Mary Ann Arnold, of Main street, passed to her eternal reward at 1 o'clock Saturday morning. In the death of Mrs. Arnold Peckville loses one of her oldest and most respected inhabitants. Her death was due general debility, as she was well advanced in years and had been unable to do much household work for years account of a paralytic shock she had received several years ago. The deceased was born in Massachusetts seventy-seven years, one month and twenty-six days ago. At the age of 13 years she came to Peckville with her parents, where she has spent most all of her life. She is survived by one son, Alderman S. W. Arnold, of the First ward. She was the daughter of Samuel and Sarah Peck, from whom Peckville took its name and was one of eleven children: S. L. Peck, M. A. Peck, Sarah W., Ara-thusa B., J. Wilson Peck, Emeline O., Elvira C., J. D. Peck, Calvin F., william W. Peck and James E. Peck. The fu-neral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late home on Main street. Services will be conducted by the Rev. Vernon C. Byers, of the First Presbyterian church. Interment wil be made in Prospect cemetery.

PRICEBURG.

During the storm on Saturday the ouse of Bernard Begley, situated on the Dickson Flats, was struck and the roof severely damaged by lightning. Several members of the family received slight shocks but none sustained serious injury.

Our new floating sidewalk in front of the Johnson, No. 1, coal property on Main street is attracting the attention of many of our visitors, and is indeed quite a novelty. It may be that the people of our town are not up to date, but they would be very much obliged to Mr. Johnson if he would clean the culvert and give us the use of the old d reliable flagstone.

Messrs. Henry Ries and Richard Bray isited in Jessup yesterday. Edward Knapp. Charles Schaffer and Edward Knapp, Charles Schaffer and George Wood enjoyed a ride to Farview on their new bicycles Saturday.

The Farmer base ball club from Brown Hollow and the Pricebury Nonparells opened the new base ball grounds on Decoration Day. The game was close and interesting and the score stood 2 to 2 until the seventh inning. Then the home team took the lead and won by a score of 7 to 2.

POPULISM LINKED TO PROHIBITION

Varied Collection of "Isms" for Which the National Party Stands.

THE ORGANIZATION IS DEFINED

presses an Opinion -- An Attempt to Placate the Women's Rights People Fails -- Coxey's Cyclone in It.

Washington, May 31.—Several of the leaders of both factions of the Prohibifrom the Pittsburg convention. J. H. Suthgate, of Charlotte, N. C., who was put on the "bolters" ticket as vice president, with the Rev. Charles E. Bentley, of Lincoln, Neb., the defeated "broad gauge" leader, as president, is one of them. He defies the "national party" (the name adopted by the bolters)) as Populism with Prohibition at-tached. This definition is amptly borne tached. This definition is amply borac-cut by the platform, which not only in-cludes free silver and the issue of legal-tender paper "in sufficient volume to meet all the demands of legitimate business interests," but also govern-ment control of railroads and telegraph lines, election of president and senators by the people, non-sectarian schools and half a dozen other "isms" for which certain organizations contend.

After the adoption of the single plank platform the "regulars" attempted to placate the women's rights people by adopting the female suffrage plank, which they had omitted from their platform, in the shape of a simple declara-tory resolution of opinion. This they passed almost unanimously, but Mrs.
Helen Gougar and other woman suffrage advocates refused to be comforted and joined the "national party."

As the delegates left the hall to join the bolters' gathering they marched our almost evenly paired, male and female, as if going into an ark. Some idea of the heterogeneous elements which entered into the composition of this new party can be derived from the fact that Coxev's "evelone" on presenting himself was promptly admitted a dele-gate from Pennsylvania.

ADJOURNMENT NEAR.

This Week May End All Discussion in

Congress. . Washington, May 31.-"I believe we washington, May 31.—"I believe we may be able to adjourn by Saturday next." said Senator Allison, chairman of the senate committee on appropriations, yesterday. "The session may run until Monday, but there is really no good reason why we should not have a final adjournment on the day I have named. All of the appropriation bills are enrolled with the exception of the contested items in conference and these contested items in conference and these can be enrolled on short notice." Senator Allison is not alone in this opinion and for the purpose of getting awayat theearliest possible momentitis understood that the senate will, after tomorrow, begin its daily sessions at 11 g. m. and remain in session as lateas 7 p. m. One night session will, perhaps, be necessary on Tuesday for the senate has agreed that on that day it will take a final vote on the anti-bond bill. It is the general impression that a vote will be had before adjournment on the filled cheese bill, which has al-ready passed the house, although a vig-orous opposition will be offered to it in the senate. The understanding is that the senate will endeavor to pass the river and harbor bill over the presi-dent's veto; the day following similar action on that measure by the house. But little debate is anitcipated. The conference on the postoffice appropria-tion bill have practically agreed upon all items except the German amend-ment restricting the consolidation of postoffices by the postmaster general. It is claimed that the house will accede to this amendment. The first confer-ence on this bill was not held until Saturday last, although it passed both houses more than a month ago. The only matters that will be likely to cause debate in other appropriation bills in conference are the sectarian school question in the Indian bill; the decrease of the number of battleships; the limi-tation of the price to be paid for afmor; and the provise forbidding the employment of contractors of naval officers on leave, in the naval bill; a question as to sectarian charitles in the District of Columbia bill, and a like question in regard to District of Columbia hospitals, in the sundry civil bill.

Tomorrow being suspension day in the house it is expected that the Phillips labor commission bill, the Erdman arbitration bill, the New Mexico bond bill and the Alaska salmon flishery bill will be called up under suspension of the rules. The report of the committee on rivers and harbors, upon the presi-dent's veto of the river and harbor ap-propriation bill, recommending that it be passed, the objections of the presiis looked for on Tuesday. The house will expend little, if any debate on the matter and a vote will be taken promptly. The committee on rules may report an order setting aside two additional days besides Monday on which motions to pass bills by suspension of the rules will be in order. This, however, will not be done unless the passage of the joint resolution fixing the date of final adjournment should be delayed until late in the week. When once that resolution passes, the six days next preceding the day named for the close of the session will become suspension day under the standing rules of the house.

GRAVEYARD OF HIGH HOPES.

Political Careers That Have Ended in Our London Embassy. Governor Morton is not the first among former American ministers to France to aspire later to the office of president. It is a somewhat peculiar fact in American political records that while, as a rule, American ministers to the court of St. James's have forfeited the court of St. James's have forfetted their popularity at home, the American ministers to the government on the Seine usually have been able to maintain, if not increase, their hold on public favor. Diphtheria

* Less Fatal.

If the patient's strength can be maintained, and the great vital centres of the body "kept up" to the performance of their natural functions, they will thus dispel the disease germs that impregnate the entire body, and if sufficient vitality is experienced, the fatality of this dreaded disease is lessened a hundred-fold.

Bovinine & Cent

that greatest raw food, is a wonderful creator of new flesh and nerve tissue, is indispensible in the treatment of this malady as it gives strength to the patient with the least effort on the part of the digestive organs, and in addition, being itself a germicide, it antidotes the existing microbes of the disease. The ease with which it can be taken when the lesions of the throat preclude the use of other foods, makes it an additional necessity for the sufferer's receiving the support of but one delegate at Minneapolis. The case of Mr. Bayard is so recent that politicians of both parties are familiar with it. In the national convention of 1876, at St. Louis. Mr. Bayard received fifty-six votes for the presidential nomination. In the Cincinnati convention of 1880 by re-Cincinnati convention of 1880 he re-ceived 103 votes, and was second candi-date on the list. In the Chicago con-vention of 1884 he received 175 votes, but at the last Democratic national convention his name was not considered, and it is thought extremely improbable new that at the national convention of 1896 the friends of Mr. Bayard could secure for him even the support of the delegates from the state of Delaware, where the Bayards were leaders for

The reason of the difference between the English and the French missions, in a political sense, is explained easily.
The duties of the American minister to France are social chiefly. Those of the American minister to England are political. The United States and France, allies in the war against England in 1776, have been on friendly terms. Both are republics. On the other hand, pop-ular irritation against England has existed from the first, and there always has been in American politics a large anti-English faction, usually the dom-inant one.—New York Sun.
