for the Orioles.

Albert Marks, president of the Reading State league club, has received $200 from the Louisville club for Shortstop Eustace.

Base ball men are "generously" according to Scranton a place at the foot of the mountain.

The Baltimore champions have some brand new tricks evolved at the winter training, which will surprise and perplex the other clubs as much as their hit-and-run game and other forms of team work did in former seasons.

The usual spring rag chewing over the scoring rules, and the fine-haired points in scoring, is now in progress among the players and writers.

The Syracuse Star team will probably open the league season like this: Delaney, pitcher; Rafter, Hess, catchers; Caro, first base; Egan, second base; Reilly, third base; Moss, shortstop; Smith, left field; Garry center field; Minahan, right field.

Clarke has made a request of the New York management that Zeafroff be assigned to catch his delivery all season long.

It is the highest recommendation that a catcher could get, because Clarke is considered a shrewd fielder, and he has no doubt discovered Zeafroff's usefulness.

Joe Corbett, the eloquent champion of the pugilist art, in which the champion coached the aspiring young twirler. Under the new umpire rules the Orioles need no instruction in boxing from Young Corbett--nor any lesson in elegant conversation from big Corbett.

The Baltimore pitching department is in better shape than ever before. McMahon is, apparently, able to pitch as well as ever. Hofer is in good form. Hemming in much better condition and in better health than last year; Clarkson is in his usual condition, while the great south-paw, Epper, weighs less, is in better physical trim.

"Germany" Smith says Charley Irwin is the right kind of a third baseman, because he is not afraid of the ball. He faces every ball, and comes to his work instead of jumping up into the air or pulling away a leg when a hot one comes at him. He gets the square front of it, and he stops it for him to stop with his hands, he stops it with his body. There will be few that he can reach that will get away from him.

Billy Clymer is still out in the cold and refuses to sign a Buffalo contract until he gets a large increase in salary. He has been offered a generous slice by Manager Rowe, but he does not consider it enough for his work and will not sign, he says, until the extra money is promised him.

On the other hand President Franklin says that the national game. These are the words: "The New York club had able pitchers, the Philadelphia club had heavy hitters, but these counted for little against the superiority in team work strength of the teams of Baltimore and Cleveland. It is team work that counts in fielding and team work in base running all combined in the phrase of 'playing for the side' which wins pennants. There is no getting around that."

A says the Wilkes-Barre Leader: "Pitcher Brown, of Scranton, has a string attached to him. Baltimore is said to have loaned him to Scranton with the understanding that he is to be returned at the end of the season. The Springfield Union asks: 'How about that, Scranton?' The Leader is respectfully informed that Brown's release from Baltimore was purchased outright and that the particulars of the deal were given in this paper some time ago. Brown's hired man should read the exchanges."

SUNDAY MAY UMPIRE.

The Old Chicago Player Wants to Get Back in the Base Ball World.

This season may see W. A. Sunday back upon the base ball field. Sunday is remembered as having belonged to Capt. Anson's White Stockings when they were up near the top notch. He left the diamond to become an invulnerable at the bat. The disadvantage of batting against a mediocre pitcher has detracted from the team's work when first-class was in a fact. If the machine can be constructed so that the speed and curves can be easily regulated, training will be revolutionized. The time wasted in the return of wild balls will be saved and the difficulty of securing an effective pitcher will be obviated.

The New Billiard Game.

New York, April 3--George Blosson says: "Exactly 13 years ago, or before that, I saw a billiard game played in public. It was predicted that, no matter at what distance the line might be put, nearly the whole game would be scored at one or the other end of the table. During the first 150 minutes of the run I sent a ball outside of the lower one-fourth of the table four times and got eight times during the whole 300 minutes of the run. The game was naturally but a few of the 200 caroms were applauded. As a matter of fact, the game was not at all difficult, but the applause that welcomed his arrival at 100 and afterwards at 200 was tumultuous. There is a possibility that the significance should emphasize its wisdom."

Kentucky Futurity Entries.

Lexington, Ky., April 3--The entries to the $15,000 Kentucky Futurity trotting, which have just closed, number 25. The list is as follows: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25.

Foreign Entries for Henley.

London, April 3--Only three foreign entries have been made for the Henley regatta. These are those of the Yale eight for the Grand Challenge Cup and the eight of the Delaware and the Boat Club, of Chicago, and E. Thompson, of the Argonaut Club, of Toronto, for the Diamond Sculls.

WHIRLS OF THE WHEEL.

Over fifty ladies joined the League of American Wheelmen last week.

Bob McCurdy has been signed by the League of American Wheelmen to seat at Yale there are at present over twenty men in training for bicycle seats.

It is said that Otto Ziegler will be a member of the Syracuse racing team this season.

B. A. Smith, of the South Side, has purchased a Barnes special from Bittenberger & Co., of Buffalo.

George E. Davis, proprietor of the Davis theater, has invested one hundred in "Spinning" from Florey.

The "Tico" cycle, as a result of their cycle show, hope to build a cycle path all the way to Binghamton.

Ellis Barber & Co. received a big shipment of Stearns and Syracuse wheels on Thursday. Also a lot of melons.

Charles G. Kilpatrick, the one-legged trick rider, is uniting his efforts to introduce new ideas into his business. His latest accomplishment is to ride hands off and shoot glass balls at a Buffalo Buffalo.

Chase & Pratt are planning the annual-union and Union wheels for all they are worth. Both are good wheels and that he came to the attention of the public are bound to find many riders, which, by the way, they are doing.
