CUBAN FARCE ELECTIONS

Extreme Spaniards Hold Out a Flimsy Bluff. APPLAUD WEYLER'S CRUELTY

Insurgents However, Grow Stronger Daily and Have Become More Aggressive--Letter from General Gomez--Other Cuban Topics.

Havana, April 8, via Tampa, Fla., April 10.--The farce of holding elections on the island of Cuba will be enacted Sunday. The autonomists and reformists parties have defied the government and refused to take part. The Union-Constitutionalist party will have a walk-over. This party is made up of the extreme Spaniards who succeeded in forcing the recall of the humane Martineau and Dupont from the cabinet. Weyler as captain general. They are the people who applauded when Weyler decreed that insurgents are bandits and should be treated accordingly. They constantly urge greater severity in the enforcement of the decrees and chafe at the restraints which the attitude of the congress of the United States has made necessary.

THE MEN IN ARMS. In Havana and Pinar del Rio provinces, there are fully 20,000 men in arms against the crown of Spain. Martinez Campos was recalled for failing to crush them. General Weyler has not won a decisive battle since his arrival, yet he has officially declared the western provinces clear of all except small bands more highwaymen than insurgents.

LETTER FROM GOMEZ. Washington, April 10.--The following letter from General Gomez to Cuban Delegate Palma, was received here today: Sagua, March 19, 1896.

Dear Friend!--The war continues more active and hard on account of the fierce character which General Weyler has given to it. He has followed and assassinated cruelly; he who has the misfortune to fall into the hands of the Spaniards is treated as a criminal. The peaceful country without any fault or dishonor. Cuba today, like in 1895, only presents pools of blood dried by conflagrations. Our enemies are burning the houses to deprive us, according to them, of our quarters for spring. We will never use violence, but we will not allow that revolution will never lead to triumph by being cruel and sanguinary. We will go on with this war, the ultimate result of which, you need not worry about, with success for the arms of the republic. We fight when convenient to us as an enemy tried out and without faith. My plans are well understood by my subordinates and each one knows what to do. Give us cartridges so that our soldiers can fight and you can depend that in the end we will triumph. For we will be greatly reduced and it will be necessary for Spain to send another army and I do not know whether it would be more just, that perhaps Spain will not do it. We have a great military force, but we are in the incapacity of the majority of Weyler's generals. The false official reports of supposed victories which they cynically pretend to deceive themselves, their government and the world, contribute to the speedy triumph of the revolution. No human work can be done for a base falsehood and infamy can be either firm or lasting. Everything that Spain orders and sends to this land, that she has denuded of the blood of her own children, only serves to ruin her power. And no man so well chosen as General Weyler to represent in this time and American the Spain of Philip II.

Such has been said and written about the recognition of belligerency by the American government; this would be very advantageous to us and is only just, but as we, when we rose against tyranny, we only counted on the strength of our arms, and we are now the victors, we follow our march unconcerned, satisfied that what is to happen will happen. Your friend, Maximino Gomez.

AWFUL CRIME OF A MINOR

Kills Three Persons and Then Commits Suicide. CRAZED BY BUSINESS LOSS

S. B. Minshall Shoots W. B. O. Sands and His Wife and Daughter and Cuts His Own Throat. Issue from Trouble.

Pentwater, Mich., April 10.--S. B. Minshall, an attorney, has his town around his family and he was successful in attempting last night to assassinate William B. O. Sands, president of the Sands & Maxwell Lumber company. After leaving Sands for dead, Minshall went to his home and shot his wife and three children dead and then committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart. Sands met Minshall last night on the street and the latter had a Winchester rifle and demanded that Sands accompany him. Sands refused and Minshall fired a bullet striking Sands in the upper part of his right arm and shattering it badly. Sands then ran towards his home, but Minshall followed him and fired four more shots, three of which took effect. By this time Sands had managed to unlock the door and as he entered he fell insensible and Minshall fled to his home.

AN AWFUL SCENE. Mrs. Minshall's body was found lying against the door in the main room. Her throat had been cut from ear to ear. The body of Ruth, a 16-year-old daughter, and promising young woman, was found in one corner of the same room. She had been shot through the head. Mr. Minshall's body was found near the front door, his throat cut. In a bed room were found the bodies of Georgie, aged 4, and a 2-year-old baby boy. One shot from the Winchester had ended both.

AMERICAN SEAMEN SHOT. Sailors Who Unconsciously Joined Filibustering Expeditions Are Killed Like Dogs by the Spanish.

Boston, April 10.--A morning paper prints the details of the capture in Cuba of two American seamen and the subsequent execution of the latter. Henry Bridger, in Morro castle. The story comes from Edwin Burke, of the schooner Dilloway, now at this port. On the 27th of March, he was sailing on the west coast of Cuba. The cargo consisted of 1,800 rifles, 150,000 rounds of ammunition, four breech-loading field pieces, one Gatling gun, hospital stores and other supplies. They were taken ashore and packed upon the backs of mules and started inland. On February 27, we left Cadiz for the interior of the island. The men were arrested and taken to Morro castle and condemned to be shot. I begged a guard to take a note to the United States consul, but he refused. On the following day the guard disappeared and two days later I was summoned to the prison commandant's office where I met the chief of the American gentlemen, among them a Mr. Witte, who said he represented Consul General Williams. A statement of the case was read to me, and I was told I was an American citizen, was made out. I informed Mr. Witte regarding Bridger and he promised to attend to his case. Bridger was taken to the prison and remained there several days during which time over forty prisoners were executed to my knowledge. Finally on March 24, I was released and sent directly to the consul's office to be forwarded to the United States. Bridger was shot the day before the consul general received my communication. He, with seven others, were marched to the "slaughter wall" and shot down like dogs, with their backs to the assassins. I was allowed no time in which to learn the particulars of his death.

Whitney's Rhode Island Following. Providence, R. I., April 10.--The Democrats of this state are out for William C. Whitney, of New York, and instructing delegates to the national convention. Whitney is giving reduced rates to theatrical parties and other organizations.

OREGON DEMOCRATS. Adopt a Free Silver Plank and Command the President's Conscience.

Portland, Oregon, April 10.--The Democratic state convention by 150 to 80, adopted a free silver plank and elected silverites as delegates to the national convention. The convention by a vote of 171 to 71, commended President Cleveland's courage and honesty.

PLANTED PENN'S ELM.

Shoot on a Historic Tree Is Placed on the University of Pennsylvania Campus at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, April 10.--Arbor day was fittingly celebrated here today with the planting of a tree in honor of the University of Pennsylvania. The most important of the celebrations was the planting by Governor Hastings on the campus of the University of the tree which was planted by S. W. Fincher, a druggist, this morning as belonging to a Winchester rifle which Minshall had borrowed from the University of Pennsylvania, and a number of persons were in attendance. The governor who is president of the board of trustees of the University, planted the sprig in honor of the first governor of this commonwealth (William Penn).

QUAY MAKES DENIAL.

No Truth in a Story of His Plot to Kill McKinley. Philadelphia, April 10.--The stories which have been sent out from Florida and Washington to the effect that Senator Quay was about to retire from his candidacy for the presidential nomination in favor of McKinley are denied by Senator Quay himself. The inquiry telegraphed a summary of these stories to him with the request that he confirm or deny them. He has sent the following telegram in response: Fort Pierce, Fla., April 9.

HARRISON WANTS TO BE SENATOR. Cincinnati, O., April 10.--Dudley Poole, of Richmond, Ind., an intimate friend of ex-President Harrison, is here on business. He doubts whether Harrison is thinking of the presidency, but says he would like another term in the United States senate.

PATTISON'S BOOM.

Pennsylvania's Favorite Untried Son Is a Candidate. Chicago, April 10.--Pennsylvania will have a candidate to present to the convention which will meet here in July next," said National Chairman Harry Pattison, "I refer to the Hon. Harry Pattison, who is not only a favorite son of his own state, but is a favorite in several other states. I regard him as being excellent presidential timber for several reasons. First, he is sound on the money question. Second, he has no factional entanglements. Third, he is a clean, strong man. This is shown by the fact that he has served for eight years governor of a Republican state."

THE HARRISON MYSTERY.

McKinley's Friends in Indiana Are Becoming Restless. Indianapolis, Ind., April 10.--There has been a sudden and interesting revival of Harrison-McKinley sentiment within the past two days by a formal denunciation on the part of the friends of McKinley that Harrison shall declare himself on the subject of a nomination at St. Louis, or they will insist that the district delegates--largely from Indiana be instructed for McKinley at the coming state convention. In reply to the threat to force instructions on this morning and it was a Reed gathering throughout. Aden B. Capron, who was chosen chairman, in his speech said there were three principles the people of America expected the Republicans to stand up for. They were sound currency, adequate protection and "Tom" Reed. The platform adopted opposed free coinage of silver and makes a strong endorsement of the existing gold standard of values; declares opposition to a settlement of international disputes by war; and urges the creation of an international court of arbitration. The platform makes no mention of the tariff, nor any reference to presidential candidates.

RHODE ISLAND FOR REED.

Convention at Providence Has Nothing to Say on the Tariff. Providence, R. I., April 10.--The Republican state convention was held here this morning and it was a Reed gathering throughout. Aden B. Capron, who was chosen chairman, in his speech said there were three principles the people of America expected the Republicans to stand up for. The platform adopted opposed free coinage of silver and makes a strong endorsement of the existing gold standard of values; declares opposition to a settlement of international disputes by war; and urges the creation of an international court of arbitration. DAY IN HALLS OF CONGRESS

Indian Appropriation Bill Discussed in Senate. ANNOYED BY MAYBRICK CASE

Mr. Sherman Declares That the Senate Has No Jurisdiction on the Subject. "Filled Cheese Bill" Occupies the House.

Washington, April 10.--The main portion of the session of the senate today was taken up by the Indian appropriation bill--the house proposition abolishing the system of contract schools for Indian children giving rise to a long and rather interesting discussion. There was almost a unanimity of sentiment against a sudden change of system from contract schools to government schools; and there was an almost equal unanimity in favor of such a gradual change as would do no injustice either to the religious societies which had established the schools or to the Indian children who attended them. The matter went over, however, without action.

DEBATE ON CHEESE BILL. General debate was concluded today upon the "filled cheese bill" which was begun yesterday afternoon. The advocates of the measure were Messrs. Grosvenor (Rep., Ohio), Tawney (Rep., Minn.) and Doolittle (Rep., Iowa). It was opposed by Messrs. McMillin (Dem., Tenn.), Otey (Dem., Va.), Evans (Rep., Ky.), Linney (Rep., N. C.) and others. The bill will be further considered tomorrow under the five-minute rule for amendment. The objection of several of those who spoke today was not to the principle of the bill, but to the extent of taxation sought to be imposed. Efforts will be made to reduce the rate of tax and the schedule of licenses and if this be accomplished, the opposition to the bill will be apparently comparatively feeble. The appropriation bill for fortifications and other defenses for the year ending June 30, 1897, was reported by Mr. Halner (Rep., Neb.) and placed on the calendar.

Among the bills passed was house bill appropriating $1,200 to repay J. J. Lints for money withheld for his salary as custodian of public property at Erie, Pa., in 1895. The bill was reported for which he was not responsible. At 5 o'clock the house took a recess under the rules, until 8 o'clock, the evening session being in consideration of private pension bills.

CABINET MEETING.

President Cleveland in No Hurry to Act on Cuban Resolutions. Washington, April 10.--The cabinet meeting today lasted barely an hour and a half and was apparently devoid of any exciting features. In fact so little beyond routine business was done that it was brought up that Secretary Olney forgot all about the meeting till twenty minutes past the time of assembling, when he jumped up, looked at his watch and hastened over to the white house. No programme of action on Cuban affairs was submitted by the president nor were any of the other plans outlined in sensational speeches brought forward. Every indication points to the president taking his own time and acting in his own way, if he acts at all, on the Cuban concurrent resolutions of congress.

Much emphasis is laid by those supposed to be close to the president upon this passage in his annual message: Whatever may be the traditional sympathy of our countrymen as individuals with a people who seem to be struggling for larger autonomy and greater freedom, deepened as such sympathy naturally must be in behalf of our neighbors, yet the obligations of their government is to observe in good faith the recognized obligations of international relationship.

VICTORY OF KANSAS WOMEN.

They Carry the Elections at Ellis by Small Majorities. Topeka, Kan., April 10.--The enfranchised women of Ellis, Kansas, scored a sweeping victory at the recent municipal election. A complete ticket of women candidates was nominated and all were elected with the exception of Mrs. Clara Sheldon, candidate for police judge, who was defeated by a majority of five. Mrs. M. A. Wade, proprietor of a large millinery goods store, was elected mayor and Mrs. Viola Gaylord, Mrs. Lillian Hussey, Mrs. Emma Shields and Mrs. Emma Newcomer were elected members of the council by average majorities of twenty. The women named their ticket "law and order" and they propose to enforce the prohibition law to the letter.
