SERIOUS ACCIDENT. Sartin Murray Has His Arm Badly

A serious accident occurred to Martin Murray yesterday morning, which may necessitate in the amputation of his necessitate in the amputation of his arm. Mr. Murray is employed as fireman at the Delaware and Hudson Fall-brook fan, and goes about his duties very early in the morning in order to have the machinery in perfect order before the work of the day commences. He was engaged in oiling the engine at the time when in some manner his left arm was caught between the crank shaft and some other part of the machinery and crushed in a terrible manner, both bones being crushed and the flesh badly torn.

There was no one at the fan house at

There was no one at the fan house at the time of the accident, and the unfor-tunate man lay upon the floor for some time before any one came. The en-gineer came in later, however, and find-ing Murray at once went for assist-ance. The man was then conveved to his home on Cordon street, and Drs. Kelly, Fitzsimmons and Balley sent for. After a consultation the doctors thought that it would be advisable to have the arm taken off, but Murray refused to let them do this until all hopes of saving it were gone. The doc-tors complied with his request although they have no hopes of accomplishing

The New Telephone Exchange Now Ready.

Carbondale will now have an easy means of communication with Scranton and other towns down the valley and with Honesdale, the opening of the new telephone exchange making that an easy matter.

A telephone exchange is what we have needed for a long time and busihave needed for a long time and busi-ness men and others are happy in the accomplishment of the scheme. The work on the plant is going on rapidly, the switch board being placed in posi-tion on Monday. Fifty local phones can be operated and there will also be two long distance wires. All the wires will run into a box at the intersection of Main and Salem avenues, from where they will join into a cable to run into the exchange.

The exchange will be open sixteen hours each day. The Misses Annie McMillan and Lottle Ellis being the operators in charge. The effort to get the Trac-tion people to join in the use of the new poles falled, and the appearance of the streets will be spoiled to some extent. Canvassers will at once be sent out over the city.

STROGOFF STRANDED.

The Company's Baggage is Seized Scranton People.

The hot weather of the past few The hot weather of the past few weeks has made the theatrical business a most unpleasant and unprofitable one. No one has realized this more than the con.pany which played Michael Strogoff here on Monday evening, who, instead of filling their coffers with money, have gradually lost all they had, and at Scranton were obliged to go in debt. They were allowed to come go in debt. They were allowed to come to this city in hopes that enough money would be made from the performance to pay the bill. The hotel men's hopes were blasted, however, for the fickle public of this place failed to turn out, and the company were obliged to go through their parts to rows of empty seats, filled here and there by some curious person who knew something was the matter, yet did not know what

The members of the company were quartered at the American house, and before they left the city their baggage was attached by Proprietor Williams. Proprietor McBride, of the Westminster, Scranton, also had a constable on deck and he attached the scenery of the company, thus leaving the members homeless and destitute upon the hands of an unsympathizing public.

FOR IMPROVEMENTS.

Move in This Direction Made by South Main Street Residents.

We are always glad to see improve-ments, no matter where they are, but especially are we glad to see improve ments which are going on in our midst Among those who are possessed with the spirit of improvements are the residents of South Main street, who desire that the streets be improved and graded. The matter was brought be-fore the councils Monday evening and they passed a resolution instructing the city engineer to prepare a profile of the street from its intersection with Pike to Sand street; also to fix width and

This has been done that the abutters may know what the grading and curb-ing would cost. The petition for the improvements will be circulated as oon as these plans are prepared.

To Start Work at Once.

The council since its reorganization shows itself to be a most progressive body, and they are taking up the public improvements with a vim. Among other things done at the meeting Monday evening was the passing of resolu-tions on the paving of Belmont street. The city clerks will at once notify the Park Paving company that the city is ready for the work. A resolution on the moving of the car tracks was also
