Captain Hannah Masland und Lleuten ont Green Bid Farewell to the Salvation Army.

Captain Hannah Masland and Lieutenant Nellie Creen, of the local Sal-vation army, bid farewell to the soldiers last evening. A meeting was held in the army barracks on Price street. The officers made farewell addresses and the soldlers in short talks expressed the regret which they feel at their lenders departure. There was a large crowd at the barracks. It is generally thought among the soldiers that Captain Mashad and Lieutenant Green are about to enter Ballington Booth's Volunteer army. A Tribune to porter broached the subject to the two young women. They were extremely reticent. To the question "Will you join Ballington Booth in his movement?" Lieutenant Green said:

we will, however, investigate "No, we will, however, investigation the trouble and will then decide." The two officers will go first to New Bedford, N. J., which is Miss Green's home. After this their movements are veiled in secrecy. Some interesting Salvation army data was secured in conversation with the soldiers. There are indications that Ballington Booth, the old General Booth and Major Watkins, will be visitors of Scranton during the coming month of May. All three will come in the interests of their separate "Old General Booth," as the Salvationists refer to their chief executive harbors the opinion that his son, Hallington, will yet return to the orig-inal army. The opinion of local mem-bers is that the Volunteer movement is too old now to return to the mother knee. She who is lovingly remembered by Scranton's as "Captain" Watkins, is "Major", atkins of the Volunteer Several years ago she was in coarge of the local corps. Two Scrantonians who were in New York city a week ago yesterday, attended a meet-ing in Cooper union, conducted by the Volunteer management. Major Wat-kins was the speaker. She was the only Volunteer at the meeting. In the newly adopted uniform, a cadet blue, she addressed an audience of over 2;-000 people. The crush was one of the greatest ever seen at the great meeting house. Captain Masland, who leaves here tomorrow, is more than ordinarially shrewd. She, assisted by tion of the Episcopal church. During Captain Green, has greatly strength-e ed the Scrantor corps. The captain is a graduate of the Philadelphia Nor-with him to his new field of labor in

BISHOP RULISON CONFIRMS.

Confirmation exercises were held in St. David's church yesterday afternoon. A class of six persons were con-firmed by the Rt. Rev. Nilson S. Rulison, bishop of the diocese of Central Pennsylvania. The service was wit-nessed by a large congregation and the confirmation ceremonies were most impressive. The choral portion of the service was very effectively rendered by the surpliced choir, under the lead-ership of Thomas Jones. After the class had been confirmed they were coun-selled by the bishop, as to how they should fulfil their baptismal yows, which they had ratified. The sermon was delivered by the bishop, his text being on the following words: "Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works." The discourse was both elequent and prac-The tical and very appropriate to the occa don. The chancel of St. David's church een beautiful by the addition of new choir stalls, a new altar and reedos. The latter is the gift of Charles W. Blume, who is a generous supporter of the church.

WOMAN'S SAD DEATH.

No Loving Ones by Her Side to Smooth Her Way to the Great, Unknowable

Another horror is added to that fatal tenement basement on the corner of Ninth and Scranton streets, Last week foreigner died in the hovel under starvation's circumstances.,

During the closing hours of Satur-day night a woman died from neglect and disease. The inmates of the house, all men, took no action regarding the dead woman. The body was allowed to lay on a few pieces of boards in the same position in which death left it. The men smoked and chatted as unncerned as if the house was a parlor, not a morgue. Lieutenant Williams, of the West Side precinct, heard of the death and of the consequent neglect. He entered the house; the dead body was found in a room filled with to-acco smoke. Dr. Paine, of the poor board, was noned. He could do nothing last night and the corpse was allowed to main in the hovel until today, when will receive attention. The basement is a foul smelling place. Chickens dwell in equal filth with the human

This is a legal compilication growing out of the election of these officers at a meeting of the borough council.

Mr. O'Malley produced a letter from Speaker Reed, quoting his rules on the point, and also offered the advance pages of Mr. Reed's book on rules for the consideration of the court. Rheumatism Cured in 24 Hours,

T. J. Blackmore, of Haller & Blackmore, Pittsburg, Pa., says: "A short time since I procured a bottle of "Mystic Cure." It got me out of the house in twenty-four hours. I took to my bed with rheumatism nine months ago and the 'Mystic Cure' is the only medicine that did me any good. I had five of the best physicians in the city, but I received very little relief from them. I know the 'Mystic Cure' to be what it is represented and take pleasure in recommending it to other poor sufferers."

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Margaret Mather will present her famous "Juliet" at the Academy of Music tomorrow evening. This beau-tiful and enchanting lady brings to the ament that is well suited to portray poor, passionate Juliet. Miss Mather is by nature a levely, impetuous woman, and her balcony scone is said to fully realize the poet's conception. Frederic Paulding is well suited to the role of Romeo, and Miss Mather's company is a strong one throughout. In this play we find the apotheosis of the love of perennial youth. Every line has been onated until they seem a natural part quoted until they seem a natural part of the vocabulary of lovers. To say a man is an ideal Romeo or a woman an ideal Juliet is the highest compliment we can give in the language of romance.

At the Academy of Music Thursday evening Saumet's great play "The Gladiator" will be presented by the distinguished American tragedian, Robert Downing. Mr. Downing will be seen as Nero, the gladiator, a character in which he probably has no peer, and one which he has presented over 2,000 times. It is a part which Mr. Downing has de distinctively his own, a character in which more than any other, perhaps, he climbs higher upon the ladder of dramatic excellence, lifting it often into the realm of sublimity. "The Gladia-tor" is the role with which his name is most closely allied, and it is the one in which the great American public in-sist with the most persistency on sec-

The Hanlon Brothers will present their famous fairy spectacle "Fantas-ma" at the Academy Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee. The performance of "Michael Strogoff" at the Frothingham next Saturday afternoon and evening has been widely heralded as one which is to surpass all former productions of this drama, even that of the "Kiralfys," a few years ago in New York, which seemed to have at-tained an unapproachable prominence in spectacular display. How extensive have been the preparations for this event may be judged from the fact that magnificent new costumes, and entirely new scenery have been made especially for this grand new revival of "Michael Strogoff" from original drawings.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday "The Two Wanderers," a sensational comedy-drama, will be presented at Davis' theater. In the cast is the auth-or, William H. Rightmire, and a num-ber of excellent artists. Indications point to a good entertainment.

Manager McDermott's coal heavers will be given a chance to get rid of their sea legs, car legs and other kinds of troublesome things this afternoon at the base ball park, where the Young Men's Christian association players will frappe with their professional brethren into two sides. Seven innings will be played and everybody will be given a chance to slide away some superfluous avoirdupois and bat and throw some winter frost out of their limbs. The diamond and field are not in a condition which promises much of a game, but that isn't the object. It is intended to loosen the boys up a bit, even if mud scows and four-oared gigs have to be put in the game.
