WEST SIDE EVENTS.

Bieyele Club Organized by a Number of Well-Known Young Men-Committees Appointed

The West Side has a bicycle club at last. The talk of the past several weeks formed into fact last night, when about thirty young men assembled in the rooms of the Colonial club, in Mears' rooms of the Colonial club, in Mears hall and took the first step toward or ganization. Edwin G. Peters explained the meaning of the call. He dwelt at length upon the need of a bicycle club and called for nominations for tempor-ary secretary. C. H. Derby was named and elected. David Owens and Mr. Derby made speeches in behalf of the

Then the permanent officers were elected. Messrs, Peters and Derby were retained in the positions to which they had been temporarily appointed. David Owens was elected first vice-president and Harry Francis second. G. R. Realph received the highest vote for corresponding secretary, and Bert Green, jr., was elected financial secre-tary. J. J. Davies, the South Main avenue pharmacist, received an unanimous endorsement for treasurer. The club captain is Charles E. Bertine. The capiam is Charles E. Bertine. The other officers are: Charles Softly, first licutenant; H. B. Warner, second licutenant. A committee to select a club house was named as follows: W. Bertine, Charles, Charles, Charles, C. J. Welsh, jr., John J. Davies, W. F. Bush.

The committee to prepare constitution and by-laws is as follows: C. H. Derby, Eugene Fellows, jr., D. Owens, John Owens and Duncan Hall; committee on name, club colors and device, Morgan, Arch McCracken and Richard Thomas, jr. A resolution was passed thanking the Green Ridge Wheelman's club for their offer of the use of the club room or any other favor that the West Side organization may wish. The new club is not only composed of young men from this section, but from every part of the city.

CONVENTION TODAY.

A convention of the Welsh Baptist churches of the Northeastern Pennsylvanta district and the Young People's Baptist union, which is connected with the churches, will begin this evening at the First Welsh Baptist church, South Main avenue, Delegates f South Main avenue. Delegates from all over this part of the country are expected to attend.

The meetings will continue for four days, Sunday morning being devoted to preaching and praise service. This evening the union will have charge. The programe is a good one and the attendance will be large.

FOUR YEARS OF LIFE.

Martha Washington chapter, No. 3, Order of Eastern Star, celebrated its fourth anniversary last evening in St. David's hall. Professor H. L. Morgan presided over an entertainment which was delightful chiefly because of variety. Those who participated were: Miss Cora Griffin, of the North End; Miss Cora Griffin, of the North End; Miss Daisy Poole, planist; Joseph Grey, comic soloist; J. W. Knedler, of Elmhurst, planist; Eddie and Edith Davis, juvenile singers; Loia Fellows and Lizzle Heiser, plano duettists, and Miss Annie Williams, planist. The Misses Godshall and Margaret Jones sang a duett. Addresses were made by A. B. Holmes and W. Gaylord Thomas. The trend of the talks was in the interest of the order. Mr. Thomas extended a welcome to the guests in a courteous manner. Miss Griffin's selection was "Christmas at the Quarters" and it was very finely rendered. After the entertainment refreshments were served by a corps of walters and waitresses. The committee in charge of the celebration plantage of the celebration of the committee in charge is Mesdames Asker, Gardner, Seward, Alvoid, Dunn, Hopewell, Thomas and Van Storch and entertainment refreshments were served by a corps of waiters and waitresses.

RECKLESS BICYCLISTS

D. W. Thomas, of South Main avenue, was knocked down and slightly in-jured last night by a "schorcher" on Mashburn street. Mr. Thomas was crossing the street from Hyde Park avenue when the wheelman, who was coming up Washburn street at a fast pace, struck and threw the gentleman to the pavement. Mr. Thomas was budly cut upon the hands and his clothing was torn. Wednesday evening a boy bicyclist was speeding down Chest-nut street. When Jackson was reached the rider and a city-bound street car narrowly averted colliding. The boy's bicycle struck the car fender and was shoved to one side.
