WALL STREET STORY ON MR. MCKINLEY

Russell Sage insists that the Tariff Champion is a Gold Bug. STOCKS RALLY IN CONSEQUENCE

VERMONT'S VOTE. Boston, Mass., May 21.—A special in tonight's Transcript from St. Albans, Vt., says in part: "Senator Edmunds has written a letter to at least one of the delegates chosen to represent Vermont at the national convention at St. Louis in which he virtually expressed disgust at the action of the Green Mountain voters in taking a stand which makes it practically imperative that their delegates vote for McKinley at St. Louis."

PROF. SUMNER EMPHATIC. He is Dissatisfied With the Press, the Doctrine and the Government—An Important Question Remains.

New Haven, Conn., May 21.—Professor W. G. Sumner, head of the department of the social science and political economy at Yale, has addressed a ringing letter to the Yale Alumni weekly relative to a recent article on the Venezuelan question. He uses the following strong language: "The method is arbitrary, unjust and unscientific and it is a sign of half-education to use it. An appeal to 'patriotism' has been an appeal to 'patriotism' and 'Americanism' I should like, above all things, to see the method of patriotic propaganda in the hands of the people of this country. I should like to see a man of a cowboy when he terrorizes a village to come to me that men of responsibility can look upon it with only mingled shame, contempt and regret."

PRAISE FOR MR. TERRELL. Missionaries Speak Highly of the Work of the United States Minister to Turkey—Mr. Dodge's Statement.

New York, May 21.—William E. Dodge, one of the committee of the Missionary boards who had a conference last Friday with President Cleveland, at which it was said, certain charges were preferred against United States Minister Terrell accusing him of misrepresenting this government in Constantinople, was seen today by a representative of the United States, to whom he explained the errand of the committee to Washington. He said: "A committee of gentlemen interested in the work of American missionaries in Turkey went to Washington last week to confer with the president and the state department in regard to the position and work of the missionaries and American societies in Turkey and to talk over the treaty rights on the subject. "The Rev. Henry G. Dwight, who is thoroughly conversant with these affairs, was invited to accompany us and the president asked Minister Terrell to be present at the conference, if it were convenient. Simply an informal talk was had upon the questions and no conclusions were reached. Minister Terrell's name was mentioned, but only in the kindest way and in warm words of praise. The Rev. Mr. Dwight told of the good work Mr. Terrell had done for the state department in regard to the position and work of the missionaries and American societies in Turkey. Not an unkind word was spoken of Mr. Terrell. "During an incidental conversation about the Turkish court, it was suggested that in view of the peculiar condition of affairs in that country, it might be well in the future to select one of our most thoroughly

OLNEY ENTERS PROTEST.

Vigorous Objections Made to General Weyer's Tobacco Trust—Instructions for Williams.

Washington, May 21.—Secretary Olney has instructed Minister Taylor to make vigorous representations to the Spanish government relative to the recent edict prohibiting the exportation of tobacco from Cuba, on the grounds that it amounts to the practical confiscation of goods in Cuba, owned by Americans. The data on which the edict is based, supplied by the collectors of the Florida ports, show that the cigar men of Tampa alone have 5700,000 worth of tobacco in Cuba and that for all the other Florida ports there is as much more. It will be impossible for the merchants to get this property out of Cuba without the aid of the United States consul. Minister Taylor has been instructed to make such representations to Spain as will secure ample time in which to secure this property. It is believed that Mr. Olney's note will accomplish this result. If it does not, other means will be taken.

Cleland, of Du-ruth, Iowa, was recognized by the moderator in nominating the name of Francis C. Montford, D. D., LL. D., of Cincinnati as a candidate for the moderatorship. He spoke of the confidence that the body had in the ability and announcement of Dr. Montford's election.

BAPTISTS AT ASBURY. The Ardor of Two Thousand Delegates Not Dampened by Rain—Mr. Doollittle on the Prophet Daniel.

Asbury Park, N. J., May 21.—A steady rain this afternoon did not dampen the ardor of the Baptists, who are here to attend the annual conference of the denomination. The auditorium was comfortably filled when President Crozer called the assembly to order for the second day's proceedings. Professor H. C. Vedder, Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee on publishing department, made the opening address and read the report of his committee. Doollittle, of Wisconsin, urged the publication of a work on the United States of America in the light of prophecy as well as history. He said the Prophet Daniel had foretold the time when he said that the people shall govern themselves. He said that whether McKinley or Cleveland be the next president matters not, the republic would go on and that it will revolutionize the earth. He said we have nearly repudiated Great Britain, and that before long we will have a republic in Asia, one in the Orient, and monarchy shall be a thing of the past.

WILLIAMSPORT SELECTED. Next Session of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows Will Be Held There.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 21.—At the opening of the session of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows a petition was presented protesting against the election of Samuel McKever as grand warrant. It was referred to a committee to report at the next semi-annual session. The remainder of the morning and afternoon sessions were taken up with the adoption of the revised constitution. The only important changes related to the finances, the main bone of contention being the clause providing for an annual assessment of 25 cents per year from each member for the support of the homes. This was changed to 500 yearly for charity, in addition to the regular revenues for that purpose. The revised constitution was finally adopted along with the clause in question. WilliamSPORT was unanimously selected as the place for the next annual session of the grand lodge.

BUILDING COLLAPSED

Score of Persons Buried in Ruins of a Buffalo Shell—List of the Killed and Injured. Buffalo, N. Y., May 21.—A section of the Buffalo street front of Brown's building collapsed at 9:20 o'clock this morning, burying a score of people in the ruins. George Metz, a barber, and Jennie Griffith, cashier in the barber shop, are dead; William P. Straub, a contractor, is believed to be in the ruins and a doctor who is near by has been unable to find him. Those who are injured are: Jacob Landau, laborer, scalp torn and head contused; William Shearer, steam fitter, scalp wounds and body bruised; Jacob Rieckman, barber, injured about body and head; S. L. Hawke, cigar dealer, skull fractured; James Adams, steam wiper, scalp wounds and injured hip; Michael O'Brien, carpenter, wrenched back and scalp wounds; Joseph Duffell, plasterer, injured internally; Edward Murphy, shoemaker, right arm injured; Fritz Formaldeman, laborer, badly bruised. The building, corner of Main and Second streets, was filled with offices, many of which were occupied, and on the ground floor on both Main and Second streets, were stores occupied by the building. The work of remodeling and strengthening it. On the second story the workmen were engaged in putting in pipes and columns and beams and new foundations for them. Nos. 8 and 10 Second street were unoccupied, the principal alterations being made at that point. No. 12 was occupied by a barber shop by Mr. Shearer, and No. 14 by James Cleary's jewelry store and Thomas Jones' news stand. In Shearer's barber shop were nine barbers, a cutter and several customers. When the crash occurred, all made a rush for the front door, but the falling beams drove them to the rear where they lead to Washington street. Those in front rushed into the alley only to be met by the falling rear walls, under which Metz was buried and killed. The others crowded to a corner of the shop until the available space, when they made their way out. The cashier had her feet in the front of the shop behind a counter. She was unable to get out of it in time to join the others and perished beneath the fallen wall. The search for the missing began and the ruins were worked over in the hope of finding the bodies of the missing. Straub and Jennie Griffith, who were known to be somewhere among the mass of wreckage. Shortly before 6 o'clock the body of Miss Griffith was found and removed to the morgue. Straub's body has not yet been found. At 12:30 a. m. the body of a man about 25 years old, whose name is reported as Dickie, a laborer, was found in a searching party in the rear of the building.

STORMY SCENES AT T. A. B. CONVENTION

Editor James F. Judge Defeated for Union President. ATTEMPT TO CRITICISE A PREST M. J. O'TOOLE CREATED A STORM BY A MOTION OF PROTEST HE MADE—THE PER CAPITA TAX QUESTION WAS STRADDLED BY CUTTING THE SECRETARY'S SALARY—OLD OFFICERS RE-ELECTED. Next Convention at Nanticoke.

Special from a Staff Correspondent.

Freeland, Pa., May 21.—One thing is certain, and the ones who admit it most freely are men of conservative judgment, the thing is, that the Catholic Total Abstinence union of the Scranton Diocese is in dire need of a capacious injection of elixir of life, if it is to be preserved from a premature demise. The convention adjourned this afternoon at 4 o'clock. All the old officers were re-elected. Editor James F. Judge, chairman of the convention, some time next January, the retiring president, for the office of chief executive of the union, and this competition was produced by the action of the convention. The next convention will meet in Nanticoke. Though the delegates were royally entertained last night by the local society with an elaborate ball, and though they were at mass in St. Ann's church this morning, these facts did not conduce to serenity of temper. Just as soon as the convention opened the delegates unshathed their tomahawks, ready for the fray. They were impatient to get a whack at something, not having much of chance to get in any of that work the day before for some reason or another, not that they were not in the humor for it, however. The committee that had been appointed on constitutional amendments had nothing to do, and they so reported. They will meet at the call of D. A. Mackin, the chairman, some time next January. But the report of the committee on ways and means was expectedly awaited. When this committee reported a course of the session was averted. Some delegates arose and advocated an increase in the per capita tax to increase the assets of the union, saying that the funds were insufficient. He had scarcely declared himself when he was notified that if the per capita tax were increased, several societies would withdraw from the union. The matter was then referred to a committee on ways and means.

MR. LAVAN'S REPORT.

Charles Lavan, of Wilkes-Barre, chairman of the committee, read the report. The committee dodged the per capita tax question altogether and recommended that the salary of the secretary be reduced from $150 a year to $75; that the delegates to the national conventions receive no more than $50 each for the trip, this to include their car fare; that the diocesan union run an excursion to Mountain Park or some other resort on Oct. 10, 1897; that the ways and means committee be instructed to abide by the contract made by the board of government with the railroad companies relative to transportation rates in connection with the Oct. 10 parade. A motion was made that the report be adopted and after much debate it was lost. The different recommendations were then taken up singly. The question of reducing the secretary's salary brought forth a large sized kick, but even the ones opposed to scaling the salary down, said that the contract should be cut some but not cut in two. An amendment to reduce it to $100 a year was carried. Then the reorganization of national delegates was taken up. A far seeing delegate brought out the fact that it was unconstitutional to reduce the pay of national delegates, inasmuch as the convention last year fixed the rate at $1 a day and car fare. A motion was then made to repeal the action of the Carbonate convention in this respect. President O'Hara said an attempt was made to reconsider the same thing yesterday and he confessed that he was not sufficiently posted on parliamentary usage to know whether or not the same thing could be twice considered.

COUNCIL RULES QUOTED.

Advice was sought among the knowing ones. M. J. O'Toole quoted Scranton council rules and Peter McCoy had something to say about it. Mr. O'Toole offered another suggestion that was approved. He thought that the union is a legislative body, enacting laws for its own welfare, and it ought not to make any difference whether twice reconsidering a thing was allowed or not; if the majority of the delegates were in favor of a second reconsideration, why go ahead and reconsider it; that was all. After a good deal of further debate, the matter was reconsidered and it was then decided to fix the pay of the national delegates, who will go to the St. Louis convention next summer, at the rate of $100 a year, including the cost of the ways and means committee. The other recommendations suggested were given the go-by. President O'Hara left the chair at this time and Vice-President McCoy took his place. Mr. McCoy declared the election of officers in order, but before any one had time to nominate his favorite, M. J. O'Toole said, before going into that order, he wanted to enter a protest against the action of Rev. A. P. Doyle, of New York, secretary of the National Catholic Total Abstinence union, in expunging from the minutes of the last convention anything but a mere reference to the minority report presented by Rev. Father Zereber, of Buffalo, denouncing the manufacture of beer by the Benedictine monks at Pittsburg. Mr. O'Toole characterized Father Doyle's action as gross and glaring and he made a motion that the delegates from the union to the St. Louis convention next summer be instructed to bring the matter up and have the minutes corrected. Hon. John Kelly, of Carbonate, expressed great sorrow that Father Doyle should be charged with falsifying the minutes, which he would be branded as having done if Mr. O'Toole's motion was carried. He believed if Father Doyle left anything out of the minutes, he did it for the best interest of the union. Some big delegate in the rear of the hall said the priests are as liable to err as any body else and ought not to be excused. President O'Hara advised that the matter be dropped. He said there is a motive and a reason for every act a man does, and Father Doyle, whom they all knew and revered, having heard of him on the platform through his diocese last summer in the cause of temperance, (Continued on Page 3.)
