CITY INAUGURATION DAY
New City Officers and Councilmen Inducted Into Office.

SURPRISE IN COMMON COUNCIL
The Eight Lonely Republicans Succeeded in Knocking Out the Democratic State. The Various Sessions of Councils and Mayor Bailey's Message.

The starkest kind of a scene was enacted in common council yesterday when the serenely confident Democrats awoke from a contemplation of utter defeat at the hands of the Grier-Hatton faction but they would not be again caught napping, so about two weeks ago a caucus was called and all differences, it was thought, were adjusted between the two factions. P. J. Nealis was slated for chairman and John P. Mahon for clerk. There were thirteen present at the caucus and although no agreement was entered into, the ticket would be supported by all present. But there was a good proportion of those present who were not entirely satisfied but that the caucus was a cut and dried affair and secretly determined not to abide by its action. This condition of affairs coming to the ears of the Republicans a combine was suggested and this was readily agreed to. The combination was kept a profound secret. It was given out that there would be no opposition to Nealis and Mahon and that yesterday morning was there any suspicion of defeat in the minds of the Democrats.

A complete plan of campaign was mapped out, and so well was it followed that the Nealis-Mahon faction had scarcely time to realize where they were before the thing was all over. It was arranged that after final adjournment of the old council the Grier-Hatton followers should stay in the council chamber and be ready to immediately proceed with reorganization. This was done and the Nealis-Mahon people were loitering in the corridors, chatting with the spectators. Clerk Hatton called the roll and finding the necessary eleven present declared the election of a temporary chairman was in order. Mr. Grier was nominated and unanimously elected. Word went through the corridors and committee room that the roll was being played and Mr. Grier had scarcely reached the chair when the surprised Nealis adherents came pouring into the chamber from all sides.

HE WANTED A RECESS.

Chairman Grier declared the next order of business to be the election of a permanent chairman. Mr. Nealis moved that a half-hour recess be taken. This was seconded by Mr. Sweeney. The motion was put and then the pandemonium began. Mr. Nealis and Mr. Sweeney and several others all began talking and to bring the speaker to order and silence the recess motion Mr. Keller struck upon the idea of tabling the Nealis motion. Before the eyes and ears could be called to order the speaker declared the motion to lay on the table carried. Nealis and Sweeney called for the eyes and nays, but Chairman Grier refused to order the roll call, ruling that he had given his decision.

The tumult that followed broke up the meeting of select council and brought everybody in and about the council chamber to the streets. Mr. Sweeney was flaming with rage and his stentorian tones could be heard a block away as he cried "bulldozing" and demanded a fair deal. At one juncture of the proceedings he became so excited that he advanced to the chairman's desk and furiously yelled "We are not to have a fair deal here and we will give you out of that chair if you don't pull up a fair deal."

Mr. Grier laughed in his face and this excited the other members. He remonstrated the chairman's desk and making all kinds of dire threats of terrible consequences if the eyes and nays were not called.

Mr. Nealis with almost equal vehemence besieged the chair from the other side of the house. He threatened, expostulated, shouted and finally when he found Chairman Grier inexorable he poured forth torrents of abuse upon "the traitors who would turn the Democratic council over to the Republicans."

Mr. Grier succeeded in restoring quiet long enough to announce that at all events Mr. Nealis' motion to take a recess while the question was under consideration was out of order and that it would be useless to continue the demands for a fair deal.

Mr. Nealis then appealed from the decision of the chair but as the sufficient number of seconders were not present the question was not taken. When no response came to the question "are there any further nominations?" Mr. Grier declared that he would call the roll. The Nealis adherents did not vote, contenting themselves with a grunt or a groan as several of the Grier men answered to their names. The vote was:

For Grier—Simon Thomas, R. E. Thomas, Gilroy, Moir, Wenzel, Wirth, Seamans, Oliver, Keller, Noone, McGrill, Grier—2.

The result of the poll being announced by Mr. Hatton, Chairman Grier declared the meeting closed. Here Mr. Nealis interrupted again with the remark that the election was illegal as the new members had not been sworn in. Mr. Grier answered him by saying that the new members had to be sworn in by the chairman and before this could be done it was necessary to elect and swear in the chairman. "All right," Mr. Nealis rejoined, "swear in our sweet, loving chairman—his name is a bute."

Mayor Connell was sent for and Mr. Grier took the oath. He in time called the new and re-elected members before him and administered the oath to them. These were Messrs. Gordon, M. Grier and Planchette, newly elected, and Messrs. Thomas, Wenzel, Noone, Reagan, Nealis, Zelder and Sweeney, re-elected.

The election of a clerk was then declared to be in order. John P. Mahon was nominated by Mr. Reagan and H. C. Hatton was named by Captain Moir. Hatton was elected by a vote of 12 to 10. Mr. Lotzka, who did not vote for Grier, cast a ballot for Hatton and Mr. Gilroy, who was among the Grier adherents went for Mahon. The vote was:

Hatton—Lotzka, Simon Thomas, R. E. Thomas, Moir, Wenzel, Wirth, Seamans, Oliver, Keller, Noone, McGrill, Grier—12.

GRIER WAS NOMINATED.

After careful consideration I am fully convinced that a viaduct is necessary on or near West Lackawanna avenue. Such a structure would, in my judgment, be a safeguard to human lives and a direct benefit to the community. It would also be a business interest of our fellow citizens. I would therefore most respectfully request the council to take the necessary steps to provide sufficient funds to construct this much needed improvement.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.
The Scranton fire department is, admittedly the best of its class. As at present constituted, it is largely composed of volunteers. There, with the paid men provided by ordinance, have proven themselves equal to every emergency which has arisen up to this date. In the winter, the best judgment of many men who have made a study of the subject and I submit it to you as such, that, in justice to the firemen and every resident of this city who is interested in the reduction of the insurance rate, the fire department should be reorganized. The most commendable change to a paid department be made as fast as the revenues of the city will allow.

PUBLIC PARKS.
Nothing adds more to a people's happiness and permanent well-being than a proper amount of recreation. Our predecessors in office have acted wisely in providing for a partial fitting up of two places where the general public may reap the benefits which come from well kept and well ordered parks. While upon this subject I wish to call your attention to the wisdom of providing a public playground for public baths. I understand this matter has received some attention. I recommend its early consideration.

EMPLOYMENT FOR THE NEEDY.
Several cities have experimented with apparent success upon the grave question of providing employment for the unemployed. These experiments have assumed the forms of the cultivation of waste lands, the making of kindling wood and of rough carpentry and employment of the poor in city factories.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH.
Much good has been accomplished for the general health of our citizens by the city's board of health. There are still places, however, where sanitary conditions do not exist and the board of health is urged to take prompt action to enforce the laws already made which bear upon that subject and, if necessary, the framing of ordinances which will be even more wider in their scope and more strict in their provisions.

THE BOARD OF TRADE.
Scranton's business advancement, in large measure, due to the energy and intelligence of its board of trade. I recommend that you be kept in touch and co-operate with the board of trade in the introduction here of new industries and the regulation of matters affecting the business interests of the city.

THE STREET RAILWAY SERVICE.
Valuable franchises have been granted by you, and those who received them should make proper concessions to the citizens of Scranton, in the matter of cars during the rush hours of the day, a running schedule which will give the traveling public an easier and more comfortable and employees from inclement weather and a reduction in fares as some of the concessions do not exist. Recommendations will be asked from the traction company.

In conclusion I would state that there are many new faces in this body still a majority of you are old members and chamber of commerce and to which I will call your attention in messages from time to time. I trust that our relation will be the most pleasant character and that our mutual labors will be the greater glory and advancement of our beloved city.

JAMES G. BAILEY, Mayor.

Mahon-Gordon, Reagan, Gilroy, Planchette, Sweeney, Nealis, Zelder, Hickey, Norton—2.

On motion of Captain Moir the rules of the last council were adopted and council adjourned to go into joint session.

REORGANIZATION OF SELECT.

There was no fun at all at the reorganization of the select branch. Clerk Lavelle called the meeting to order shortly after noon and the members of the new members had been presented and read Mr. Chittenden was unanimously chosen temporary chairman.

Colonel George Sanderson was nominated for the presidency by Mr. Lansing and unanimously elected. Mayor Connell swore him in and he in turn administered the oath to the new and re-elected members, who are: Messrs. Kearney, Robinson, Frable and McGee, newly elected, and Messrs. Reagan, Ross, Williams, Roche, Chittenden, Sanderson, Fellows and Lansing, re-elected.

At 10:40 o'clock the roll partitions were raised and the joint session for the purpose of electing a city clerk was proceeded with. A roll call showed every member in place. Colonel Sanderson was chosen chairman, Richard H. Williams nominated Martin T. Lavelle for city clerk and he was re-elected unanimously.

Colonel Sanderson then announced a recess until 12 o'clock when council again met to listen to Mayor Bailey's inaugural address.

All to Mayor Bailey, accompanied by his secretary, R. J. Beamish, and his personal friends, W. J. Welsh and A. P. Bedford, drove to the city hall and repaired to the mayor's office, where ex-Mayor Connell received them. Mr. Bailey took the oath in the private office in the presence of those mentioned above.

Just before the clock struck twelve the incoming mayor, accompanied by the retiring mayor and a large delegation of personal and political friends, filed up the stairs to the council chamber where the joint session was in waiting. Chairman Sanderson introduced Mayor Bailey and announced that the new executive, owing to this weak position, could not be sworn in until the following day. He would be pleased to shake hands with the members of the council. The councilmen thereupon filed up the stairs to the council chamber in turn was introduced by Mayor Connell.

Secretary Beamish then presented the new mayor's inaugural address to the city clerk, Mr. Lavelle. Then and there reading Mayor Bailey was assisted back to his carriage and returned home.

MESSAGE OF THE MAYOR.

To the Honorable the Select and Common Councils of the City of Scranton, Gentlemen: The administration of public affairs of so great a city as this Scranton is a most arduous and responsible task. I fully realize this fact and I also realize and appreciate the confidence which the people of this city reposed in me when they placed upon my shoulders a portion of this honorable burden.

The distinguishing characteristics which, in the past, placed Scranton in the van of progressive American cities are still its existence and still potent for the city's further advancement. These characteristics are an immense municipal pride, a superb maintenance of great American quality known as hustle, a high sense of honor among our business and tradespeople and an attraction each to the other on particular business that is unrivaled in any city in the world. These qualities, if properly maintained and applied, will insure to this city the most advantageous conditions for its development as Scranton. It must be maintained and it must be maintained by every one that our progress and the welfare of the city depend upon our still greater and better development.

Of course, it could not be expected that, with our phenomenal growth, there should come an equally sudden municipal improvement. There was a need for a great city such as paved streets, a comprehensive system of sewerage, public parks, the best kind of a water supply, public health, public safety and public recreation are not expected in their perfection in a city which is growing so rapidly in its development as Scranton. It must be acknowledged by every one that our progress and the welfare of the city depend upon our still greater and better development.

They have accomplished great results in the time and with the means at their disposal. I trust that you will carry on this work of progression.

CONCERNING THE REVENUE.

To maintain this progressiveness there must flow into the city's treasury an annual revenue sufficient to meet the necessities of the several departments. How and from what sources this revenue shall come is a question of considerable importance. I trust that you will carry on this work of progression.

They have accomplished great results in the time and with the means at their disposal. I trust that you will carry on this work of progression.

THE CITY'S STREETS.

The time has come when we must pay more attention to the condition of our streets, particularly to those in the suburban districts. It is not only a matter of safety but also one of sanitation. I desire to call attention to some of the streets in the North Side of this city. In their present condition they are a powerful influence against the section's prosperity and the comfort of the traveling public. Some measure of relief should be provided by you. The same applies to the streets on the South Side, and the application of the relief should also be extended to the streets on the West Side. It will be my policy to compel those who use the streets to pay for the expense of their maintenance. I am confident that the same grade that is exacted before the council will be exacted before the courts.

THE WEST LACKAWANNA AVENUE VIADUCT.

After careful consideration I am fully convinced that a viaduct is necessary on or near West Lackawanna avenue. Such a structure would, in my judgment, be a safeguard to human lives and a direct benefit to the community. It would also be a business interest of our fellow citizens. I would therefore most respectfully request the council to take the necessary steps to provide sufficient funds to construct this much needed improvement.

with the police department where those desiring work could give their names and addresses, and where applications from those desiring labors could be received.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

I commend to your consideration the Albright Memorial Library. It is an institution which will be a great benefit to the community and its maintenance should be a matter of civic pride and of civic duty.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

Much good has been accomplished for the general health of our citizens by the city's board of health. There are still places, however, where sanitary conditions do not exist and the board of health is urged to take prompt action to enforce the laws already made which bear upon that subject and, if necessary, the framing of ordinances which will be even more wider in their scope and more strict in their provisions.

I trust that our relation will be the most pleasant character and that our mutual labors will be the greater glory and advancement of our beloved city.

JAMES G. BAILEY, Mayor.

The message was greeted with continued applause. Colonel Sanderson announced the presence of the retiring mayor and called upon Mr. Connell for a few remarks. The ex-mayor said:

"While realizing fully that there are many new faces in this body still a majority of you are old members and chamber of commerce and to which I will call your attention in messages from time to time. I trust that our relation will be the most pleasant character and that our mutual labors will be the greater glory and advancement of our beloved city."

No mention was made of appointments. Mayor Bailey and the vast crowd which hung about the chamber all morning was greatly disappointed.

DEATH OF THE OLD COUNCILS.

The final session of the select council was held at 12 o'clock. Mayor Bailey presided. The resolutions of the council were passed and the old council was dissolved. The new council will meet tomorrow morning.

IT WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

Prothingham Crowded to Hear the Messiah.

SUNG IN A SPLENDID MANNER

Haydn Evans and the Singers and Instrumentalists Under His Direction Give the People of Scranton a Rare Musical Treat.

Probably the most successful, certainly the most ambitious musical performance ever attempted in Scranton was the production of the Messiah at the Frothingham last evening.

The choruses were sung by the Scranton Choral Union, directed by Miss Kathrin Hille, soprano; Miss Ruth Thompson, alto; Mr. J. Henry McKinley, tenor; Mr. E. H. Clifton, bass; the instrumentalists were directed by Bauer's augmented orchestra of twenty-two pieces, and Haydn Evans was the leader, whose wand directed the whole.

The two things prominently demonstrated by last night's singing of the immortal oratorio are the existence in this section of a body of musicians possessing the cultivation and talent necessary to the production of the great classics and the appreciation in paying quantities of the fruit of these qualities.

The distinct triumph of the evening were Miss Thompson's sympathetic recitation "Behold a Virgin shall conceive and bear a Son," Mrs. Hille's solo, "I know that my Redeemer liveth," Mr. McKinley's recitative and air beginning, "He that Dwelleth in Heaven," Mr. Bushnell's solo, "The People that Walked in Darkness," the Pastoral Symphony by the orchestra and the "Hallelujah" and "Worthy is the Lamb" choruses.

Breadth of conception and balance of parts were the most prominent characteristics of the chorus. The sopranos were especially good, the voices being fresh, clear and all possessing the indefinable singing quality.

On the whole, the performance was perhaps the most brilliant. She was strong and tender as well and the audience seemed never to have enough of large theater and it was noted the perfection of the power of her themes was perfection itself and her translation of that conception into sound was art in its truest sense. Mr. Bushnell and Mr. McKinley were both so pleasing to the audience that insistent applause followed their every number. It was a great night for the music lovers of Scranton and one filled with triumph for the Choral Union and Haydn Evans.

The audience completely filled the large theater and it was noted the most representative people of the city. The box holders were William Connell, E. B. Sturges, C. D. Sanderson, E. L. Fuller, F. E. Platt, Dr. Riley, W. F. Halstead, G. M. Halstead and Charles Schlager, Horace Hand, W. J. Hand. Those who had longes were J. Ben Dimmick, Mrs. Thomas Dickson, Henry Belin, Jr., B. P. Simpson, H. W. Kingsbury, A. W. Dickson, Rev. Dr. McCleod, T. H. Watkins, F. H. Clemons, A. W. Ryan, Cyrus Jones, Dr. J. H. Jones.

The Railroad Young Men's Christian Association for whose benefit the oratorio was sung will realize about $1,000.
