WEST SIDE EVENTS.

Summer Avenue Presbyterian Church is Entering Upon a New Era of Prosperity.

The Summer Avenue Presbyterian church is being placed on a safe and prosperous footing. The recent financial difficulties, far from scaring away the faithful few, have had the effect of stimulating them to great exertions. Thanks to some noble Scrantonians, with Rev. C. E. Robinson, D. D., at their head, the requisite outside aid is pouring in. Over $1,200 has already been raised in this way. Rev. John Griffith has supplied the pulpit during the last eight months, and arrangements are being made for a permanent pastoral settlement.

Rev. J. P. Moffatt, pastor of the Washburn Street Presbyterian church, has rendered invaluable service at a critical time by his counsel and sympathy while acting as moderator of the session. All West Siders have cause to rejoice at this intelligence, as they would undoubtedly feel sorry were one of their fortresses against the power of evil silenced, which at one time seemed the inevitable fate of the Summer Avenue church.

An entertainment under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal church will be given sometime in the early part of next month.

Last Monday two strangers visited Providence. They came into town with a bay horse and a two-wheeled cart, much the worse for hard driving, and secured board at W. B. Evans', on Wilbur street, and fed their horse. They claimed that they were about to start in the milk business and left for Chinchilla, where they intended to see Norman Leach. Instead of going to Mr. Leach's they strolled around town and passing Horn's hotel they saw a horse tied to a post outside the hotel, owned by Walter Pratt, the liverman and driven by Ben Kohler and John Hollingsworth and they saw a bay animal and had stopped on their way back. The two would-be milk dealers saw an opportunity for securing a new horse and immediately took possession of it and drove off. The men left their valise at their new boarding house. It was examined by Officer Rodham and found to contain some old underwear. The horse owned by Pratt was a bay animal with a white star in forehead with a shoe boot on left front leg. The wagon was a new frame box carriage, built last night in Brown's hall. The horse was ten years old. The turnout is valued at $200.
