CASES IN CRIMINAL COURT

Bandmaster Allan Lawrence Not Guilty.

SIMON ARUSHERS CONVICTED

Felonious Wounding Case in Which Lee W. Nichols Was Defendant Goto Jury—Sentenced for Selling Liquor Without License.

James Hennigan, the young man who was caught after having committed a theft in the Young Men's Christian association gymnasium last summer, pleaded guilty yesterday morning on advice of attorney John J. Murphy, and Judge Edwards was lenient. The sentence was a fine of $15 and two months in the county jail.
Allan Lawrence, the bandmaster who was tried on the charge of receiving a stolen musical instrument, was returned not guilty. The next case called before Judge Gunter was that of the commonwealth against Lee W. Nichols, charged with feloniously wounding Constable John F. Serrag. Nichols, Assistant District Attorney John M. Harris and Attorney Charles L. Hawley represented the prosecution and Attorney John F. Serrag appeared for the defense.
On Saturday, February 8, 1895, Constable Miller went to the defendant's house on Vine street to execute a landlord's warrant for $1 unpaid rent. A dispute began and the result of it was that Nichols struck the constable with his fist and next with a flatiron. His jawbone was fractured in three places and his left arm was broken. Miller says he escaped from being murdered by backing out the door. Nichols was trying to restrain her husband from killing him.

DR. PULTON'S TESTIMONY.

Dr. W. G. Fulton, to whose office Miller went for medical treatment after the assault, testified to the serious nature of the prosecutor's injuries. The doctor is still treating him on account of the fractured arm. Mr. Miller also swore that Nichols came to him some time after the occurrence and then asked him to go with him to his home. He was sorry, and wanted to settle the case and have the suit dropped.
The story of the defense represented that Miller came to the house that Saturday afternoon with a landlord's warrant. Mrs. Nichols told him to proceed with the levy and take his property as quickly as possible, as she was not anxious for his presence. He told her he didn't have to go; that what there was there belonged to him and he could go when it suited him. Nichols told him what there was there was not his property and he then called her a liar. At this point Nichols stepped in and informed Miller that if he came to insult his wife he did not propose to allow it. Then Miller grabbed Nichols by the neck and as soon as he did Nichols struck him and knocked him against the wall. When Miller was recovering himself he reached for his hip pocket, and Nichols, seeing this movement, took hold of a piece of board used in pressing sleeves and he pressed it with force against the constable's head.

JUDGE GUNTER'S CHARGE.

In his charge to the jury Judge Gunter said that if he believed that Nichols had fired a pistol at Miller for his pocket as if to get a pistol he was in danger, he had a perfect right to use the board to defend himself and oust the constable from the house. The charge throughout leaned to the defendant's side. The jury went out at 2:30 to deliberate upon a verdict.
Victoria Phillips was tried for assault and battery upon Agnes Shinta. Mr. Harris represented the commonwealth and Attorney Joseph O'Brien the defendant. It took only fifteen minutes to send the case to the jury. The prosecutor danced with Mrs. Phillips' husband at a recent wedding on the South Side, and it angered her so that she took a handful of hair from Mrs. Shinta's crown of glory.
The assault and battery case against Charles Sauer, of the Nineteenth ward, went to the jury soon after court convened in the morning. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty and divided the costs equally between the parties. The opinion was the prosecutor's.

MINOOKA BOYS TRI.

James Wallace, Joseph McDo, Hugh Ernest, John Walsh and Patrick King, all of Minooka, and under 20 years of age, were tried for assault and battery on Joseph Blackman, another boy of the same age, and Attorney J. E. Watkins represented the commonwealth, and Attorneys M. J. Donahoe, Nathan Vidaver and Joseph O'Brien appeared for the defendants.
Young Blackman was employed in one of the drifts of the Greenwood Coal company, and one day while seated beside a stove in a shanty outside the drift, flames shot out of the stove and scorched him so that he was laid up for a month. He claimed that the defendant fixed up a plan that one of their number should climb on the roof of the shanty and pour oil down the stove pipe to bring about the result that occurred. The defendants denied it and the jury brought in a verdict of acquittal and put the costs on the county.

James Lavelle, of Boone Hill, is on trial in the county court before Judge Edwards, charged by Bridget Tobin with a serious crime. District Attorney Jones and Attorney John T. Martin are conducting the case for the commonwealth, and ex-Judge Ward, Attorney George S. Horn and Attorney T. V. Powderly represent the defendant. Miss Tobin lived with her brother on the corner of Grant avenue and Price street, and on Saturday, Aug. 9, 1895, she went to a picnic. Late at night she claims, Lavelle volunteered to escort her home, and on their way across a field she was overcome with an attack of epilepsy. In her helpless condition Lavelle took advantage of her and perpetrated an outrage upon her.
The case will be resumed today.

NOT ENOUGH OF MONEY.

Difficult Problem Confronting Finance Committee of Board of Control.

The finance committee of the board of control, which holds a relative position to the estimate committee in councils finds itself confronted with just such a condition as the estimate committee had to face in March last, when it was at work on the annual appropriation ordinance.
Like the councils, the school board has more holes to fill than it has pegs to fill them with.
The law requires that the school board shall make its annual appropriations during the month of May, but realizing the difficulties it has to contend with the finance committee resolved to make an early start and so called a meeting for last night.
The committee met but accomplished nothing, further than to receive regulations from some of the other committees having charge of the various departments of the school board work. These regulations showed the committee that it is going to have anything but an easy time. The demands are far in excess of the resources, so much so a general piling down with its consequent howls is inevitable.

The building committee has not even found out yet how it will frame its requisition. It worked on the matter last night but could not arrive at any conclusion. In the one item of new buildings alone there are demands for $85,000 more than the committee can possibly make provision for. Some section has got to suffer and the question that will cause all the bother is what district will be called upon to bare its neck for the ax.

The cause of the discrepancy is that the taxable valuation of the city has not increased to any appreciable extent while the expenses of the school district have grown considerably. The levy can not be raised so the only thing left to do is to cut down the demands.

DR. CLARK'S LECTURE.

He Will Be Heard at the Frothingham, Thursday, April 30.

Rev. F. E. Clark, D. D., founder of the Christian Endeavor movement and now president of the united society, will lecture in the Frothingham on Thursday evening, April 30. His subject will be "God's Purpose in Christian Endeavor."
While the lecture will attract a very large number, the meeting will be of special significance in its bearing to the state convention of the society, to be held in the city October 4-8 next. The convention choir will make its first public appearance, singing under the direction of

REV. F. E. CLARK, D. D.

Charles H. Chandler. The convention choir will be organized at the time and the reception committee will do its initial work. At the close of the lecture a reception will be held in the Young Men's Christian association building. Conrad's orchestra will play and the choir sing. The central thought of the evening will be looking forward to the Frothingham box office next Tuesday morning. General admission will be 25 cents and reserved seats 35 cents. Quite a number of people from points up and down the valley will be present.

A FAIR REBEL.

That Was the Attraction at the Academy Last Evening.

One of the best performances given by Miss Carrie Louis and her company at the Frothingham last night was "A Fair Rebel" which was produced last night with an excellence that won the hearty appreciation of the audience.
During the progress of the drama specialties were introduced by Miss Louis, James P. Kelly, S. C. Armstrong and Professor Zera.
The dramatic company will be seen in "A Bowsy Belle."

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Walker Whiteside, the tragedian, will appear in "Hamlet" at the Frothingham Friday night. It is a character in which Mr. Whiteside has won a high reputation. With a lithe and symmetrical figure, a face capable of sharply portraying every passion, commanding once elastic, graceful and majestic, and a voice musical, modulated and strong, his execution of his conception of this part is as true to nature as the conception was true to Shakespeare. He is indeed the new Hamlet. Full of grace, full of nervous energy and flooded with enthusiasm, Walker Whiteside plays as few men play this age of farces and farce comedies.

Theater-goers will on Saturday afternoon and evening have an opportunity of witnessing a most interesting and new romantic drama, by Michael J. Moroney, entitled "On Erin's Shores," which promises to be a welcome surprise in its unique story, novel treatment, and hosts of interesting incidents. Love, humor and rascality, are cleverly blended together. Attractive costumes of the period and special scenery show up in a unique effects, such as a moonlight view of the "Ruined Castle of Oranmore," with a rustic bridge and waterfall, also the entrance to a "Snuggler's Cave," where the plot reaches to the height of intense realism.

Jolly Joseph Hart, the ex-partner of Fred Hallen, is at the Academy Tuesday night with his new piece, "A Gay Old Boy," and there is every prospect that he will be welcomed by a crowded house. Mr. Hart has been for years a prime favorite with the audience. He comes equipped with a breezy comedy and a strong company of comedians, prominent among them are Misses Gerie De Mar, May Thompson, Leona Amrose, Adol Archer, Al Leech, Harry M. Morse, Winfield Blake and others of equal note. "A Gay Old Boy" will be produced as a benefit for the Elks.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES.

Miss Sara Carson, who is conducting evangelistic services at the Young Women's Christian association this week, led a half-hour service at 12:30 yesterday. "Quiet Rest in the Lord," was attentively listened to by a large number of young women and was deeply impressed upon all by a solo, "Since Thou Dost Care Why Shalt I the World Renounce?" as sung by Miss Florence Robertson.
At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Miss Carson gave the first of a series of three Bible readings, to be continued on Thursday and Friday afternoons. These readings are interesting and practical, and are open to all women and girls.
Three meetings of varied character and all helpful will be held at the rooms today. A song service at 2:30 when Miss Carson will sing; the Bible reading at 4, and a Gospel meeting at 8:30, when Miss Adeline Hall will sing. All women and girls are invited.

FOR BETTER GOVERNMENT

Solicitors of Third Class Cities to Meet Here Next Month.

WILL AMEND THE ACT OF 1889

Call for the Convention Issued by President Torrey, of This City, and Secretary Stuart, of Carbondale. An Important Session.

One of the most important conventions with which this city has been honored is scheduled for May 19, when the solicitors of all third class cities in the state of Pennsylvania will assemble here to discuss proper and needed amendments to the act of 1889, under which such cities are governed.
This convention is the outgrowth of the convention of representatives of cities of the third class held in Reading on March 12 last. It was found then that a convention such as that composed of councilmen, city solicitors, city engineers, city clerks and the like was too unwieldy for actual business, so it was agreed to submit the affairs of the convention to a committee composed of the city solicitors, who should formulate a report to be presented at the next session, which is to be held in Williamsport in the early fall.
City Solicitor James H. Torrey was made chairman of the committee and City Solicitor R. P. Stuart, of Carbondale, secretary. Yesterday they sent out the following circular, reminding the members of the committee of the time and purpose of the convention:

CIRCULARS SENT OUT.

Carbondale, Pa., April 23, 1896.
Dear Sir:—At the expiration of representatives of third class cities, held in Reading, March 12, the following action was taken:
Resolved, That a committee be appointed to solicit the views of the solicitors of the cities of the third class, or such other persons as may be selected by his city, which committee shall have the honor to meet at the city of Williamsport, on the 19th of May, 1896, or in the month of June, if necessary, and shall formulate such changes in the municipal law as may be desired by the convention, and such other changes as may seem best to the convention, and to report to an adjourned meeting of the convention.
That the delegates from each city be requested to transmit to the committee any suggestions they may have to make as to amendments, which, in their view, are desirable to the act of 1889. If any such proposed amendments are, in the opinion of the committee, practicable, they shall be reported to the next meeting of this convention. If practicable, the committee shall have their report printed, and copies sent to each delegate at least two weeks prior to the next meeting.

The solicitors present at the convention have agreed to meet at the city of Williamsport, on the 19th of May, 1896, or in the month of June, if necessary, and shall formulate such changes in the municipal law as may be desired by the convention, and such other changes as may seem best to the convention, and to report to an adjourned meeting of the convention.
The committee shall have their report printed, and copies sent to each delegate at least two weeks prior to the next meeting.

WILL LAST SEVERAL DAYS.

It is expected that the convention will last two or three days as the business which will come before it will require careful deliberation. With the cooperation of the councils Mr. Torrey proposes to provide entertainment for the visitors, that they may carry away with them a pleasant and profitable impression of the city's hospitality as well as its progressiveness.

SCRANTON CLUB PLANS.

House Committee Is Arranging for Furnishings and Equipment.

The house committee of the Scranton club met yesterday afternoon and continued its plans for furnishing the proposed club rooms in the board of trade building, now being erected on Linden street.
The committee possesses detailed drawings of the apartments and will during the summer purchase all the furnishings and equipment so that the club quarters may be occupied immediately.
