In the basement of a tenement house at the corner of Ninth and Jackson streets, John Yonskinski, 40 years old, died some time Tuesday night from starvation and disease. The woman with whom he boarded is now dangerously ill, in fact dying, from the same conditions. The case shows that destituttion and suffering were two ele-ments which abounded in that unfortu-nate household. The dead man was removed to Raub's undertaking estab-lishment yesterday afternoon and Cor-gner Longstreet held an autopsy in the avenue. followed. The tilt between Miss McMollan, who

The till between Miss McMollan, who was lecturing on "Reading, an Exact Science." and Superintendent Howell uses more humorous than serious. The latter was justly provoked by the teachers' backwardness in asking ques-tions, a condition which has been very apparent since the institute began, and he proceeded to set them an example by himself questioning and honestly and quite property criticising some of Miss McMollan's statements. Miss McMollan is a woman and a good talkhe had been sick some time and no McMollan is a woman and a good talk-er and she did not hesitate to give the superintendent and the audience evicare nor nourishment had been pro-vided. OBITUARY.

It was announced by the superin-tendent that M. G. Brumbaugh, presi-Michael, the IT-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mofilt, of 48 Raliroad ave-nue, died at 7 o'clock Tuesday night after an illness of but a few hours. He was em-ployed as engineer on one of the small sta-tionary engines at the South Steel mill and at about noon on Tuesday had to quic work on account of a severe pain in ais head. He continued to grow worse during the afternoon and a physician was hur-riedly summoned. His aid was of no avail however. The boy continued to decline and about 7 o'clock passed away. Blood clot is the presumed cause of death. The fumeral will take place tomorrow morn-ing. tendent that M. G. Brumbaugh, presi-dent of Juniata college; Professor Twitmeyer, of Honesdale, and Dr. A. E. The latter leased it to the Austin Coal company and the lease carried with it a provision that the ownership should be determined by an electment suit. The case was on trial all of last week until yesterday, when it went to the jury. The verdict was returned when court convened yesterday morning. In the suit of the Providence Milling company against Dr. William Haggerty a verdict was returned for the plaintiff in the sum of $77.22, and in the suit of the Green Ridge Lumber company against Pat-rick and Ann Ruane a verdict for the plaintiff was returned in the sum of $548.

The suit of Patrick Blewitt against the Central Railroad of New Jersey for damages was called in No. 2 before Judge Archbald. Mr. Blewitt's daugh-ter, Frances, was injured in October, 1893, while on an excursion bound for Mountain Park. The train she was on Mountain Park. On their motion Judge Archbaid withdrew a juror and continued the case. The suit of C. M. Florey against H. T. La Bar was tried before Judge Arch-bald. Mr. Florey is the well-known bi-cycle dealer of Wycomiar ayanus and cycle dealer of Wyoming avenue, and the defendant keeps a general store in Stroudsburg. On June 16, 1854, Victor Lawson, the blcycle thief, who served a term in the county jail, came into La Bar's store and sold a bicycle for $60. Lawson had two other wheels to sold Lawson had two other wheels, he said, at the express office, and he had them for sale, too, at low figures. Mr. La Bar came to Scranton in the latter part of that month and learned that the wheel which he had bought from Lawson was stolen from Mr. Florey. It was to recover the value of this wheel that the suit was brought. The evidence adduced was to the effect that the wheel which Mr. La Bar got from Lawson was not the one stolen from Mr. Florey, but one that had been traded for it. The jury found a ver-dict for the defendant. NEIGHBORS ARE AT LAW. The next case before Judge Archbald
