STOLE A GOLD WATCH.

Was the Property of Jacob Schermerhorn. Some time ago a young fellow who hailed from Susquehanna, applied for a boarding place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Atno, on Dundaff street, He was taken in and soon after secured a place at the Hendrick Manufactur-ing works. He gave his name as Fred Van Gorder.

There are several other bourders at the same place, among whom is Jacob Schermerhorn. Mr. Schermerhorn was taking a bath at the time of the theft, and left his watch and gold ring in his bed room. Upon his return to the bed-room no trace of either was found. As Van Gorder was absent and did not reture, he was thought to be the thief, and Mr. Schermerhorn took measures to secure his property. At the office of Alderman Jones he swore out a war-rant which was given to Constable Neary to serve. No trace of the young fellow could be found around the city. but the constable was informed that he was seen to mount a street car going south. He took the 7 o'clock train after the fugitive and at Mayfield he was seen upon the platform. Neary at once arrested him and he was brought Burglars Enter the Store of P. Fineran on Dundaff Street.

When Mr. Fineran, who keeps a gro-cery store on Dundaff street, opened the place yesterday morning, he found the place had been entered during the night by thieves. The burglars were evident-ly experts at the business for the window through which they entered was strongly nailed on the inside. They were evidently disappointed, however, for but little booty was secured, seven-ty-five cents being about all. After finding the money drawer emp-

the burglars turned their attention LEBECK & CORIN to the safe, which they prepared to blow open. It was not locked, however, and this was found out before the exexplosive chemicals were found on the floor. As Mr. Fineran never keeps anything but papers in the safe they did not secure any booty, and evidentally gave it up as a bad job.

No trace of the burglars can be found. Mrs. E. J. Burns, who lives next door, says she was awakened about two o'clock in the morning by a noise, and on looking out saw two men on the sidewalk. They soon walked away. It is probable that these men were the thieves.
