General Grosvenor Says Its All Over But the Shouting.

ONE BALLOT WILL DECIDE IT

Reed Men, However, Continue to Hope, Notwithstanding the Discouraging Outlook-Congressmen Aldrich's Statement.

Washington, May 10 .- General Grosvenor in his weekly bulletin relating to the Republican presidential nomina-tion, issued tonight, insists that it is all

"I do not deem it vitally important" he says, "to issue the builetin. Everybody who has knowledge enough to be significant and candor enough to be manly knows that this contest is over and that no earthly power can prevent the nomination of McKinley on the first

"In this connection it may be stated that there is great interest being taken by the masses of the Republican party of the country in the nomination of president this year, more so, than has ever been taken by the people since I have known anything about politics, and the power of public opinion that has crushed combinations and humilisted bosses and murched in triumph ated bosses and marched in triumph over the great body of the states, is abundantly capable of realizing the fruition of the victories it has won." fident, of the ultimate success of their candidate before the convention.

"Up to date there have been elected $32 out of a total of 918 delegates, of which number it is reasonable to say Governor McKinley, excluding the contested cases, will have 361 votes. Concerning the latter we will not prejudice the action of the convention. The number of delegates yet to be elected is eighty-six. Should be succeed in capturing them all—and be ceed in capturing them all-and be not get one-half of them-he still fall short of the necessary majority, and must then rely upon the con-tested cases to give him the nomina-

"All Republicans favor protection but it is quite evident that the tariff will not be the sole issue of the campaiga for a new and more important element now commands public attention—the money question. The straddling platform will never do, nor can any candi-date who was even on it gain the full confidence of the people. It is for this teason, and because we believe that sentiment is undergoing a rapid and radical change in that particular that we are convinced the candid, sober judgment of the delegates after the deliberation which will be had between now and the 16th of June will nominate Mr. Reed because he best represents the great business interests of the financial world and the American people."

TOM PLATT'S OPINION.

lle Thinks That Mckinley Will Get the Republican Party Into Trouble. New York, May 10 .- Ex-Senator Platt continues to maintain that the nominee of the Republican national convention will not be William McKinley and tonight he made a statement of the grounds of his opinion and the reason why, in his judgment, another candidate would win. Said Mr. Platt:

"The convention will contain 910 delegates. It will require 460 to nominate.

According to the figures printed in the Pribune this morning, which are not in all respects in accord with the facts as I understand them, the delegates in-structed for McKinley number 310. "This is 150 votes short of a nomination and only 88 delegates remain to be chosen. When the time comes to vote in the convention McKinley's support will be little in excess of the number consider themselves bound by instruction.

"My opinion as to Governor McKinley proceeds almost entirely from my be-lief that he will get the Republican party into turmoil and trouble. He is not a well-balanced man of affairs as Governor Morton is. He is not a great man, as Senator Allison is. He is not an astute political leader as Senator Quay is. He is simply a clever gentle-man, much too amiable and much too impressionable to be safely intrusted with great executive office, whose quest for honor happens to have the accidental advantage of the association of his name with the last Republican protective term.

"Mr. McKinley, as I think the Tribune recently remarked, had really less with the industrial law than had Governor Dingley or Senator Aldridge. But simply because of his position as chairman of the ways and means com-mittee of the Fifty-first congress it has borne his name, and there seems to be a good many people who labor under the impression that he wrote it line for line, and that everything it em-bodies originated in his colossal intel-lect. I would deny him one jot or title of the credit that really belongs to him. but it is most unhandsome to defraud others of the credit that belongs to

"Now, if the Republicans are successful in the next campaign, as seems so probable today, there are two great questions in which are involved the earning capacity of every citizen, that we shall have to settle. They are the tariff question and the currency ques-

WHAT WE DON'T WANT. "The American people have shown that they don't want a radical tariff in any direction. What they do want is a protective tariff so devised as to make a protective tariff so devised as to make up taxes on foreign articles that compete with our own for the difference between the price of labor here and abroad. Mr. McKinley represents the most radical and extreme view of protection. I foresee the greatest dangers to the Republican party as the result of extreme tariff legislation. In the first place, long before the bill has become a law the country will be flooded with foreign goods which must be sold and consumed before domestic produc-ers will feel the effect of the new law. Business will not revive on the instant that a kepublican president is elected, and during all the period when the bill is under discussion and until the immense flood of foreign goods has disappeared into consumption, we shall have to defend our measure. It should be, therefore, a safe, healthy and ra-"Fully as important as the tariff bill, yes, more so, is that measure which must be devised to render our currency system intelligible, safe and elastic. If Major McKinley has any real convictions on the subject of the currency they are not revealed in his votes or his pracches. He were the state of the currency they are not revealed in his votes or his pracches. they are not revealed in his votes or his speeches. He voted once for the free and unlimited coinage of silver. He voted to override the veto by Presi-dent Hayes of the Bland bill, and at different times he has voted in direct conflict with these votes. He has de-scribed himself as 'bimetallist' as in fa-vor of the free coinage of both metals. His Ohio platform proposes another ex-periment in silver coinage such as the His Onio platform proposes another ex-periment in silver coinage such as the Bland-Allison act or the Sherman law with the parity between the metals en-forced by legislation. This in my optu-ion, should and will remove Mr. McKin-ley from the list of presidential possi-bilities by the time the Republican con-vention meets.

SILVER ARGUMENT.

"The people of this country have had enough of the attempt to force fifty cents worth of silver into circulation as a dollar. They have suffered incalculable losses as the result of twenty years of that holley. I am creditably informed that the instruction for Mc-Kinley by the California convention was obtained by the promise on the part of his managers of a cabinet office and by the further promise that he would sign any silver legislation that could be got through the next congress. This pledge is safe enough perhaps, since the next congress is not likely to pass any silver legislation, but the sense of the bromise was an effort by the McKinley managers to show that their candidate was friendly to silver. Every business man knows that the line has got to be drawn sharply and distinctly against every public man whose words cents worth of silver into circulation as against every public man whose words threaten the country and its business interests with any further debasement of he currency or with any more of those losses and sacrifices which have fellowed every effort to force silver upon the country. The Republican can-didate for president must be a man who instead of occupying an equivocal position on this subject stands out firming as an advocate of sound and thorough reform of the currency with gold as the standard of value, and such a

They are not going to de-termine the destiny of their party in any 'hurray boys' spirit. Mr. McKinley is still many votes short of a nomina-tion, and when the delegates get together and compare notes, they will realize that their candidate should be a wise, temperate, constrivative, educated statesman, with definite policies, fixed opinions and a safe record.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

Three Persons Lose Their Lives-Property Loss Estimated at $500,000- Lumbe Yard in Ashes.

Ashland, Wis., May 10.—One of the nost destructive fires in the history of northern Wisconsin, occurred here this morning. Special trains brought the fire departments from Washburn and near by towns to render assistance. At least three persons lost their lives and the property loss is nearly $500,000. The dead are: Peter Engedman,

John Nolander and Ole Olson. Nearly 20,000,000 feet of lumber was burned. The mill was surrounded by water and wooden tramways leading to the shore. When the flames burst out in great volume and enveloped the mill and the dock, all the men but four succeeded in reaching the tramways. The origin of the fire is still a mystery, but it is presumed that a spark from some employe's pipe started the lumber pile and W. R. Durfee's dock. The dis-tance between Durfees and the Shores Lumber company's docks is only fifty feet. The fire jumped across the short stretch of water in fifteen minutes after it had streted. The Keystone Lum. ber compa s mills and other mills were shut down after the fire started and all of the employes flocked to Havana, May 10.—The report reaches here from the United States that Captain General Weyler has notified Secretary of State Olney that the Americans captured on the schooner Competitor, will be executed in accordance with the sentence of the court martial which tried them, despite the protest of Mr. Olney. It is not known here that the captain general has done anything of the kind. The attitude of the German govern-ment toward England is now coldly neutral and implies that Germany will not exert immediately any direct in-fluence in South Africa, but the popular sympathy with the Beers and the gen-eral contempt for English methods have become so strong that the government may be constrained to adopt some form of German interference in South Africa before long.
