WEST SIDE EVENTS.

Financial Affairs of Jackson Street Baptist Church Are Reported to Be in Good Condition.

According to a member of the Jackson Street Baptist church the finan-cial affairs of that body are better at the present time than they have been for the past six years. The mention in yesterday's Tribune of the alleged trouble in the church over the calling of a pastor was furnished to the West Side representative of this paper by several members of the church who were present at the meeting. Their reason for doing so is not known. The Jackson street church had the name of only one minister before it for consideration. That minister is Rev. J W. Williams, of Wales, formerly pas-tor of the First Welsh Baptist church. He is a general favorite with the church members.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS SOCIAL Class No. 24, of the Washburn street Presbyterian Sunday school, conducted an ice cream and strawberry social last evening. The teacher of the class is Mrs. E. D. Fellows. MR. SANDERS' ADDRESS.

M. E. Sanders, news editor of the Truth, delivered an interesting lecture last evening before an assemblage of men at the rooms of Silurian lodge of Odd Fellows, on South Main avenue Mr. Sanders' subject was "Pennsylvania-A Great Commonwealth." The talk was chiefly descriptive, the speaker conducting his hearers over the en-tire state by means of tracing on a map. Mr. Sanders showed great famillarity with this commonwealth. Dur-ing the closing part of the lecture he referred to the necessity or intervention in the wholesale slaughter of forests and wood land. William Morgan sang during the evening. A smoker was afterward enjoyed.

PROVIDENCE DOINGS.

Suit Against Brown Hollow Turnpike Company to Recover the Value of a Horse Owned by Mr. Coleman.

One of the most interesting civil suits ever heard in this part of the city was before Alderman Fidler last evening. A Mr. Coburne, of Scranton, brought suit against the Brown Hollow Turnpike company to recover damages to the amount of $125 for the loss of a horse. Mr. Coburne claimed that on the 18th day of April while driving over the turnpike he came to a swamp that extended across the road, and in endeaverable to the company of th oring to pick his way through, his horse stepped into a hole, and by his struggling to free himself, was hurt internally, causing his death.

Mr. Coburne was represented by George W. Beale and the defendant by C. B. Gardner. The alderman reserved his decision until next Friday evening. A pleasant social gathering was held last evening at the home of Mrs. R. E. Westlake on West Market street. Mrs. Westlake proved herself a most charm-ing hostess. Those present were: Misses Carrie Huff, Lizzie Shafer Amy Decker, Mary Lewis, Eva Meredith and Lizzie Eppling, and H. W. Lare, Frank Scharar, Charles Constantine and Charles Hopewell.

DIED FROM BLOOD POISONING. Patrick Manley, of Keiser avenue, died Wednesday evening from blood poisoning. Mr. Manley was a laborer in the Cayuga mine and was slightly injured on the hand. Not thinking it of any consequence, he dispensed with the services of doctor until the poisoning set in. When the doctor arrived he informed Mr. Manley that it was too late. The sufferer lingered in suffering until Wednesday evening, when he died. He leaves two children, a boy and girl. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon. Interment will be made in Hyde Park Catholic cemetery.

BUSINESS BREVITIES.

A LIBERAL COMPANY.—"The liberality shown by the firm of Simpson & Watkins, the well-known coal operators, in maintaining or assiting to maintain free kindergartens for the children of the employes, cannot be too highly extelled," says the Pittston Item. "The firm contributes $250 annually to the kindergarten established at Forty Fort largely through the efforts of Rev. W. F. Gibbons, and they support entirely a similar institution at Carbondale. No one appreciates this liberality so much as the tired mothers whose little ones are kept in safety for several hours each day, and so trained that they are easier to govern during the time they are under parental chre. Their liberality toward the kindergarten is well worthy of emulation by other operators. Kindergartens are better than hospitals."

SOME DEGENERATES.

In Testing for Illustrations They All Agreed Upon One Example.

From the Chicago Post.
"A degenerate," said the theatrical manager slowly when the subject came up for discussion, " is a pass fiend. The terms are synonymous and inter-changeable."

'Not at all," returned the newspaper man. A degenerate is a man who repudiates his own interview when he realizes that his views look more radical in print than when spoken."
"You're both wrong," put in the machine politician." "A degenerate is a man who sells his vote more than once in one election." The street railroad man shook his Current Aneodotes.

Emperor William III was a very small boy at the wedding of the prince and princess of Wales, which he attended in charge of his two uncles, the duke of Edinburgh and the duke of Connaught, who, following the queen's instruction, wore Highland dress. The royal youngster fidgeted vigorously during the ceremony, an consequently received occasional warning taps on the shoulder. He avenged himself by kneeling down and biting their bare legs with much carnestness.

Judge Campbell tells a story about the cross-examination of a bad-tampered feder the landership | heavy ewe sheep, field, male in his court. She was an amazonian person. Her husband, obviously the weaker vessel, sat sheepishly listening. The opposing attorney preased a certain question rather urgently, and she said angrily: "You needn't think to catch me. You tried that once before." The lawyer said: "Madam, I have not the slightest desire to catch you, and your husband looks as if he was sorry he did."

Warden Hale, of San Quentin, tells this tale on himself: On the morning of an execution he asked the prisoner what he would have for breakfast. It is the custom to give the unforunate, on that occasion, whatever luxury he desires. "Give me some peaches," said the prisoner. It was in the dead of winter, "Peaches" said the warden, "Why, they are out of season, man. There are none ripe now, of course." "That makes no difference," said the prisoner. "I can wait for them."

An old lady of Fife, noted for possessing a sharp tongue and a tendency toward taking down conceited people, was entertaining a number of young folk at a evening party. The guest of honor was a young man who had obtained an appointment in Chia, and he was so much elated over his prospects that he talked throughout the evening of himself. As he stood up to go, the old lady, who had been rather silent, said to him: "Tak gude care o' yoursel' when you're awa, for mind ye they eat pupples in Cheena."
