and a grateful nation will bedeck the resting place of the brave defenders of our union with flowers, cultivated of our union with flowers, cultivated flowers, nature's sweetest gifts and choicest offerings. A feeling of grief possesses us as we see the newly made graves into which many of the boys in blue have been laid since this day was observed a year ago. As we look back we cannot help realizing that ev-ery heart in this broad land should be diled with reverence for those who, when duty called, responded to their country's call.

STILL THE GREATEST.

Barnum & Bailey's Circus Entertained Nearly Thirty Thousand. Probably the largest audiences that ever witnessed circus performances in Scranton were those of yesterday afternoon and evening at the old race course grounds, where Barnum & Bai-ley's greatest show on earth was hold-so great was the throng within the tent at the afternoon exhibition that many were compelled to leave the en-closure while the running horse and charlot races were going on and be-sides turning hundreds of people away the ticket sellers were obliged to re-fund several hundred dollars to purchasers who were unable to gain adnission.

At 2 p. m. promptly the performance commenced and while the people were still crowding in, the grand procession and exhibition of all the performers, men, women and animals, together with a display of the wagons, cages, charlots and other vehicles and para-phernalia was conducted around the large circuit. After this the fun commenced, three rings and one stage oc-cupied continuously almost by per-formers and outside of them and all around them were fifteen clowns, one of them a lady clown, making things
