CITY NOTES.

Join the Blues and eat Turkey:

Thomas Slavin was arrested at his boarding house, corner of Emmet street and Railroad avenue, yesterday afternoon for breaking the furniture and raising a general disturbance

While carrying a boiler of boiling hot water Mrs. John Johnson, of Second Street, fell yesterday and was badly scalded about her arms, face and body and sustained a cut on the head. At 3 o'clock yesterday affernoon it was 83 degrees at Phelps' drug store and at 9.15 last night it was 71 at the same place. That gives yesterday the distinction of be-ing the warmest day of the year.

The contest for the bookcase between John Gibbons and Joseph Lloyd for the benefit of the Sheridan fair will close Saturday night at Samter's hall. The contest for the fireman's trumpet will close the same evening.

During the forepart of next week Mayor Bailey, Chief Ferber and the fire department committee of councils will make the annual tour of inspection among the fire department houses. Two days will probably be required for the test.

Mrs. Frost, of Moosic, underwent a critical operation yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Richards, on Laren street. A tumor was removed. The attending physicians were Dr. Wehlau, of this city, and Dr. Pier, of Moosic. Mrs. Frost is getting along nicely.

Oswald Rentz, the young Philadelphia drummer whom Patrolman Roseoe Walsh arrested for seeking after knowledge which the police rules forbid officers from divulging, was given a hearing before Al-derman Fuller yesterday morning and fined $5.

The funeral of Mrs. Hannah Cohen took place yesterday morning from 315 Linden street, Rabbie J. Feuerlicht conducting the service. E. Morris, S. Sutto, A. Goodman, S. L. Gallen, J. Josephson and M. Schwartzkopf were the pall-bearers. The remains were taken to Honesdale for interment.

Kittle Woods, alias Mrs. Armstrong, who gained fame last winter by jumping from the fourth floor of No. 18 Lackawanna ayenue while fleeing from an officer and who caused no end of surprise oy quitting the Lackawanna hospital within a week afterward, was yesterday committed to the county jail in default of a fine of $25 for keeping a disorderly house.

The opinion of Judge Reeder of the Surprise of the Surprise

The opinion of Judge Reeder, of the Superior court in the injunction cases of the Scranton and Pittston Traction company against the Deiaware and Hudson Canal company and the railrod company against the traction company was yesterday received in the city. It decides that the traction company can cross the steam road either above or below grade. Judge Orlady dissented from the opinion.

Clerk of the Courts John H. Thomas granted marriage licenses yesterday to Bike Kakis and Mary Krenick, Scranton; Stephen Cacur and Mary Kosman, Mayfield; Antonio Musseri and Maria Defazi, Carbondale; John Beaver and Carrie Pell, Scranton; Enoch Morgan and Jennie Beaver, Spring Brook; Frank H. Attorney M. W. Lowry, representing Michael Godle, brought an action of trespass for damages in the sum of $1,500 yesterday against the Delaware and Hudson Raliroad company. The plaintiff lives on Larch street, in Dunmore borough. On Tuesday evening, March 3 last, his daughter, Mary, was killed on the defendant's tracks by the 6 p. m. passenger train from Wilkes-Barre. She was employed at the Sauquoit Silk mill and was on her way home from work. This is the case where the remains could not be identified before the following day. At first it was supposed she was Anna Harris, daughter of David Harris, of Fellows' Patch.

Many of our readers are already to the Women's number of The Tribune, which will be issued on May 4. Upon this date every department of The Tribune, except the press and composing rooms will be in charge of a staff of women many of whom are well known in literary work in this city and valley. The edition will be replete with historical articles, society news, art and musical criticisms in addition to the regular news and local miscellany. All of the articles will be prepared by the talent-ed staff of ladies interested in the work. Lady advertising solicitors are already at work and merchants and others who desire to improve the opportunity offered by this interesting and novel issue are advised to secure space early.

The novel feature of the woman's edition has aroused much curiosity and has excited considerable comment, but it is safe to predict that the coming enterprise will be one of the most suc-cessful of any ever undertaken by the

A GREAT SUCCESS.

Green Ridge Ready Pay Store's Opening Day Was One of the Greatest Ever Held in the North End.

Yesterday afternoon and evening the Green Ridge Ready Pay store, 1553 Dickson avenue, held an "opening day," Over 1,000 people visited the store during the day. Chase & Sanborn's celebrated coffees were exhibited by the company's general agent, F. P. Lloyd. Over 800 cups of coffee were served to visitors. Something like 500 served to visitors. Something like $00 loaves of bread, made from "Granite" flour, were given away as souvenirs. Music was furnished in the evening by the Laybourn orchestra, consisting of James Laybourn, Joseph Laybourn, Walter Laybourn, James Hartnett, and Miss Katie Saliry as planist.

The Store company spared neither time nor money to make their opening a success, and surely such courteous R. T. Rennie's St. Bernard, "Crown visitors yesterday is deserving of recognition by the public.

CAFFREY HAS GONE.

Has Some Creditors Who Want to Know Where They Are At.

John B. Caffrey, who conducted a drug store on West Market street, Providence, left the city early yester-day morning for Chicago it is said. His home is at Bethlehem and about ten months ago he purchased the drug business of George H. O'Donnell and has since conducted it.

The following are reported as some of Caffrey's creditors: A. F. O'Boyle, Edward Knight, Edward O'Malley, G. W. Mabey, of the Bristol house, and A. P. O'Donnell. Caffrey's father, Richard Caffrey, is said to have an execution of $2,000 against the stock in the store. He is expected in the city today.

HERBERT-KEITH CONCERT.

The Herbert-Keith-Conant cencert in the Young Men's Christian Association half last night was heard by as fashionable an auditory as has gathered in the city during the winter. The number present occupied nearly all the seats in the large room. Whatever in the way of compilment may have been indicated by the quality and quantity of the audience, the token was deserved, and the three artists by their very artistic and comprehensive treatment of their parts certainly bestowed as great a compliment upon their listeners as the listeners did upon the artists.

Istoners as the listeners did upon the artists.

Such performers as Messrs, Herbert and Keith if criticised favorably or otherwise are entitled to more than casual comment and the same applies to Mr. Conant, but in referring to their work in the limited space of a newspaper article they should be given credit for the statement that any or all of them deserved to have been heard by critiques of capability.

Herbert showed his usual great resource and versatility and drew from his 'cello all the many qualities shown in the man's interpretation of the music. His numbers were especially varied in feeling and were as follows: "Fantaiste Characteristique," by Servals; the "Berceuse," from "Joelyn," by Godard, and a screnade by Pierne; "In Dreamland," from "The Wizard of the Nile," his own composition, and a mazourka by Popper.

Mr. Keith was in splendid volce, Criticised as a baritone he is nevertheless a tenor-robusto of such even blending that one is slow to notice its range, which is really remarkable. In qualities which make a great artist, his voice seems nearly perfect. He sang the aria "Senza Tetto, Senza Cuna," from II Guarany, by Gounod; a rtiple number, (a) "A Song of Soloman," by Wood, (b) "Noel," by Adam, and "Saneta Maria," by Faure, and "Easter Eve," by Gounod, with an obligato by Mr. Herbert.

Mr. Conant's performances were more and "Sancta Maria," by Faure, and "Easter Eve," by Gounod, with an obligato by Mr. Herbert.

Mr. Conant's performances were more than splendid. As a planist and though not so great an artist as Herbert, a criticism of the latter might be applied to the former by using the word plano instead of 'cello. Mr. Conant's great breadth of feeling and sensitive or robust execution have always made his playing masterful. In last night's audience were some who could appreciate the real merit, of his playing. His was a rare combination of naturalness and honest execution, blended with such skill as to charm the real music student. He played: (a) "Warum?" and (b) a serenade, each by Schumann, and (a) Idyl" and (b) "Poem," by Mac-Dowell.

SELECT COUNCIL MEETING.

Ordinance Introduced Giving Power to Remove Street Obstructions.

As a result of the Frothingham portico dispute, which brought out the fact that the city laws are weak or ambigu-ous in the matter of street obstructions. a new and sweeping ordinance cover-ing the ground was last night intro-duced in select council by Mr. Finn. The measure was drafted by Mr. Finn himself and reviewed and approved by City Solicitor Torrey. It provides without any room for argument that the street commissioner can remove, by force if legislation fails, any thing on or above the streets or sidewalks which in his judgement is an obstruction. The full text of the ordinance follows: "Be it ordained by the select and common councils of the city of Scran-ton that it shall be unlawful hereafter for any person or persons to place, keep, maintain or continue any obstruction or obstructions of any character what-ever upon or over the streets, sidewalks or highways or any of them within the limits of this city for which no legel authority has previously been obtained; and any person or persons violating the provisions of this ordin-ance who shall fail to remove such ob-structions immediately upon notice of the street commissioner shall be deemed the street commissioner shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, before the mayor or any alderman of the city shall be made to pay a fine of not less than $10 or more than $100, and in default of payment of such fine to undergo an imprisonment for such time as shall be fixed by the magistrate, not exceeding thirty days.

"The maintenance of any such ob-"The maintenance of any such ob-struction for the period of ten days af-ter any conviction therefor shall consti-tute a new offense, punishable as before stated After conviction under this ordinance before the mayor or any al-derman of the city, the street commisderman of the city, the street commis-sioner is hereby empowered to forcibly remove the obstruction or obstructions by reason of which the said conviction was obtained, and in so doing he shall receive such assistance as is necessary from the police. with are hereby repealed." Balley and Chief Simpson. Patrolmen Day and Neuls and the marketman ap-peared as witnesses. After hearing the evidence Mayor Balley turned the case over to the chief until a further and fuller hearing can be given. Chief Simpson suspended Meinzer and as-signed Officer Block to his beat. REFERRED FOR PRINTING. There was no discussion, the ordin-ance, under the rules, being referred for ance, under the rules, being referred for printing. The idea of establishing a big public park on No. 5 mountain was launched by Mr. Chittenden. The Scranton Gas and Water company has purchased a large tract of land in the neighborhood of the old burnt dam as a water shed for its new reservoir. It is of no use to the company save as a water shed, and with this fact in mind it occurred to Mr. Chittendon that possibly the corporation which has done so much to give Scranton an unsurpassed, probably unequalled, water supply, would go farther and make con-cessions which would give the city a BARBER MYERHOFFER DEAD city, particularly on upper Lackawanna avenue, the streets can not be kept clean because the merchants persist in littering the pavements with paper, sweepings and other refuse, and to put a stop to these practices he introduced a resolution directing the street commissioner to rigidly enforce the law bearing upon this matter. The same member also introduced a resolution to put a stop to the practice of sprinkling asphalt pavements, which he alleges is detrimental to its life, for by keeping it constantly wet it will the ber of Dunmore, who was accidentally shot Wednesday afternoon by Thomas Ruane, died at 1.25 yesterday morning without having recovered conscious-ness from the time the fatal bullet en-tered his brain. Drs. Murphy, Brown and Winters, of Dunmore, trephined the skull at 10.20 Wednesday night and keeping it constantly wet it will the more rapidly wear out. The first communication from the new mayor, containing an appointment was received last night. In it he subthey found the lead lodged close to the bone on the opposite side of the head to the point where it had entered. Its removal was of but little advantage, for its course had been directly through the nerve center and there was no hope of saving the barber's life. Coroner S. P. Longstreet went up yesterday morning and empanelled a jury; they viewed the remains, watched the coroner hold an autonsy in which he was assisted by Dr. E. M. Pennypacker, and adjourned until 8 o'clock in they found the lead lodged close to the mitted for confirmation the names of Bernard Martin and William Dough-erty as inspectors of the several lateral sewers about to be commenced in the Thirteenth ward. At the request of Colonel Sanderson, Martin's nomination was confirmed torthwith, as one of the sewers which he is to oversee is to be commenced today. Dougherty's appointment went to committee, as is customary under the rules.

Controller Edmund J. Robinson also controller accommendation the first subpacker, and adjourned until 8 o'clock in the evening to hear the testimony of Thomas Ruane, who did the shooting, Controller Edmund J. Robinson also sent in a communication, the first submitted by him to councils. He called attention to the fact that the estimates committee failed to make any appropriations for the repair of engine houses and advised that $1,000 be transferred for this purpose from the fund for feeding fire department, which on account of an unexpected balance of last year has to its credit $1,788,67, out of and the other companions who were present in the barbershop at the time and were witnesses of it. YOUNG RUANE'S STORY. The hearing took place in the council chamber of the borough hall on Blakely street. Thomas Ruane was called first. Before hearing him, Dr. Long-street advised that the whole truth be told and nothing held back. Ruane is about 29 years old; his mother is a widow, Mrs. John Ruane, and lives on Potter street. He spoke with tearful utterance, and told that he and Michael Kelley were going by the barber shop. Myerhoffer called them in and told them he would shoot with them for fun them he would shoot with them for fun or anything they wanted. As they entered he took the revolver from one of the pigeon holes ahead of him, and seating himself in the chair snapped it twice, remarking that it was no good. He handed it to the witness, who snapped it, and off it went. Ruane was standing directly behind the chair and the bullet entered the back of Myerhoffer's head near the right ear. Ruane said he didn't know it was loaded and pulled the trigger. They had been warm friends and were together the day before shooting at a target with the same revolver.

Thomas Philbin was next sworn. He was sitting in the barber shop and saw Ruane and Kelley go by the shop. The deceased called them back and wanted to shoot with them for anything they wished to put up. The witness described the handling of the revolver in precisely the same manner as Ruane did, and also the way the fatal shot was fired.
