WEST SIDE EVENTS.

Excellent Entertainment Given in Mears' Hall for the Benefit of the Scranton Street Baptist Church.

A really execellent entertainment was enjoyed by a large assemblage at Mears' hall last evening. It was for the benefit of the Scranton Street Baptist church and the financial result is in keeping with the meritorious pro-gramme that was rendered. The participants were chiefly prize seekers at the Robert Morris cisteddfod, assisted by the Ringgold band. Before the con-cert the band played several selections outside of the hall.

William Fowler presided at the entertainment. During the evening Leader Thomas G. Evans, of the victorious Philharmonic Choral society, was presented with a chair by the members of the organization. Among those whose rames figured on the programme were Miss Lizzle Jones, Miss Lydia Sailor. David Stevens, Philip Warren and the Pennsylvania and Philharmonic socie-ties. The band played several pleasing pieces.

PARTY TO LEWIS DAVIS. These who attended the party given Wednesday evening to Lewis Davis at his home in Bellevue were; Miss Martha Nichols, May Samuels, Viola Evans, Minnie Harris, Helen Harris, Jeanette James, Annie Williams, Cora Reese, Mattie Thomas, Annie Lewis, Sarah Davis, Katie Morris, Ruth James, Alice Thomas, Edith Davis, Effie Lewis, Mrs. Edward Collins. Mrs. Lewis Davis, Jemima Roderick, Maggle Thomas, Lizzie Lake, Martha Hitchins, Edwards, Belle House, Ella Maggle Borty, and Morris Thomas, John R. Advertising the Public Meeting Tonight - Death of Harry Warner.

Tonight's public meeting at Ger-mania hall in the interest of good roads was well advertised by the wheelmen's parade last evening. They assembled on Hickory street at the hall, and when the hour for starting was at hand about 150 bicycles fell into line fours deep. Each wheel was supplied with a Chin-Each wheel was supplied with a Chinese lantern and the appearance of these gave the line a brilliant hue. The drum corps of Washington Camp. A SENSELESS RUMOR. Harry Warner, 30 years old and mar-ried, who moved three months ago from Old Forge to 1313 Pittston ave-nue, died at 9 o'clock Wednesday night after a week's illness of typhoid-pneumonia. It was current rumor yester day that his wife had carried out the "dead man no good" wiley and aban-doned the house. Investigation last night proved effectually that this is a cruel slander on the woman. Her hus-band's death was not known by even the neighbors until yesterday morning but this is because she is a stranger here, and did not know to whom to turn in her tribulation. It is a very sad case. A CORRECTION.

In connection, with the report of a ball held at Central park Monday night under the auspices of the South Side baseball club, the name of Miss Kate Reardon appeared in The Tribune as the one who furnished the music for dancing. For personal reasons she de-sires to have that corrected. Miss Dwyer was the planist.

SHORTER PARAGRAPHS OF NEWS. It is quite probable that the South Steel mill will suspend operations to-morrow for the funeral of Patrick B. Ryan, Jate foreman at the furnaces. The deceased was held in such respect by his fellowmen that the desire to at-tend the funeral is general. Superintendent Stanton was waited upon by a committee yesterday and he will let them know today whether the mill can conveniently shut down or not. The remains will be borne at 9 o'clock from the family residence at the corner of South Wyoming and Maple street. High
