WEST SIDE EVENTS.

Iwenty-fifth Anniversary of the Institution of Silurian Lodge of Odd Fellows Celebrated.

"A Silvered Link," the subject of M.
E. Sanders' speech at last night's anniversary celebration by Silurian lodge,
No. 763, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, aptly expresses the time twentyfive years that had been rounded out by the lodge since its formation. The meeting was held in Evans' hall, on South Main avenue, where the lodge holds its regular meetings. There was a large a-tendance and several wellknown gentlemen enjoyed the festivities.

Saturday, May 2, and all next week.

New York, May 1.—Speculation at the Stock Exchange, except in a few specialties, was practically at a standatill today. The sales were the smallest for any day of the week, footing up 196,514 shares, against 118,009 shares yesterday. Tobacco was the most active stock on the list and figured for 37-300 shares. The stock opened slightly higher at 72, broke to 695, rallied to 119, and fell to 685,6534. The eary rise was due to the dismissal of the application for an injunction seeking to restrain the payment of the scrip dividend and the decline to a pressure of long stock on statements that the matter would not finally be disposed of for at least two months. In the meantime the Farmers' Loan and Trust is paying both the cash and scrip dividends. Sugar. St. Paul, Burlington and Quincy and Reading followed next in point of activity. Sugar moved up to 1715, receded to 1275,2124. Burlington and Quincy and Reading Meatern Union and the Anthraciter and Southwesterns showed little of interest. Reading was strengthened for a time on the report from Philadelphia of the signing of the foreclosure decree. The report that the New York Coal companies had advanced the price of anthracite 25 cents per on to take effect immediately, however, fell flat. It will be remembered that the Reading and Lehigh Valley advanced prices early in the week. London did 'little or nothing owing to the fact that the exchange there was closed according to custom on May day. The gold shipments naturally occasioned considerable comment. At the time it was stated that $1,700,000 would be forwarded, but at the close of the day it was stated at the subtreasury that the net engagements amounted to $1,40,000, a quarter of a million having returned by one exporter. According to good authorities, however, only $1,200,000 would be forwarded, but at the close of the day it was stated at the subtreasury that the net engagements amounted to $1,40,000, a quarter of a million having returned by one exporter. According to good authorities, however, only $1,200,00
