Perhaps One Hundred Lives Lost in Michigan.

AN ESTIMATE OF THE FATALITIES

Reports from the Towns Desolated by the Tornado--Many Persons Injured and Hundreds of Buildings Destroyed.

Oxford, Mich., May 26.—From reports that continue to come in from adjacent points the extent of the havoc wrought by the storm in Oakland county last night is becoming known. The death toll in this vicinity may include a hundred persons, for many homes that were on the edge of the tornado suffered from its fury. At Oakwood, a village five miles north of Oxford, having a population of about 200, not a house is left standing. The two churches are flattened to the earth.

The path of the storm was between Oxford and the north for a distance of about three-fourths of a mile wide and it extended in a nearly straight course eastward for a distance of thirty miles. A remarkable circumstance is that to each other were blown in opposite directions, some being swept northward and others southward. The following are known to have been killed in this county:

C. Gibson, Mrs. P. D. Eaton, Abraham Kitchell, Mrs. William Kitchell, Edwin Pittell, two children and Mr. Howe.

Near Ortonville between twenty and twenty-five persons were more or less seriously injured.

Mt. Clemens, Mich., May 26.—Last night's tornado left a track 150 feet wide through the southeastern part of the town. No one was killed, however, and none of the injured have died. Among the injured are: Mrs. Anna Pohl, widow, back broken, injured internally; Adolph Pohl, aged 12, right leg broken, ribs and shoulders and body of white ribs broken; Ed. Pohl, internally, right leg broken, left shoulder dislocated, recovery doubtful; Mrs. Joseph Harder, injured internally, cut about head and arm; Russell Cooper, head and face cut; Mrs. Russell Carter, injured internally, recovery doubtful; Gustave Cichels, head cut and right arm broken; Mrs. Williams Ormsby, left arm broken and neck cut; Mrs. Miss Anna Belle Tobe, left arm broken, right arm injured, skull fractured.

PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY.

Important Bill Regarding New York Presbytery is Considered.

Saratoga, N. Y., May 26.—The presbytery general assembly assembled this morning with the report of Chairman Booth, the committee on bills and orders. The most important bill before the committee is one in regard to the New York presbytery, which dissolved the order of last year's assembly and received students from the Union Theological seminary. The committee decided to refer the matter to the committee on church government.

Chairman Kane's resolutions, which were adopted without division, proposed radical changes in the distribution of funds of the board. They were to the effect that money for home mission work were to be distributed according to the direction of the presbytery in whose jurisdiction Christian churches were located. It was also decided to recommend to the board the exchange of reports between the board and the presbytery, and a reconsideration of the matter of the limitation of five minutes, the subject being the adoption of a resolution authorizing a reconsideration of the matter of young people's societies by the board committee, with instruction for submitting to the presbytery for its consideration and report to the next assembly. The discussion brought out the friends of Christian Endeavor, who regard the report as an attack upon their united society. On motion Chairman Booth reported this resolution was stricken out.

A second provision of the report, arranging for a special meeting of young people's societies at the next assembly to establish a paper devoted to the interests of young people, was also stricken out. A substitute directing the young people's societies to study and maintain the doctrines and standards of the Presbyterian church was adopted. A clause providing for interdenominational fellowship among young people's societies was stricken out. The subject of the societies of the Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip and the boys' brigade was, by resolution, referred to a special committee for report to the next assembly. On motion the board committee was discharged. The report, thus amended by the Christian Endeavor leaders, was then adopted as a whole and great applause of the assembly.

Tonight the assembly church was packed with an audience to hear Dr. DeWitt's address on the subject of home missions.

MRS. DYER SENTENCED.

Murders of Infants to Perish on an English Scaffold.

London, May 26.—The woman Dyer, who has been on trial on the charge of murdering numerous infants entrusted to her care, has been sentenced to death. She was arrested at Reading, together with her son-in-law, a man named Palmer, charged with having strangled a number of infants, whose bodies were recovered from the Thames, weighted down with bricks. From letters found in the possession of the woman it appeared that the parents of the infants consigned to Mrs. Dyer were aware of the fate intended for them.

Eleven Persons Are Drowned in Capsizing of a Ferry Boat.

KATHERINE STRUCK BY A STORM

The Boat Turtled Completely Over and Her Cabin and Smoke Stacks Carried Away--List of the Dead, Bodies Recovered.

Caño, Ills., May 26.—The most terrible accident in the history of Caño happened this morning shortly after 8 o'clock, when the ferry boat "Katherine" capsized and eleven persons were drowned. The names of the lost are: Charles Gilhofer, Richard Thurman, Bertha Stanley, May Jones, rest of the crew, including Shannon and baby of Elmer Point, Mo., an unknown colored woman; Wood Rittenhouse, superintendent; George Davis, colored, employed in painting the boat; Louis Harker, colored, in charge of the deck; colored, deck hand, of the boat's crew.

BISHOPS CONSECRATED.

Honors Are Conferred on Charles Cardinal McCabe, Earl Cranston and Joseph Crane Hartzell.

Cleveland, O., May 25.—The general conference was presided over by Bishop Knute. The judicial committee reported and acted on a large number of appeals. When the celebrated Baltimore amendment was before the annual conference the New York east conference refused to act on it. Joseph Pullman thought the conference had no right to refuse to vote on the question and accordingly appealed to the general conference.

A. J. Kynett said that this matter of refusal was a most important question. "A few of the annual conferences," he said, "might in the future succeed in defeating an amendment by refusing to vote on it." The committee recommended that no appeal be entertained.

Charles Cardinal McCabe, Earl Cranston and Joseph Crane Hartzell were consecrated bishops. The Methodist church at Central Armory this morning. There was an immense congregation present, nearly every seat in the big auditorium being filled. The consecration was most impressive. Tonight had been set aside for the anniversary of the temperance work, but the decision of the conference to hold an evening session had spoiled the plan for a great temperance rally, although on motion of Dr. Kynett the rules were suspended and the first thirty minutes were given over to the temperance cause.

The regular order, the report of the committee on constitution was then taken up. It was quite a long debate over the matter of consulting special sessions of the general conference. An article was adopted providing that it be constituted in the usual way. There was a long debate over an attempt to give laymen equal rights with the ministerial delegates to preside pro tem over a regional conference in case there is no bishop present to preside. JEALOUS OF A BOARDER.

And Neida Attempts to Murder His Wife.

Philadelphia, May 26.—Albert Von Neida, aged 22 years, this morning attempted to kill his wife, Charlotte, aged 34 years, and then to end his own life. The crime was committed at his home, 109 Ellsworth street. The couple will probably die. The husband pursued his wife through the house and fired three shots at her, all of which took effect. She finally escaped through a rear window. Neida then attempted to shoot himself and sent a bullet into his left breast, just over his heart. The woman left her home and fled to the police station.

DUEL IN A MINE.

Uniontown Miners Fight in Darkness. Loved the Same Woman—Encounter With Pick and Shovel.

Uniontown, Pa., May 26.—Deep in the Ferguson mines, two miners fought a desperate fight yesterday afternoon in total darkness, a life being at stake. Philip Estick and George Cominski squared over a woman before they came to this country, and the feud has provoked many fights. Cominski, because of the old trouble, sought Estick in his "room" in the mine and attacked him with his pick. Estick defended himself with a shovel, which bears three ragged holes where the pick sank through on its way to his head.

Both the camps went out and they fought in the street. Estick knocked the pick from Cominski's hands and he could not find it. Estick made a brave fight for his life and has a number of cuts on his head and body from the encounter. Cominski was lodged in jail this morning, charged with attempted murder.

John H. Pastorius, Jr., brother of Lida Pastorius, the Cooley queen, and last of that famous band of outlaws, was placed in jail here today charged with attempted murder, robbery and several crimes. Pastorius was the boy member of the Cooley gang, and acted as a spy for them. He was arrested with Ramsey and the others after Frank Cooley's death, and tried with them, but was liberated after serving a light sentence, owing to his youth. Last summer he robbed a store at Mason-town in broad daylight. He was followed by an armed posse of citizens but fought them off with his revolver and escaped. Since that time he has been living across the line in West Virginia but made frequent visits to his parents in their mountain home near Fairbairn. Constable Euston Williams lay in wait for him last night and arrested him as he crossed the line into Pennsylvania.

SAYS HE SHOT 386 SNAKES.

Missouri Farmer's Story of Destruction in a Den of Reptiles.

Columbia, Mo., May 26.—A great den of snakes was discovered yesterday in the Cave of Rehearts, Boone county. Robert Hatton, a farmer, was looking for a mink cub when he discovered a hole in the ground. He went in and found a huge black snake, which, upon his approach, curled rapidly in the direction of the entrance. Hatton proceeded his way to the dark entrance of the cave, and there, lying on the ground, was his mink cub. He was literally covered with writhing, hissing reptiles of every size, color and species. He spent five minutes with his gun, making repeated shots, and killing 386 of the reptiles. Among the number were rattlesnakes, all of which were coiled round his mink cub and one black racer that measured twelve feet in length. Mr. Hatton skinned this monster and brought the hide to Columbia, where it has been stuffed and is now on exhibition.

BREAKS SILENCE AT DEATH.

Boy Refuses to Tell His Murderer's Name Until Dying.

St. Louis, Mo., May 26.—Three weeks ago T. M. Reilly, an 18-year-old boy, was stabbed with a knife in the back by his own age. Yesterday he died. Until almost the very moment of his death he would give no details of the affair. Finally, however, he declared: "It was Pat who stabbed me, and immediately reached his hand to his throat, where the police believe he was killed by a fellow workman whose last words were to divulge and whose promise would have followed Reilly's removal. He is also alleged to have threatened the dead boy."

DID NOT TRUST BANKS.

Allison Had His Money in Straw and It Was Burned Up.

Rushville, Ind., May 25.—James Allison of Williamstown, distrustful of banks, took $50,000 in gold and wrapped it in a newspaper. This package he concealed in the straw under the carpet in a room at Wilbur Atwood's, where he was staying. Today the Atwoods were house-cleaning and while they were taking up the carpet and the package was discovered. The roll of bills was consumed in the bonfire.

SLAIN FOR HIS MONEY.

Discovery That May Account for a Missing Nebraska Farmer.

Burwell, Neb., May 25.—G. H. Ray, a bachelor who lived near here for some years, drew $100 from the bank and left a month ago for gold mine. Nothing had been heard of him until yesterday, when an empty grave was discovered near the mine. The body was found in a hole in the ground, and it was supposed that the man became suddenly insane and in his frenzy took the lives of her children and herself.

BEER AND CHEESE

Mr. DuBois Suggests a Scheme to Increase Internal Revenue Returns.

A SUBJECT OF EARNEST DEBATE

House Decides to Impose Tax on Alcohol Used in the Arts and Manufactures--Opposition to the Measure from Eastern Manufacturers.

Washington, May 22.—The house measure known as the "filled cheese" bill came up before the senate today under the lead of Senator Sherman (Rep., Ohio), who had reported it from the senate committee on finance. Its object is to discourage the manufacture and sale of an adulterated article of food by imposing a heavy license on manufacturer and wholesale dealers, and its supporters advocate its passage, not as a revenue measure, but as a protective duty on the general public. It had not been many minutes before the senate when it was converted from a merely nominal to an actual revenue measure by an amendment adding to it a section imposing an additional tax of 75 cents a barrel on beer, ale and porter. This amendment was offered by Mr. DuBois (Rep., Idaho) in order to offset Mr. Sherman's criticism of the senate for proposing an additional tax of 75 cents a barrel on beer, ale and porter. This amendment was offered by Mr. DuBois (Rep., Idaho) in order to offset Mr. Sherman's criticism of the senate for proposing an additional tax of 75 cents a barrel on beer, ale and porter. This amendment was offered by Mr. DuBois (Rep., Idaho) in order to offset Mr. Sherman's criticism of the senate for proposing an additional tax of 75 cents a barrel on beer, ale and porter.

BOND BILL DEFEATED.

The bill on the bond bill did not present many points of interest. Mr. Pritchard (Rep., N. C.) was the chief speaker. He intimated his willingness to vote for his colleague's bill in a certain contingency, which contingency, however, would not present itself if congress would take up the measure as an act that would provide a sufficient revenue on the lines of protection to American industries. Mr. Lindsay (Dem., Ky.) opposed the bill as a measure that would take six days to produce a suspension of payment; and he expressed his belief that if congress adjourned without providing additional revenue, there would be another issue of government bonds at an early date.

THE HOUSE WENT OVER WITHOUT ACTION.

To TAX ART ALCOHOL. With an amendment the house today by a vote of 165 to 69 passed the bill to repeal section 61 of the Wilson tariff law of 1891, which provides for free importation of the arts and manufactures. The affirmative vote was composed of 104 Republicans, 56 Democrats and 6 Populists; the negative votes of 60 Republicans and Democrats. The article was adopted as was recommended by the committee on ways and means providing for the appointment of a joint committee of three senators and three representatives to sit during the recess and investigate the subject with a view of reporting to the next session of congress a form of regulations under which the free use of alcohol may be had without duty to be levied on the government. There was vigorous opposition to the bill from Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey and New York delegations in the interests of manufacturers of these and other states, but they were able to muster only 69 votes all told upon any proposition to amend the bill or to defeat it.

STEERING COMMITTEE.

The Republican steering committee of the senate held its meeting this afternoon for the purpose of arranging an order of business for the remainder of this session of the senate. Measures that were endorsed and which were given attention, if the appropriation measures do not interfere, are the bills providing for the refunding of the debt of the Pacific railroads, bankruptcy and immigration and several other matters of minor importance. While these matters will, by the tacit consent of the committee, come up for action there is little belief on the part of any Democrat of the committee that any of them will receive serious consideration at this session. It was agreed that as soon as the filled cheese bill was out of the bill, the bill which passed the house this afternoon for the repeal of the free alcohol in the arts clause of the Wilson bill, should be taken up and passed by a vote of 60 to 40. As the Democrats are in favor of this measure there will be no trouble about it.

THE ANTI-BOND BILL OF MR. BUTLER'S NOW BEFORE THE SENATE WAS THE SUBJECT OF AN INFORMAL DISCUSSION, THE SILVER MEMBERS OF THE COMMITTEE, OF COURSE, FAVORING ACTION AT THE EARLIEST POSSIBLE DATE.

The anti-bond bill of Mr. Butler's now before the senate was the subject of an informal discussion, the silver members of the committee, of course, favoring action at the earliest possible date. The anti-silver men stated that they looked upon the passage of the bill as a piece of folly that could result in no tangible results for the silver men, but expressed their willingness to permit it to come to a vote without obstructive tactics being resorted to. There are some who think that this vote will be taken within the next few days.

THE MEETING WAS HARMONIOUS, AND ON THE QUESTION OF AN EARLY ADJOURNMENT THERE APPEARED TO BE A UNANIMITY OF SENTIMENT.

The meeting was harmonious, and on the question of an early adjournment there appeared to be a unanimity of sentiment. The meeting was held in the senate chamber and was presided over by Mr. Sherman. The discussion was confined to the bills on the calendar and the committee's report on the anti-bond bill. The meeting adjourned at 4 o'clock.

CAMPAIGN BUTTON APPEARS.

Reed, Quay, Culom, Allison and Morton Men Wearing the Badge.

Washington, May 26.—The campaign button which was severally circulated about the capital a few weeks ago, have nearly all disappeared. The McKinley button is seen frequently, but there are some Reed buttons left, but the novelty has worn off and many of the most enthusiastic Reed men have ceased to wear them. A new button appeared yesterday. It is a compromise button intended to be worn by Reed men, Quay men, Culom men, Allison men, and Morton men. It bears the simple inscription: "Don't Kick."

READING RUMORS.

It is generally supposed that the committee will have been called to discuss some modification of the present plan of reorganization and that another effort will be made to save the road from foreclosure.
