The meeting was opened with a short address by the presiding officer, A. D. Helland, who spoke of the nature of the work the association was doing and the encouragement it had received. Then were heard the reports of the va-rious kindergartens under the association's charge

REPORTS OF THE WORK. Miss Gertrude Northup submitted the report of the work done at the Linden street synagogue kindergarten and Miss Bessie Rice, of Green Ridge chapel kin-dergarten, one of the four "Duisy" memorial kindergartens established by Verkley of New York memorial kindergartens established by Mrs. Frances Hackley, of New York, in memory of her daughter, Daisy. The other kindergartens made possible by Mrs. Hackley's generosity are lo-cated in the Lutheran church at Archbaid; the Ridge, near Archbald, and on the West Side of this city. Reports for these were presented by Miss Fow-ler, Miss Edith Hull and Miss Cowen in the order named.

The report of the Simpson kindergarten, supported at Simpson, this county. by Simpson & Watkins, was made by Miss Meade and of the Old Forge kin-dergarten supported by the Old Forge Coal company by Miss Helen H. Che-ey.

Mr. Holland announced that the Archbald kindergarten would be renoved from the Lutheran church as Mrs. Hackley had decided to erect a building that will have accommoda-tions for 100 pupils. In the building provisions will also be made for a reading room for young men.

The report of Treasurer E. L. Fuller showed that on May 1, 1855, there was $288.21 in his hands. During the year $1,840.67 had been expended but the receipts exceeded the expenditures to make a vector that he new has $594.46. such an extent that he now has $594.40

Long before the remains of the deceased were removed from the house hundreds who had known and respect-ed him in life had assembled to look ed him in life had assembled to look upon him for the last time and to pay fitting honor to him in death. At 10 o'clock the remains were taken

At 10 o'clock the remains were taken to St. Patrick's church, where a high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. P. E. Lavelle, of Pittston, a nephew of the deceased. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. P. J. Murphy, pastor of St. Patrick's church, Olyphant.

After the benediction Father Murphy delivered an edifying and impressive culogy. After speaking of the discontent that is ever with us on our journey through life and the constant desire of the soul to meet its creator, he made fitting reference to the long and honorable life of the deceased, and paid tribute to his worth as a Christian and a man. He was firm in his faith, devoted to his family, and, in a humble way, he tried to follow the narrow path that leads to salvation. There was a lesson in his life that might well be followed by those who desire to live an upright life and fulfil the purposes for which we were created.

The body was interred in Dunmore Catholic cemetery. The pall-bearers were Andrew C. Farrell, William Gibbons, Peter Foley, Martin Cannon and Lawrence Howard, of Olyphant, and Lawrence Howard, of Olyphant, and William Lawler, of Jessup. The fu-neral was one of the largest ever seen in Olyphant.

Mr. Jones has not definitely fixed the date, but approximates that it will be on or about July 20. The visitors will be here two days. The first will be devoted to business and organization. Permanent officers will be chosen and a constitution and by-laws will be adorted.

ABOUT MEMBERSHIP.

The office of district attorney being a political one, the membership will be changing from time to time as the terms of the incumbents expire. Their places in the association will be taken by their successors; or, perhaps, it will be made to include ex-district attorneys as well. Judge H. M. Edwards will deliver an address on the occasion, and prominent members of the bar have also been invited, some to speak and others to prepare papers. In addition to this there will be addresses given and papers read by some of the visitors. From this it will be seen that the occasion will be the control of the visitors. will be one of more than passing im-

BARBER PEOPLE TO FIGHT. Will Try to Prevent Dann Brothers' Low

Bid from Being Accepted, Lively times are expected at the neeting of the paving committee of common council tonight when the question of deciding between the bids of Dunn Brothers and the Barber Asphalt company for the contract for paving Monroe avenue will come up.
As Dunn Brothers' bid is $2.23 per

$2.58 it would appear that the committee has an easy task before it, but this is far from the case. Representative of the Barber company will be at the meeting, prepared to show the commit tee that Dunn Brothers have never laid a yard of asphalt pavement, haven't got the appliances to do the work and cannot give the city the pave which the specifications call for without losing money; wherefore, they will contend, the city will be making a questionable bargain. Dunn Brothers on the other hand will say "there is our bond" to guarantee that they will do the work in a satisfactory manner.
