CROCHRO IS AT LIBERTY.
Served a Term in the Penitentiary for a Bestial Crime.

Clerk of the Courts John H. Thomas received notice yesterday from Warden Cassidy, of the Eastern penitentiary, that Joseph Crochro has been released from custody after serving three years and six months and working out $109 fine. He was sent down on Oct. 22, 1892, by Judge Gunster, for four years.
The crime of which he was convicted was the heinous one of being criminally intimate with his own 12-year-old daughter, Annie. They lived in the North End, and his inhuman abuse of the child began when she was 19 years old and continued for two years until he was caught. He is a Hungarian.

LEFT HER PURSE BEHIND.
When She Returned the Purse and Two Women Had Disappeared.

Mrs. Jennie Wilson, of Chicago, lost her purse, containing $80, at the Delaware and Hudson depot Wednesday night, and it is her supposition that it was taken by two women who were with her in the ladies' waiting room at the time.

Mrs. Wilson, with her 7-year-old daughter, are in this region visiting relatives. They came here from Nantucket Wednesday to visit Mrs. Wilson's sister, who lives in Bellevue, but being unable to locate her they decided to return to Nantucket. At Carbondale and Hudson depot Mrs. Wilson, while waiting for the train, took her child into the toilet room to wash her face. She laid the purse containing $80 and some valuable papers, on the washstand and upon starting for the train forgot it.

As she was about to pass through turned immediately, only to find it gone. Two women who were in the toilet room when she left had also disappeared, and Mrs. Wilson is firmly convinced that these women took the purse. She has given a description of them to the police and a search is being made for them. Mrs. Wilson stomped at the Valley house over night and yesterday at noon returned to Nantucket.

CLAIMS IT IS HIS.
Junior Marshall Plaintiff in an Eject-ment Suit.

Junior John J. Marshall, of the municipal building, by his attorney, S. H.
Price, yesterday began suit for eject-ment against Simon Rice and Joseph Gloragora for a lot of land on Penn avenue, next to a lot formerly owned by Henry Woodley.

Mr. Marshall says that the defendants are not the owners of the land, as they allege, but that he is, and can prove his right and title to it when the case comes up in court.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.
Walker Whiteside, the tragedian, comes to the Frothingham in this city tonight to give a series of dramatic productions of "Hamlet," in which character he has won a high reputation.

With a lithe and symmetrical figure, a face capable of sharply mirroring executive passion, carriage at once elastic, graceful and majestic, and a voice musical, modulated and strong, his execution of his conception of this part is as true to nature as the conception was true to Shakespeare. He is constantly winning recognition by both press and public on the excellence of his presentation of this most interesting character. There is not in the whole of Shakespeare's characters one so exacting, one requiring so much experience and art as "Hamlet" and Mr. Whiteside exhibits in it a marvelous talent. He is indeed the new "Hamlet," full of grace, full of nervous energy and flooded with enthusiasm.

Saturday afternoon and evening "On Erin's Shores" will be produced at the Frothingham by a romantic Irish drama by Michael O'Connell, which appeals alike to lovers of romance, humor and excitement, while telling a happily connected story that increases in interest during the progress of the play and is presented with an excellent cast, including Edmund G. Moroney, as the cool, dashing villain, James W. Reagan as the earnest, earnest lover, and others of equal merit, in characters displaying almost every phase of humanity. Appropriate costumes and special effects, such as with several picturesque effects, such as the moonlight meeting the the ruined castle of Orammore, with the revelation of the bridge also, also the approach to the smugglers' cave.

The banner hung upon the outer walls bears a story of a special import to lovers of clean farce-comedy. Joseph Hart is announced in his new play entitled "A Gay Old Boy," and the pleasant recollections of his work for years as a prominent part of the Academy of Music Tuesday night, when "A Gay Old Boy" will be presented as a benefit for the Elks.

"Wife for Wife," which is the opening attraction of the Whinnett Stock company, which will have a run here Monday, April 27, is considered by the press as one of John A. Stevens' strongest works. The scenes of the play are in the south. A rich southerner marries a girl who has already repulsed the love of an unscrupulous friend of his. The husband has a mulatto servant who has been seeking revenge on his master. The rejected lover and the treacherous servant form a compact to ruin the young couple.
The husband discovers the lover in his wife's room, where he has forced his way, and both men fire. The husband is wounded, and during his sickness he loses his mind, and retains it when he meets his enemy. In this scene a duel with knives is fought, in which the decided lover is killed. George, the occasion, dies from poison, and there is a happy ending.

A WOMAN'S SUFFERING.

Interesting Experience of Mrs. Lounsbury of Olympia, Washington.

The practice of publishing medical testimonials is certainly not a new one; in fact, the subject is well nigh threadbare, the columns of every paper being full of them. Nevertheless, occasionally a case appears of so interesting and remarkable a character as to merit special attention. Of such a character is the experience of Mrs. E. L. Lounsbury, of Olympia, in far off Washington, who now resides at No. 111 Maple Park, in that city.

Mrs. Lounsbury's trouble was an aggravated case of stomach trouble. She says: "I was very weak, could not sit up in bed more than an hour at a time, no appetite, eating the juice of raw beef. My husband would have to read to me until two or three o'clock in the morning before sleep would come, my heart was weak and troublesome, gas would collect in my stomach so that a number of times during the day I would become almost helpless."

I saw the new stomach remedy, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, advertised in the Christian Herald of Detroit, and even now after taking but one box I am a good advertisement for them; I sleep good, have a good appetite, my heart is better, my nerves stronger, I am gaining strength so fast that yesterday I walked seven blocks.

If this letter will do any good you may publish it in the Christian Herald, as I have many friends who read that paper.

The tablets have done wonders for me, where hope of recovery was nearly gone.

The cure of this lady is but one of thousands who have been cured of dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach troubles by the regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets—a common sense remedy, which cures by causing the prompt digestion of the food eaten.
They should be taken immediately after meals and their beneficial effects are speedily apparent in the increased strength of stomach and nerves. They relieve the irritation of the heart by removing the cause; they increase flesh and appetite by digesting the food before it has time to ferment, sour and poison the blood and nerves.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets not only cure indigestion, but they are so safe and pleasant that they are also perfectly adapted to children and invalids.
They are sold by druggists at 50 cents for full sized packages.

A useful book on stomach diseases will be mailed free by addressing Stuart company, Marshall, Mich.

Pillsbury's Flour mills have a capacity of 17,500 barrels a day.

REXFORD'S.
In the latter part of December last Koehler had a warrant for Greth, the last named defendant, and he heard he was at a wedding in Priebeburg. Thinking there might be trouble, Koehler got Constable Murray, of Olyphant, to go with him. When they got to the wedding and informed the man they were after that they had a warrant for him, the defendants gathered around and Koehler was tried and found guilty of the assault and battery. The defendants went on the stand and declared that they had hands on Koehler or aided, abetted or counseled anybody else to do it. The jury went out at 4 o'clock to find a verdict.

Joseph Mulinsky and Joseph La-huskey were put on trial before Judge Gunster on the charge of feloniously stealing John Kaditius on Christmas day in Laken's place on Lloyd street.
Attorney John T. Martin represents the defendants and Assistant District Attorney Harris, Attorney George S. Horn and Attorney M. A. McInley are conducting the case for the commonwealth.

Kaditius went on the stand and exhibited a large scar above the right eye which marks the place where a deep cut wound was inflicted by Mulinsky with a billiard cue. Lahuskey struck Kaditius when he was down, just for the love of getting a whack at him, because Kaditius had gone back for a man arrested for beating Simon Arush-as.

HE WANTED A DRINK.
The prosecutor went into Laken's place to get a glass of beer and was in only five minutes when they pitched upon him. Arushas was the first to pitch at him, and he was followed by yesterday. Kaditius was in the Lackawanna hospital three weeks and his condition was so critical part of the time that death was feared.

William Devers, a young man from the North End, was called for trial a few minutes before adjournment in the main court room. William Smith is prosecutor. District Attorney Jones is conducting the case for the prosecution and Attorney Joseph O'Brien represents the defense. The charge against Devers is trapping an Antwerp pigeon.
This is an offense punishable by a statute recently passed. The case will be opened today.

Powell's Leg Broken.
John Powell, who is employed in the Von Storch mine had his leg broken while at Washington prior to 8:30 P. M., yesterday morning. The case was taken to his home at the High Works, Providence.
