Unique Charge Upon Which John Walsh of Minooka, Was Jailed. of Minooka, Was Jailed.

One John Walsh, of Minooka, was sent to the county jail yesterday to await trial for the rather unique charge of stealing electricity. Walsh lives along the line of the Traction company's road and is of a mechanical turn of mind. Some time ago he tapped the feed wire in front of his house and with two fine wires carried a current into his house, using it according to his own stroy, to give himself electo his own stroy, to give himself electric treatment for a rheumatic back. tric treatment for a rheumatic back.

The Traction company discovered that its wire had been tampered with and yesterday had Walsh arrested for stealing their electricity. Alderman Fuller, before whom he was arraigned, required him to furnish ball in the sum of $300, and in his failure to do so committed him to the county jail.

"GOOD ROADS" QUESTION.

To Be Discussed at the Next Board of Trade Meeting. The regular monthly meeting of the Scranton board of trade will be held Monday evening. There will be important reports from several of the com-mittees, and the applications for mem-bership of F. L. Peck and C. H. Zehn-der will be voted upon. Several new applications will also be received.

Hon. F. O. Williams will give an address on "French Roads." Mr. Willtams is thoroughly conversant with this subject. While consul to Havre, France, during the Harrison adminis-tration, he prepared an exhaustive re-oprt on the roads of that country, which appeared in full in the Century magazine. Mayor Bailey, members of magazine. Stayor Fatiey, memoers of the councils, and all city officials will be invited to attend, as it is believed that the agitation of the "good roads" question at this time, and the speedy improvement of our streets in the outlying districts, is of the utmest im-portance to the future growth and prosperity of our city.

NO APPOINTMENTS TONIGHT. Mayor Bailey Says He Will Delay Action

for Two Weeks. Mayor James G. Bailey will send no appointments to the select council to-night.

He so informed a Tribune reporter yesterday, but added that two weeks hence council will receive a communication from him containing his pleasure with reference to the appointments that in the mayor's estimation demand immediate attention from him.
Rush of business, which prevented him from giving consideration to the many applications before him, the mayor gave as his reason for not sending in his appointments tonight. Since the mayor's return from New York the Robling chief stock has gone up several points above the zero mark, where it lay supinely after the meeting of the leaders on April 3, when they savagely jumped on the Robling boom. A man who has been keeping tabs on the situation since Mayor Bailey's elections and beautiful and the situation since was the same and the situation since was the same and the s tion, said last night in conversation with a Tribune reporter: OTHERS CAN WORRY NOW. "The mayor is going to let the other fellows do the worrying now for a time. He had his slate prepared and was ready to act the moment he became mayor, but his advisers quarrelled among themselves and threatened to quarrel with him. They halted him in the path that he conceived it to be his the path that he conceived it to be his duty to travel and the result was that his slifte was smashed, his nerves shat-tered and trouble caused generally. "Then the mayor went to New York to recuperate, and there he met his old friend, Charles Robinson, quite unexpectedly, of course. They were to-gether a good deal and naturally talked over the situation. The mayor came home with his backbone stiffened and now proposes to use his own judgment with reference to the time when he announce his appointments. ROBLING STILL IN IT. "As the situation looks to me tonight, I would not be at all surprised to hear that Mayor Bailey had gone back to his first slate, Robling for chief, and John Fitzsimmons for captain. One thing is certain, Fitzsimmons will ac-cept no other position in the police department. The attempt to side-track him into the position of desk sergeant is useless. He has told me repeatedly that he will not accept it, and that with mayor in all that the term implies. He his mind to him it is captain or nothing. Robling is by no means a dead horse in this race yet.

"It is my impression that the new chief, whatever he may be, will not take charge of the department until after the Templar conclave in May. The conclave and circus on May 26 will bring hundreds of persons to the city, and it is needless to say that among the visitors will be many clever crooks who will come because they see an opportunity to plunder. It would be bad judgment to have the police force in a choatic state at such a time. enatter has been considered and I have good reasons to believe that the police force will remain practically as it is until the first of June."

THEY DO NOT AGREE. This view of the situation meets with no favor from other Democrats, especially those who are advocating the appointment of Taylor. They profess to believe that the man whose cause they champion will be appointed while the men who are holding John Shen's lightning rod aloft have great faith that the ex-county detective will be struck by an appointment as chief or captain.

P. J. Hickey is holding up his boom for chief of the fire department and says that he has assurances from Mayor Bailey that up to date his chance for the office are as good as those of any other man mentioned for the honor.

Rudolph Meyerhoffer, a Dunmore Barber, Is the Victim.

A BULLET THROUGH HIS BRAIN

While Playing a Mouth Organ in this Shop One of His Companions, Thomas Ruane, Accidentally Shoots Him-Wound Is Fatal.

Rudolph Meyerhoffer, a Dunmore barber, was accidentally shot and probably fatally wounded by a companion, Thos. Ruane, yesterday afternoon. It was a case of "didn't know it was loaded."
Ruane, Martin Coolihan, John Connolly and Thomas Philbin, young men of about 20 years of age, gathered in Meyerhoffer's shop on Blakely street about 3.30 o'clock with the intention of going to the woods to engage in target practice, at which sport they and the barber spent a part of the prein target oractice, at which sport they and the barber spent a part of the previous day. The revolver which was used belonged to the barber. His companions were examining it while he was shaving a man and when he finished he took it from the hands of one of the boys and snapped it two or three times. He handed it fo Ruane with the remark that it was no good, and, having no work to do threw himself into one of the barber chairs and began playing of the barber chairs and began playing a mouth-organ. A single cartridge had been left in the revolver from the day been lef: in the revolver from the day before but this was unknown to the young men. Ruane while toying with it bulled the tigger and it exploded. The bullet struck Meyerhoffer in the right side of the head about an inch and a half above and back of the car and he fell to the floor. When the young men realized what had happened they became so excited that all with the exception of Philbin ran out into the street and scattered in various directions.

HE GAVE THE ALARM. Philbin ran next door and told Meyer-hoffer's sister, then went after Doctors Winters and Brown. A crowd soon gathered and all sorts of stories were set affoat. One which was afterwards proved to be without foundation was that he had committed suicide because he regretted his approaching marriage with a Mrs. Carpenter which was to oc-with a Mrs. Carpenter which was to de-cur on Monday next.

The doctors and some of the men from the Independent Hose company, which is located near by carried the wounded man into the house of his sister, Mrs. Smith, and there the physi-cians made an examination. They found the bullet which was of 32 calibre had entered as above described and taken a course in the direction of the lobe of the opposite ear. It had pene-trated the brain and their verdict was that he could not live until nightfall. When at 7 o'clock he was still alive it when at 7 o'clock he was still alive it was decided to trephine the skull and attempt to dislodge the bullet. Doctors Winters, Brown and Garvey began this operation at 10 o'clock. They expressed little hope of saving his life but determined to make every effort to do

Ruane and three others who were present could not be located, although it was reported that they were about the streets during the evening. There was no talk of arrests. After the wounded man was carried to his sister's home, the shop was locked and every-thing was left just as it was when the shooting occurred, in order that the coroner's jury might get a clear understanding of the circumstances in case an inquest is made necessary, as it doubtlessly will. A Tribune reporter, in company with Chief of Police Healey, secured admission to the shop last night. The mouth organ which Meyerhoffer was playing was lying on the floor at the foot of the chair and a pool of blood about four feet away showed where the unfortu-rate man's head struck when he fell.

REVOLVER A CHEAP AFFAIR. The revolver, a cheap affair, with a red-wood handle, was found in one of the apartments of the cup case. single exploded shell was all that the chamber contained. It was evident from the position in which Meverhoffer wound that Ruane was standing with his back to the wall not over three feet away, when the pistol was discharged. Mrs. Smith says that her brother never spoke after being shot. When she reached his side he looked into her face appealingly and then seemed to drop into unconsciousness.

HE WANTED TO KNOW.

Asked the Question Which Got Patrolman Block and Lieutenant Davis Into Trouble

While Patrolman M. J. Walsh was walking along lower Lackawanna avenue in the vicinity of the Weston mill, about 11,30 o'clock last night a welldressed young man approached him and addressed to him a question somewhat similar to those propounded to Patrolman Joseph Block by the young men of the Guernsey's Sunday school class. The patrolman feigned ignor-ance of the meaning of the interrogation and when the questioner repeated his query in plainer terms the officer told him he could not give him the desired information. Thereupon the inquisitive youth became impertinent and wanted to know what kind of a chump the copper was anyhow.

At the station house the seeker after knowledge gave his name as Oswald Rentz, and showed by letters that he is a drummer for a big Philadelphia mercantile house. He will be given a hearing this morning and some clippings from the daily papers of the mid- A. R. SAWYER, wyoming Ave. dle of January.

His Brother-in-Law's Death. Charley Miller, who was arrested as an accessory to the murder of John Mickus, was formally committed to the county Jail yesterday by Alderman Mil-

County Detective Leyshon, who caused his arrest, appeared as prosecutor. The only evidence offered by the commonwealth was the threat made by Mrs. Mickus to her husband that her brother, Miller, and the board-er, Grishka, would kill him.

Miller entered a plea of not guilty.
He admitted, however, that he was in Mickus' company during the afternoon and early part of the evening and that Micks. Grishka, himself and another man drank four dozen bottles of beer. Stories he has told the county detec-tive concerning his whereabouts on the night of the murder are very contradic-

THEY SEEK IMPROVEMENTS.

The Property Owners Near Nay Aug Park Take Action.

The property owners of the Nay Aug tract of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company last night met in the office of F. D. McCowan on Lackawanna ave-nue, and perfected an organization with the idea of mutual protection and interests in relation to street grades, side-walks, etc. The city has not yet ac-cepted from the company the streets of the plot, consequently all building work has been done with the risk of having the grades lowered or raised when the plot is accepted by the city. By organ-izing, it is proposed by the property owners to withhold their consent to annexation unless the city and company agree upon satisfactory grades, etc., and which shall be embodied in the annexation ordinance.

Twenty-six out of sixty-two property owners responded to the following call for the meeting:

Almost all new tracts of land are plotted and placed upon the market by a land company, who look after grades, lights, water, sewerage, fire protection, shade trees, and surface drainage. The Lackawanna Iron and Steel company, in placing what might be called the "Nay Aug Park Tract" on the market, made only a sort of street grade and left all other improvements to the purchasers. Under these circumstances the present house owners have decided to make a call for a meeting of all the lot-owners and see if we cannot organize a, "Nay Aug Improvement society," whereby systematic and uniform improvements might be suggested and carried out and the property made more attractive and of greater value.

Bordering on our only park (Nay Aug) Almost all new tracts of land are plotted attractive and of greater value.

Bordering on our only park (Nay Aug), traversed by the approach of the only fine drive Scranton has (Elmhurst Boulevard), we can attract more attention than any other suburb of the city and probably receive the aid of outside influence, the Boulevard company, the Traction company and the park commissioners. Therefore with this view of mutual improvebent and profit, we would respectfully ask you to meet at the office of F. R. McGowan, No. 328 Lackawanna avenue, Wednesday, April 15, 1896, at 7.30 p. n.

The call was signed by F. D. McGowan, John S. Hurlbert, John Drew, J. J. Van Nort, F. T. Okell, J. S. Woodling and E. H. Belden.

Mr. McGowan and Mr. Van Nort were Mr. McGowan and Mr. van Nort were respectively elected president and secretary. Committees were appointed to suggest suitable grades and induce property owners, especially along Mulberry street, to build sidewalks. The gathering adjourned to meet at the home of Mr. Van Nort, 410 Colfax avenue on May 5 at 7 n. m. nue, on May 6 at 7 p. m.

We have set the pace in everything. Store, style, quality, reliability and more than all—low prices. Look at the new spring hats. Where else in Scranton can you find such correctness—such individuality—such tone and character? Nowhere. Why shouldn't we be at the top. If everybody knew it, what a scramble there'd be for our kind of millinery.
