TWO DEATHS.

J. S. Bates and Roland E. Jones Pass Away.

The death of J. S. Bates occurred yesterday morning at the Emergency hospital. Mr. Bates was operated upon a short time ago and it was seen that his death was but a question of time, as he was in a very bad condition. The appendix was completely sloughed off, a large quantity of pus was taken out but as general peritonitis set in there was no hope.

Mr. Bates was employed in the blacksmith shop of Nicholas Moon and had smith shop of Nicholas Moon and had been a resident of this country for sev-en or eight years, coming to this city soon after his arrival. He possessed many friends who will regret to hear of his death. The deceased leaves a wife and three children.

At the home of his daughter, Mrs. Fred Huddy, of Clark avenue, occurred yesterday morning the death of Roland E. Jones, a well known resident of this place. The cause of his death was principally old age together with other compalications.

principally did age together with other complications.

Mr. Jones was born in North Wales on Sept. 22.1820, and emigrated to this city when a young man. He has lived at Plymouth nearly all his life, but came to this city four years ago. He is survived by two sons and two daughers. The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon, interment being made in Brookside cemetery. The funeral will take place on

THE FAIR ABANDONED.

A Proposed Trip Is Also Postponed for

the Present. The fair which was planned for the benefit of the base ball club has been abandoned, as the finances of the club abandoned, as the brances of the club are in a better condition, and the di-rectors thought it would be best to de-pend upon the patronage of the games. The trip which the club will take next week has also been cancelled, as word received from Patterson says the ground are not fit for playing as yet. The first games, therefore, will be with the Cuban Giants next Thursday.

JERMYN.

A supper and entertainment will be given in Enterprise hall on Thursday, April 16, by the Pride of Jermyn lodge, No. 5, daughters of St. George, The ladies have worked hard to make their entertainment a success, and the following programme is the result of their labors: Instrumental music, Messrs, Mellow and Long, recitation, Miss Carrie Belsh; trombone solo, Thomas Douthwaite: duet. Mrs. Nicholson and Miss Emma Roberts; recitation, Miss Millie Belsh; solo, selected, Miss Etta Jay; recitation, William E, Davis; vocal solo, John Hogarth and Thomas Jopling; stump speech; Thomas Roberts; dialogue, four boys. Miss Margaret Maule has been secured as planist for the evening, and William Branghall as chairman.

An orchestra has been organized in Jermyn and now rehearses each week in the rooms back of Thomas Rennle's store. Those taking part and the in-struments they play are as follows: Thomas Rennie, leader and instructor, first violin; Thomas Rennie, Jr., second violin; Thomas Jopling, first clarionet; John Hogarth, first cornet; John Martin, bass viol.

Thomas H. Smith, who was arrested at Scranton Wednesday for stealing, and lodged in the station house, is well known here. Tommie has served a number of years at the Philadelphia house of correction, and upon his release from there came to Jermyn, where he became a general nuisance on the streets. However some pity is deserved by the boy as he is mentally deficient.

WILKES-BARRE,

VERDICT FOR REV. HUBERT. Colored Clergyman la Awarded $20,000 in His Suit at Syracuse.

A Syracuse special to the News-Dealer says: "The sensational trial in the suit brought by Rev. Philip A. Hubert, a colored clergyman of Wilkes-Barre, resulted in a verdict in Hubert's favor in this city tonight. Suit was brought by Hubert to recover $20,000 for a libelous article published in the Courier in this city, about a year ago. Hubert came to this city about a year ago and preached several times in a prominent church and each time secured large church and each time secured large contributions for Livingstone college, at Salisbury, N. C., which he claimed to represent. After collecting the money Hubert left the city and was not seen nor heard of for a long time. People then feared they had been duped and an article was published in the Courier alleging him to be a fraud and a swind-left Hubert finally became sware of ler. Hubert finally became aware of the article and forced the Courier to publish a retraction. He afterwards began the suit which ended today in a complete vindication of Hubert.

"The trial lasted three days and was quite sensational in many respects. Ex-Judge A. W. Tenney, a prominent New Judge A. W. Tenney, a prominent New York and Brooklyn attorney, prosecut-ed the case for Hubert. The plaintiff is an intelligent appearing colored man and had quite the air of a distinguished person. He was very much elated over the result of the trial."

Brought to This City.

The body of Robert W. Miller, who was injured in the Central railroad yards at Plainfield, and who died in the Muhlenberg hospital, was brought to this city at 9.05 yesterday. Undertaker Kniffen took charge of the remains and removed them to the home of the deceased's brother, John D. Miller, 31 Railroad street. The funeral will take place from there at 1 p. m. Sunday, with interment in Hanover Green.
