WEST SIDE EVENTS.

Over-Pern and Renshaw-Williams Weddings—Other News of the Day Across the River.

The wedding of Miss Nettie Margaret Fern, of North Sumner avenue, to Attorney Charles Eugene Over, of the central city, occurred at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church on North Main avenue. The edifice was filled with invited friends of the contracting parties. Under the direction of Clarke the large auditorium had been beautified with groupings of potted plants, flowers, and ferns. When the bridal party marched down the aisle and stood, surrounded by banks of green, at the chancel, the picture presented was very beautiful. Rev. J. E. Sweet, the new pastor of the church, read the nuptial rites. It was his first marriage since his pastorate at the Simpson.

Miss Adeline Hall, of Hampton street, was maid of honor, and C. Fern, brother of the bride, acted as best man. Miss Fern's father, John Fern, gave away the bride. The wedding breakfast was a handsome affair, served at the Simpson. The bride wore a gown of pearl gray in color, with a bodice of Duchess lace, and pearl trimmings. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. Miss Hall's bouquet was of Persian chequer, trimmed with lace and velvet. Miss Hall carried pink roses. Miss Annie Williams played wedding marches from Lohengrin and Mendelssohn, respectively, as the bridal party made the entrance and exit to and from the church. The ushers were W. F. Herbert Hall, James Dimmick, W. F. Over, and W. E. Over. The wedding gifts were numerous. On the 3rd Delaware, Lackawanna and Western train, Mr. Over and Mrs. Over left for an extended wedding tour. The trip will include a visit to Sidney, Brooklyn, Buffalo, and Ann Harbor, at which latter place Mr. Over received his education for the practice of law. They will upon return, reside at their home, 716 North Main street.

At the entertainment given last evening at St. David's hall under the direction of the Ladies' branch of the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union there was a good attendance. John J. Devine was chairman. The programme as printed in full elsewhere was not carried out in full. Father McNally's address was a very eloquent effort. The speaker recited an impressive poem entitled "One Hundred Years From Now." From this the reverend speaker drew his parting thought, that of Christian perseverance. Edward Welsh sang two beautiful solos. Mr. Walsh leaves this week to pursue a musical education. Others who participated were: Misses Annie Hurst and Veronica Walsh, "Sisters of Beach Lake, Pa.," and Miss Watson. The entertainment was a financial success.

There is trouble in the local Salvation army corps. As before stated there are several of the soldiers who have decided to abandon the regular army and go with the new Volunteers organization. The new recruits are principally young girls and for the past two weeks they have been accustomed to go to the Price street barracks and while the meeting was in progress they do all in their power to disconcert the worshippers and annoy the faithful. These actions have come to such a pitch that the Salvationists are determined to stop what they call a nuisance. An officer of the army said yesterday that if the objectionable ones did not desist they would be refused admittance to the barracks. The split has caused not a little bitter feeling in the members of the two factions. Major Pattie Watkins, of the Volunteers, will address a meeting at the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday evening. Major Watkins will endeavor to form a Volunteer corps in this city. This is the purpose of the meeting. With her will come Captain Masland and Lieutenant Green, formerly of the local Salvation army corps, and now of the Volunteers. Captain Lindsay, a musician, will also be present.

A case of diamond cut diamond was exhibited at Alderman John's office last evening. Sephaniah Williams wanted the conviction of his "wife," Ella Selden, on a charge of bigamy. "Selden" is not the woman's real name but she used it at the hearing. She formerly lived for twelve years with a man named McDonnell, of Green Ridge. She also went through a form of marriage with him. Several months ago she learned that McDonnell had another wife in some portion of the globe. She left him and married Sephaniah. Then she deserted the latter and he brought suit against her for bigamy, saying that she had become the wife of McDonnell. At the hearing the woman proved that McDonnell had a wife when she married him, hence the marriage was illegal and she was not bigamist. The case was amicably settled.

A number of West Side young men have formed a division of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, Board of Erin. A Rev. E. R. Lewis, one of the best known Congregational ministers in this city, has accepted a call from the Congregational church at Allentown, Pa. Mr. Lewis returned home yesterday after a four months' trip throughout the west. Part of the time was spent at the scene of his future labors. He has been prominent in local ministerial circles for the past forty years. At one time he was pastor of the First Welsh Congregational church of this side. Mr. Lewis will not move his household effects to Allentown, but will pay frequent visits to this city.

The funeral of the late Mrs. John O'Hara took place yesterday from the late home on Scranton street. A requiem mass was celebrated in St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock by Rev. Father Whelan. Father Dunne was deacon and Father McNally sub-deacon. Father Whelan preached an effective sermon. His theme was on the question, "Why do we mourn for one passing away when we can again meet them on the other shore?" The reverend speaker paid a loving tribute to the deceased. There were several out-of-town friends of the family at the funeral. Among these were John Foy, M. Boye and Thomas Mangun, of Pittston, and James Jordan and Joseph of the Pence Cummings, of Olyphant. The pall-bearers were Thomas Kane, John Brown, Matthew Shields, P. Haggerty, Dennis Jennings and Thomas Jordan. Interment was made in Hyde Park Catholic cemetery.
