BUSINESS BREVITIES.

NEAT NEW BREAKER,—The Delaware and Hudson Canal company has just completed another new breaker near Plymouth, which for economy in the preparation of coal for the market and convenience for the men to be employed about it is the peer of anything of its kind in the company's possession. It is an imposing structure, having an altitude of about 150 feet and is suitably located on a gentle slope a short distance to the north of No. 2 colliery of the same company. The breaker is equipped throughout with the latest improved machinery, such as patent slate pickers, patent dumps, screens, etc. There are also a few features which are entirely new. The most important of these is the method of doing away with the culm and slate. A line of conveyors, operated by the breaker engine, which run through the waste pockets, gather up the culm and slate NEAT NEW BREAKER,-The Deland convey it to a large pocket a short distance from the breaker where, after being mixed with water, it is sent through a bore hole into the worked out portions of the old No. 5 mine. The out portions of the old No. 5 mine. The state before descending into the mines is sent through a crusher situated directly over the bore hole and ground fine enough to be easily conveyed by the water to any portion of the inside workings. The waste from No. 2 colliery, of which there is already perhaps half a million tons on the surface, will be similarly disposed of through the same bore holes. This has been found to be the most satisfactory way of getting rid of the culm piles. It also has a double benefit to the company. A has a double benefit to the company. A great deal of surface is not only saved, but the old workings are filled up. thereby protecting the mines against caves and saving thousands of tons of coal.—Wilkes-Barre Record.
