Owen E. Evans and Catherine E. Jones, of Pleasant Valley, Luzerne county, were granted a marriage license by Judge of the Courts Thomas yesterday. They were married later in the day by Alderman Fuller.

Neither of the school board committees made visits yesterday owing to the inclement weather. The Lackawanna school committee will pursue its inspection today and the building committee will start out again next week.

Supreme Archon M. G. Cohen, of the Improved Order Heptasophs, is expected to pay an official visit to the city during the month of June. The exact date of his coming has not yet been decided upon.

A team of horses owned by John T. Porter became frightened while standing in the rear of the store yesterday morning and ran away. At Lackawanna avenue and Cliff street the wagon collided with a telegraph pole and was wrecked.

John Look, a Detroit, Michigan, burglar, in a spirit of playfulness threw a cobble stone at Patrolman Schmidt on Fifth avenue Wednesday night and in the confusion of the moment the officer fired his revolver. Alderman Wright yesterday fined him $2, in default of which he went up for ten days.

An action for trespass against the Scranton Traction company was brought yesterday by M. W. Farnsworth and Samuel A. Wagon driven by Mr. Henry was struck by an electric car in Green Ridge. The Honays are represented by Attorney E. V. Newcomb.

An unmarried colored woman named Stevens and a Mrs. C. C. C. were engaged in a street fight Wednesday night. Mrs. Hull had the Stevens woman arrested yesterday and the case is now in the hands of Alderman Miller to answer in court the charge of assault and battery.

The Western Union telegraph company has opened a branch office at 34 Lackawanna avenue, to accommodate the wholesale and commission business in the wholesale block. They have put in direct wire going north, south, east and west, and equipped the office with local messenger service wires.

Two drunken men were riding about town yesterday afternoon in a reckless manner and were cautioned by the police several times to be more careful, but they heeded not the warnings and as a consequence had a runaway which resulted in both of them going to jail. One of them was badly cut about the head by the animal.

Jeremiah Chune, county tax collector of the Fifth ward of Carbonade, yesterday filed his bond in the sum of $1,000 with Promontory Trust company. The sureties are McCabe and John Chune. The bond of Edward Piller, tax collector of the First ward of this city, was also filed with the promontory. It is in the sum of $2,000, with Alexander Simpson, James B. Davis, E. C. Credin and John Mitchell as sureties.

SAID HE HAD RELIGION.

Police Officers Called By Another Name and Locked Him Up.

Sergeant Dettler and Patrolman Day were summoned to the corner of Seventh and West Lackawanna avenue last evening, where they found a well-dressed old man with a crowd of children about him to whom he was distributing candy and singing gospel hymns.

He claimed to have religion, but after diagnosing the case the officers concluded he had wheels, and took him to the central station house. He gave his name as Edward Sherwood, and his residence Jefferson township, near No. 21 plane. His civil condition he stated was widower without child or child, excepting an old pet hen, which he left setting in the house, and which he feared would starve if he was not allowed to go to her rescue. He also claimed to have left a valuable horse in his stable, which had had nothing to eat since noon, and would get nothing to eat until he returned.

He talked rationally enough, except on religion. This subject as soon as introduced made him betray his mania.

OFFICERS OF GRAND COUNCIL ELECTED

Permanent Existence of Pennsylvania Grand Council Ushered In.

MR. GILLERAN GRAND PRESIDENT

The Other Scrantonians Who Were Honored With Officers—Next Meeting Will Be Held in Philadelphia. Delegates Tendered a Banquet at the St. Charles Last Night.

The Pennsylvania Grand Council of the Young Men's Institute became a permanent institution yesterday. A constitution and by-laws for its government was adopted and grand officers elected and installed. The convention which has been in session in College hall for the last three days adjourned sine die.

After the opening of yesterday morning's session the report of the committee of the whole on the constitution and by-laws was taken up and adopted after some argument and a few modifications. Greetings were received from the Louisville committee and from the Pacific Grand Council and Supreme President McDiade.

By resolution of J. J. Keogh, of New York, adopted by the grand council, the Pennsylvania jurisdiction recognizes the authority and accepts the laws adopted at Denver by the supreme council as paramount and binding on all jurisdictions in the interest of harmony and good of the order to accept the work of the supreme council. The new insurance plan was also approved. The Pennsylvania jurisdiction recognizes the authority and accepts the laws adopted at Denver by the supreme council as paramount and binding on all jurisdictions in the interest of harmony and good of the order to accept the work of the supreme council. The new insurance plan was also approved.

M. J. Donahoe, of this city, introduced an addition to the constitution which permits the organization of a junior rank of the Young Men's Institute for boys between the ages of 15 and 19. Such members are not to have the right of voting and are to be subject to the discipline of the order in this community.

THE RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

The following resolutions were submitted and approved:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Pennsylvania grand council be hereby extended to Rev. J. A. O'Reilly for the use of his hall for the sessions of the grand council, which were held here.

Resolved, That this grand council extend its thanks to the committee of the order for the very kind notices of the delegates and reports of the proceedings.

Resolved, That the thanks of the grand council be and are hereby extended to the presiding officers and also to Charles B. Adams, grand secretary, for the faithful performance of the respective duties.

Resolved, That the unanimous thanks of the council be tendered to Brother John J. Keogh, of New York, for his masterly work in framing and perfecting the new constitution of the Pennsylvania grand council.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

After the finance committee had submitted its report fixing the per capita tax at $1.25 the council proceeded to the election of officers. Very Rev. P. J. Keogh, of Philadelphia, was made grand chief, P. H. Gilleran and M. J. Donahoe, of this city, and P. W. I. Gilfoyle, of Carnegie, were nominated for grand president, and Mr. Gilleran was grand president-elect.

Mr. Donahoe was grand first vice-president, M. J. Donahoe and Mr. Griffin were unanimously elected. P. J. Daly, of Philadelphia, was grand second vice-president. His opponent was J. O'Reilly, of this city. The nominees for grand secretary were W. J. Kelley, Jr., of Pittsburgh, and C. E. Adams, of Altoona. Mr. Kelly was elected. J. A. Keenan, of McDonald, and C. R. Adams of Altoona, were placed in nomination for treasurer and Mr. Adams was selected. W. H. Merrick, of Carnegie, was unopposed for grand marshal. W. H. Gillespie, of Pittston, was the unanimous choice of the grand council for lecturer and organizer.

J. J. Keogh, of New York; T. P. McCornick, of Forest City; E. McDonald, of Carbonade, and P. J. Ruddy, of Miner's Mills, were elected grand directors for a term of two years each.

M. J. Donahoe, of Pittston; E. P. McDonald, of Carbonade; E. P. McKeen, of Scranton; and T. P. Carroll, of Scranton, were elected grand directors for the one year term.

After selecting Philadelphia as the next place of meeting the new officers were installed by Deputy Supreme President Adams and the grand council adjourned.

BANQUET AT NIGHT.

Last night the councils of Scranton, West Scranton, South Scranton, Minooka and Dunmore, entertained the delegates with a banquet at the St. Charles hotel. Proprietor Melvin prepared a very tempting menu for the occasion, and the services were excellent. It was ten o'clock when the party proceeded to the dining hall of the hotel where the feast was spread. Those who partook of it were:

TWO INJUNCTIONS PREVENTED THE FUN

One Was from Court and the Other from Republican Selection.

BOTH FIGHTS RESTRAINED THEREBY

Barber Asphalt Company Induces Court to Enjoin Councils from Considering the Dun Award and the Republicans of Select Council Call a Halt to the Mayor.

It was after midnight when M. A. McGlinley, the toastmaster, rapped for order and after a few preliminary remarks started the most grand ball rolling. He then read a letter of regret from Rev. J. B. Feehley, spiritual director of No. 131, of the central city. Letters were also received from Rev. R. Bishop Hoban and Rev. F. P. McNally, spiritual director of St. Brendan church, of the West Side. After a song by Edward Walsh of the West side, W. H. Gillespie was introduced and responded to the toast "Pro Patria." He said in part:

Tonight by the festal board where the goddess of plenty has lavished upon her chosen ones the treasures of her cornucopia, we are gathered here to celebrate the birth of our country. We sit here no poisoned wine sparkles in the light of a thousand flames, instead, the cheerful light of the feast of reason and a flow of soul. About us, tonight, we realize the force of that declaration which is founded upon the ashes of divine truth. From that truth springs the fountain head of justice, that upholds the protest of the Christian bosom of God. That justice which can be administered only to free and equal beings. To uphold the principles of the republican principles which perpetuate the fame and glory of our country is the birthright of each citizen. Born under the fold of a banner which has been consecrated by the blood of our fathers and blessed by the prayers of our country's heroes, we must prompt but the voice of duty. We need no battle cry to arms.

PAST AND FUTURE.

C. B. Adams, of Altoona, responded to the toast "The Past and Future." He said that the past is the most precious memories of the second session of the grand council of the Atlantic jurisdiction in this city four years ago. The tree that has been planted in this city during the past few years, he hopes, will grow and spread until it reaches all over this great commonwealth and overflows into the neighboring states.

Other toasts responded to were: "Necessity of Organization," J. J. Keogh, New York; "Pennsylvania Grand Council," M. J. Donahoe, Scranton; "Law," P. J. Ruddy, Philadelphia; "Why I am a Member," P. H. Gilleran; "Our Infant Council," R. Emmet O'Boyle; "Our Visitors," M. J. McGlinley, Scranton; "The Press," W. J. Kelley, Pittsburg.

HIS HEAD IN DANGER.

Landlord's Agent Gets a Warm Reception From a Tenant.

A threat to chop his head off with an ax was the response given James D. Eastman, 219 and 231, for their cordial cooperation and assistance during their stay in this city, and that we appreciate their work to the interest of the order in this community.

Murtaugh is a miner. A warrant for his arrest was issued by Alderman Wright late yesterday afternoon. And the arrest had the share of a comedy. When Constable Timothy Jones, of the Fifth ward, attempted last night to serve the warrant several denials of Kelly's, where the residence of the tenant was located, were made. One man, unknown, came in contact with the constable's first. The blow was upon the nose, and the nose was broken. Finally two persons were arrested and locked up. They are William Newey and the man Murtaugh. A hearing will be given today.

SAGES' GREAT FEAT.

Succeeded in Making Several in the Audience Succumb to Slumber.

The Sages gave their mercuric performance last night before an audience that nearly filled the Academy of Music. Excepting the usual tests to prove the ability of the program, was unlike any of the preceding ones.

Probably the greatest feat of the evening was in putting to sleep over half a dozen persons in the audience. Mr. Sages, in his program, was nearly all of these so induced, and the persons well-known in Scranton and none were in any way identified with the Sages or the theater. Tonight's performance was a success.

STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS.

Alfred Godshall, of the West Side, Afflicted Yesterday Morning.

Alfred Godshall, a well-known resident of the West Side, is lying critically ill at his home on South Summer avenue. He is suffering from paralysis. Mr. Godshall was stricken with paralysis. He was walking in a hall way on the upper floor of his home when he fell and was carried to his bed room, where he has remained since in an unconscious condition.

Dr. George B. Reynolds was called and is in attendance. Last evening Mr. Godshall's condition was somewhat improved, though he is still unconscious.

DEATH OF PATRICK WHELAN.

Was a Well-Known Citizen of the South Side.

Patrick Whelan, 66 years old, died at 123 home, 508 Prospect avenue, yesterday morning. He was ill only a short time. Whelan was a well-known resident of the South Side.

His wife and a family of seven survive him. The latter are Rev. John Whelan, of Lawrence, Mass.; James, a student at Villa Nova Catholic college, Philadelphia; Patrick, John, Michael, Annie and Mrs. M. J. Purcell. The funeral announcement will be made tomorrow.

JUDGE SITS UPON A TACK.

Law Students of Missouri University Likely to Lose Diploma.

Columbia, Mo., May 21.—Who put the tack in Judge Martin's chair? A question which is being asked very seriously by the senior law students of Missouri university. Judge Alexander Martin is the dean of the law school. Recently a law student put a tack in his chair, which caused him much pain and indignation, and he is sparing no efforts to find the culprit.

It is his belief that the members of the senior class could, if they desired, name the offender. The students discuss the matter very gravely, as it involves their diplomas.

STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY.

Rule Accepting Licenses from New York Board Rescinded.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 21.—At a meeting of the State Medical society today the rule accepting licenses from the New York state board of medical examiners was rescinded. All physicians and surgeons from New York who hereafter be examined before being licensed to practice in this state. This is a retaliatory action for similar action by the New York board.

The semi-annual examinations will be held June 16 to 20. Pillsbury's Flour mills have a capacity of 17,500 barrels a day.

ALSO GUILTY OF FORGERY.

Owen Moran Works an Entirely New Scheme.

Since Owen Moran was sent to the county jail Monday at the instance of the Bay State Publishing company for spending $30 of the money he was engaged to collect for taxes, it has developed that he has also been guilty of forgery.

The local manager of the company, Joseph P. Redington, discovered upon attempting to collect some bills, that the parties had never ordered nor received the books, notwithstanding that Moran presented at the store written orders with their names and addresses, evidently written by themselves. An investigation showed that these names had been forged and that the books secured by this means had been sold at ridiculously low prices by Moran, who pocketed the money.

A warrant was sworn out before Alderman Donovan yesterday charging Moran with forgery. He was taken down from jail and given a hearing which resulted in his being called upon to furnish $200 additional bail. He, of course, could not, and was sent back to await trial on the two charges.

A LARGE HOUSE LAUGHED.

Kennedy's Players Present Erminie in a Dramatized Form.

A large house at the Frothingham last night enjoyed a two-hour laugh over the Kennedy players' presentation of "The Two Thieves," which is nothing more or less than "Erminie" in a dramatized form.

John J. Kennedy and George W. Barber as the two thieves did the most excellent work. The other members of the cast acquitted themselves with credit and all enjoyed a very entertaining and finished performance.

PILGRIMAGE OF MALTAS.

They Will Come Here in State to Attend the Conclave—Progress of Work of Decorating.

Malta commandery of Binghamton will bring to next week's conclave one of the largest representations of Sir Knights that will be here. They will come in special vestibuled cars attached to the Lackawanna train, which leaves Binghamton at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning and reaches here at 9 o'clock. The cars will be the headquarters of the commandery during the stay.

The Malta Sir Knights will take dinner at Hanley's restaurant. While much has been written and said about what the Sir Knights are doing, the planning of all the work has been left practically unnoticed. The district passenger agents and other officials of the several lines entering Scranton have for weeks been preparing to meet the greatly increased traffic expected on the first three days of the week. It requires a great amount of detailed work to arrange for safety and quick transportation of the extra thousands who will be here.

Tuesday morning especially will witness the arrival of great numbers of extra cars and to clear the depot platforms of people and perform the switching will not be an easy task, but it has all been arranged and every precaution has been taken to guard against accident and to expedite the traffic.

The work of decorating is being rapidly completed. Thoughtless persons wonder why so much lumber is being used for the breeze for days in advance of the conclave. It is done now because there are not enough drapery hangers in the city of the size of Scranton to do the work in two days or three. Even with such a big start, it is certain that the small army of workmen who are here from other cities and those from Scranton will be busily occupied until the conclave begins.

COMMON COUNCIL MEETS.

Common council held a short session but did not transact any important business.

Owing to his fears that court will be held on Tuesday night, Mr. Sawyer called up his east mountain road ordinance, which was reported from the committee and referred to a later meeting, and had it referred back to the committee, so that whatever happens it will be out of the way.

The following ordinances passed the third reading: Providing for the opening of Price street in the Fourth ward, between Sumner and Bromley avenues; providing for permanent men for the Niagara and Relief Hose companies; authorizing a trade of lots in the Third ward with the school board.

TESTING FIRE APPARATUS.

Chief Hickey Gives an Exhibition Before City Officials.

At the corner of Lackawanna and Adams avenues yesterday afternoon, Mayor Bailey and a number of other city officials together with a large representation of the fire department, witnessed an exhibition of some new fire apparatus which Chief Hickey wants the city to adopt.

A patent respirator which will supply a man with air for six minutes in the midst of the densest smoke, was one of the machines tested. A fireman protected by the respirator went into Butcher Jikins' smoke house and was locked in for six minutes without feeling any inconvenience from the smoke. A shut-off nozzle and a clamp for repairing at once a bursted hose were also exhibited.

The only damage done was the breaking of the feeder and front platform gears. Eight passengers who were aboard were severely shaken, but escaped any serious injury.
