While the call for a meeting of the Lackawanna Institute of History and Science did not develop a quorum in the board of trade rooms last night, the few present examined with interest the plans for an institute building submitted by Architect Davis. The trustees have not yet arranged for a structure nor for its location, although it is reasonably certain that within the next two years the institute will have its home in Nay Aug park. To this end a number of building plans have been submitted by certain architects, anticipating the building movement. Papers were to have been read last night by Attorney J. D. Regan on "The Direct Application of the Sun's Rays," and by Attorney J. D. Regan on "The Duty of the State to Establish Public Museums." No meeting of the institute will now be held until September.

A Word About Corsets. If you wear a Corset why not wear one that adds to your comfort, instead of detracting from it, that beautifies your personal appearance, instead of making you seem misshapen and un-graceful. We are introducing the FLEXIBONI MOULDED CORSET. As its name implies it is a perfectly Plexible Corset and its as if moulded to the form. Miss Litchfield, an expert corset fitter, will be in attendance all this week. You are invited to call and examine the goods, there is no obligation to buy.

DID NOT SEE THE FIGHT.

Bees Returns from the Land of the Sage Bush and Cattle Puncher. About two years ago Harold Bees, aged 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Bees, of Danville, disappeared from home. No trace was discovered of the lad until two months later, when his Sunday school teacher received a letter from the boy, in which the runaway youth the boy, in which the runaway youth stated that he was going to Texas to witness the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight. The parents of the boy sent word and descriptions to the police of nearly every city in Texas in the endeavor to locate the lad, but in vain. They finally gave him up for dead and some time ago removed to this city.

REPENTED OF THE BARGAIN.

The Turn of Events Caused the Husband to Arrest Ilis Wife Whom He Loaned to Another Man as a Housekeeper.

About 10 o'clock last evening, Anton Yonker, a German employed at the plant of the Scranton fron Fence com-pany, appeared at the office of Alderman Railey and procured a warrant for the arrest of Alex Loserd, on the charge of making threats. In giving informa-tion against the man wanted in the case Yonker told an interesting story of domestic life. According to his story, Loserd, who is a South Side steel worker, separated from his wife, Annie, about three years ago. Upon leaving her husband, Mrs. Loserd, who is a good looking woman, about 45 years old, had no way of earning a living, except in the capacity of a housekeeper.
About a year ago, Yonker, who is a bachelor, 65 years old, desired to secure the services of Mrs. Loserd as housekeeper. The woman was willing to labor for Yonker, but feared her husband. Anton then went to Loserd. he states, and the latter signed a paper giving his full consent to the arrangements, and promising not to molest them. Mrs. Loserd went to work for Yonker and presided over his apart-ments on Deacon street. All went well until last evening, when Loserd sud-denly appeared accompanied by Special Officer Byers and arrested Mrs. Loserd on a serious charge. At the same time, it is alleged, Loserd threatened the life of Yonker. When Loserd and the officer stormed the residence of Mr. Yonker, the latter made his escape by jumping through a small window in the rear of the house. When the constable rear of the house. When the constable and his prisoner started, as they stat-ed, for the county jail, Yonker hast-ened-to the office of the alderman and made his complaint. He also brought Mr. Krugerman, manager of the fence works, who was prepared to become bondsman for Mrs. Loserd. They went before Alderman Millar at 11 o'clock last night and secured the release of Mrs. Loserd, who had been incarcerat-ed in the station house, giving $500 bail for her appearance at court.

Constable Block, late last night, was looking for Loserd and Special Officer Tierney was seeking Mr. Yonker. One of the allegations which Loserd makes

P. Elkin with reference to the protec-tion of timber land against forest fires. In view of the fierce and destructive forest fires that have for over a week been raging in the East and West mountains hereabouts the subject of the communication is of special importance. It states that the law of Pennsylvania mposes upon the commissioners of the everal counties the duty of appointing persons under oath, who shall be required to ferret out and bring to punishment all persons who wilfully or otherwise cause the burning of timber lands, and to take measures to have uch fires extinguished where it can be done, the expense to be paid out of the county treasury. District Attorney Jones will lay the matter before the commissioners and will co-operate with them in preventing forest fires and in apprehending and punishing persons who start such fires wilfully or negligently.

DIGBY BELL FRIDAY NIGHT. Will Be Seen in Hoyt's Comedy, "A Mid-

The favorite comedian, Digby Bell, will be seen in this city for the first time in the character of "Deacon Tidd" in the depiction of which he has, according to the various exchanges, scored an emphatic success. Laura Joyce-Bell, the eminent contraito, will also be seen in the role of the spinster, "Lizzie Grout," her characterization of which the eminent play-wright, Charles M. More stated has never before been H. Moyt, stated has never before been approached or equalled in any particu-lar. The supporting company is an admirable one, and contains the names of many well-known favorites in this city. The scenery for the presentation here is entirely new, and was painted by Arthur Voegtlin.

When the idea of issuing a woman's paper to start a building fund for the Young Women's Christian association first took form, there were some fears expressed as to the ability of the women with little or no experience in newspa-per work to get out a live, up-to-date newspaper. It has been demonstrated that these fears were entirely groundless, and the number and character of the articles received for the paper shows that there is an abundance of literary ability hereabouts. The thir-ty pages of "Our Woman's Newspaper," which will be issued from The Tribune press tomorrow morning will teem with weil written articles touching every topic of current thought, all of which are of more than passing interest. So great was the number of first-class contributions received and so persistent the demands of advertisers for space that the original intention as to the size of the paper had to be aban-doned and the number of pages in-creased to thirty.

The greater part of the work on this colossal paper is done and it will be issued tomorrow morning on schedule time. It is deserving of liberal patron-age from the people of this city and its vicinity because of the worthy object the enterprise is conducted for if for no
