On Monday night the Kennedy Players will open a week's engagement at the Frothingham presenting "A Mid-night Express." Among the many ex-cellent theatrical celebrities to be found in the roster of "Kennedy Players" are several universally and deservedly pop-ular names. An artiste and beautiful vocalist is Miss Emma de Castro. That unusually jolly soubrette, Miss Leonore Hassen, adds zest to any character she assumes. George Barbler is rapidly gaining reputation as one of the most promising romantic actors before the public. The name of the comedian, John J. Kennedy is a household word, and is an absolute guarantee that when he's around "there's fun." This com-pany will give a change of bill nightly. Popular prices, 10, 20 and 30, prevail for the engagement. On Monday evening ladles will be admitted free when accompanied by a thirty-cent paid admis-
