INSPECTING A WATERSHED

An Enjoyable Visit to the Spring Brook Valley.

NATURE'S PINE HANDIWORK

It is Exhibited to Advantage to Guests of the Spring Brook Water Supply Company - Plans for an Enlarged Water System.

Upon invitation of the newly organ-ized Spring Brook Water Supply com-pany, a party of seventy representa-tive citizens of Luzerne and Lackawanna counties yesterday morning visited the headwaters of the stream whence the company expects to derive its sup-ply for the Wyoming valley. The pur-pose of the visit was to enable the pose of the visit was to enable the guests of the company to perceive the superiority of the Moosic Mountain water shed over any other available source of a large water supply within piping distance of Wilkes-Barre and surrounding towns, and also to give them a clear idea of the facilities which the company will soon have to carry out its contract with the communities that it intends to supply with bubbling spring water.

The party was recruited in two sections. The Luzerne contingent, comprising representatives of Wilkes-Barre, Plymouth, Kingston, West Plitston, Pittston and Avoca, came up on a special train to Moosic, where it was joined at 9.30 o'clock by the Scranton are trained by the letter before conveyed. ton section, the latter being conveyed to Moosic in a special traction car. From Moosic carriages transported the joint assemblage up the Spring Brook valley as far as the mouth of Green run. / 'ter a forenoon's observation of points of interest in connection with the company's contemplated extension of its system of storage reservoirs, a retreat was effected to the house of Steuben Church, below the intake dam, where Huntingdon had in readiness an appetizing dinner. The dinner des-patched, there was an hour of formal and informal oratory, after which the party returned to Moosic and the ice

THE COMPANY'S PLANS. The present plan of the company for the supply of Wilkes-Barre and the towns on the east side of the Susque-hanna contemplate, besides the build-ing of dams below mentioned, the laying of a long line of 35-inch pipe which will give to Wilkes-Barre a constant supply of Spring Brook water for do-mestic service, having sufficient pres-sure to carry the water to the highest point on Wilkes-Barre hill. As an emergency plant the company proposes the immediate erection on the banks of the Susquehanna river above Pittston of a pumping station of capacity sufficient to Supply the entire system with the water from the river. This station will be used only in case of emergency. will be used only in case of emergency, but will be built with a view of having a thoroughly modern, well-equipped pumping station of ample capacit; in itself to supply the whole of the territory embraced in the system of supply. The towns on the west side of the river down to and including Plymouth are already supplied with Spring Brook water, and when the work now under way is completed the whole of Wyoming valley will be furthed with a sufficiency of thoroughly.

The present system cludes a series of dat, situated one above the other up Spri. Brook. The company at present have a their succompany at present have a their sucabout 1,000,000,000 gahons of water, which in itself is far in excess of the actual present demands of the regions supplied. The company, however, to provide against any possible conting-ency of the present time and to guarantee for all time an inexhaustible source of water for the vast territory of the Wyoming valley intend imme-diately to erect a number of additional dams which when completed will have a capacity of over 3,000,000,000 gallons of water. The work to be done by the company has all been laid out on the broad basis of providing not only for the present needs of the regions supplieu, but for the erection and main-tenance of a plank which will be found adequate when the present population of the coal region shall have many times doubled itself. It is intended to provide not only a sufficient but also a wholesome supply of clear, cold water, to which end the now naturally clean watershed will be kent free from human habitation and consequently free from all opportunities of pollution. THOSE PRESENT. In addition to President L. A. Watres, Secretary T. H. Watkins, Treasurer Robert C. Adams, General Manager J. L. ### COMING ATTRACTIONS.

This afternoon and evening at the Frothingham a new romantic Irish drama by Michael J. Moroney, entitled "On Erin's Shores," will be produced. The plot is simple, but strongly developed, with a wealth of romance, humor and incident; and special scenery illustrates some very picturesque surroundings, such as the old "Ruined Castle of Oramore," with a moonlight effect on the waterfall and rustic bridge; also to the entrance to the bridge; also to the entrance to the smuggler's cave, probably the most exciting scene in the piece. Appropriate, graceful and characteristic costumes are worn by the company, which includes Edmund G. Moroney, M. L. Alsop, W. D. Stone, H. Willard Storm, Messrs. Henry, Murphy and Faber, Fannie Gonzalez, M. Dallas, Olive Gordon, and that sweet tenor singer and comedian, James W. Reagan.

There are few theater-goers who will not hear with sincere pleasure that Jo-seph Hart, formerly of the firm of Halen & Hart, has found a suitable play for his talents. Since the opening of the season Mr. Hart has been attracting attention to himself in the leading role of a farce-comedy entitled "A Gay Old Boy," with which he comes to the Academy of Music Tuesday evening as a benefit for the Elks with a very strong bid for the favorable and kindly notice of this public. The piece is a vehicular chance for Mr. Hart and his excellent company to score a success. The story of the play used by Mr. Hart is ex-ceedingly simple. An elderly but rather convivial gentleman makes the ac-quaintance of a pretty Parisian chant-euse, marries her forthwith and then puts in a very anxious time introduc-ing her to the sober and select circle in which her future life will be po in which her future life will be passed. The scenery and furniture of the play are said to be special and the company adequate to their roles. Among Mr. Hart's support are the following: Carrie De Mar, Leona Amrose, May Thompson and Messrs. Al. Leech, Harry M. Morse, Winfield Blake and Donald Hawild. Donald Harold.

On Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Wednesday matinee the Winnett stock company will appear at the Frothingham at popular prices, John A. Stevens' melodrama, "Wife for Wife," will be the bill for Monday night. The scene of this play is laid in New Orleans, and the motives are those which are peculiarly strong with the hot-headed inhabitants of the warm climates. It is a deeply interesting drama. ing drama.

The attraction at the Academy The attraction at the Academy Wednesday evening will be Miss Emily Bancker and her superb company of well-known players in a farce called "Our Flat." Miss Bancker is best known as principal in a number of Charles Frohman's original productions, "Our Flat" is an importation from London, it came over here placarded with announcements that it met with extraordinary success at the Strand theater in that city. Miss Strand theater in that city. Miss Bancker is, as the play in which she appears would indicate, a graduate of the farce school of acting. The story deals with the difficulties of a young married couple of literary proclivities, who have no capital except the love which they mutually swear shall linger between them as long as life shall last. Miss Bancker is a pretty woman and a comedience of marked ability, and has comedienne of marked ability, and has surrounded herself with a company of well-known players, which includes Will Mandeville, George W. Judging from the success of the Noss Jollity company at its previous en-gagement. Davis' theater will be crowded Monday, Tuesday and Wed-nesday, when the company plays a re-turn engagement. The company is turn engagement. The company is said to be an evenly and well balanced one, including many new faces, promi-nent among whom are Mignon Carroll, nent among whom are Mignon Carroll, Frank P. Haven and others. The new comedy. "The Kodak," has been constructed for laughing purposes only, and is said to be "chuck full" of many new and good things, the comedy element being of a new order, especially interesting and laughable, while the company has received the greatest praise for its clever and artistic finish in the interpretation of the respective roles. This will be the closing attraction of the regular season at Davis playhouse.
