Scranton pulled out of last place yes terday by defeating Wilkes-Barre and through the Providence Grays' vic-tory at Springfield. Scranton outfielded. out-batted and out-pitched the Alligators. Providence won from Spring-field in the last inning. Dan Shannon's hired men pounded out eight runs in one inning against Syracuse. Pitcher McPartlin, of the Torontos, had the Bison batters on tip-toe, and the Canucks won easily.

WE WIN.

Harper Pitched Good Ball and Got the Proper Kind of Support.

But for Eddie Rafferty's wild throw to third to block a double steal, Wilkes-Barre would have been goose-egged on its own grounds yesterday, and but for Wilkes-Barre's errors at critical points Scranton would have been kept down to three .uns. Instead of a score of 3 to 0, however, Scranton won by 7 to 1. It was a pretty pitching contest between Harper and Keenan, in which the Brooklyn farmer had slightly the best of Harper gave only seven hits for ight bases and one base on balls, while Keenan was negotiated for elever hits for thirteen bases, but he is credited with three strike-outs and escaped without a pitching error, which makes his performance anything but Eagan, Meaney and Ward seemed destined to be Harper's chief support, and Latham pulled it in. Smith tried and they accepted successfully the to make second on the out but failed many difficult chances which came their way. Eagan made three running catches and Meaney one of the kind that made the anxious crank's hair curl, while Ward, who played fire made himself solid by gathering i and around his bailiwick. While the percentage record no shows that Scranton has won two an Wilkes-Barre three games, each clu has won two of the four games actua ly played, as one victory credited Wilkes-Barre was a game awarded th Alligators on a technicality here Tue day. So today's game between th two clubs here, will, if not in theory actually be the odd and decisive gam DIGGINS WAS HURT.

Diggins was hit on the knee-cap by foul tip in the second inning and wi sent to grass. He suffered great pa for a few minutes, but pluckily fi ished the inning. Wente took Diggin place at the beginning of the third. In the absence of Manager McDe mott, who had not returned from h jaunt after players, the team was yes terday in charge of Mr. Brooks, I der to give Pitcher Horner the rest which seems due him, considering his regular position on the team, but Horner was put in the game and accepted successfully the two high flies which came his way. Mr. Brooks's name appeared in the score-card but ting order.

Scranton was first at bat and Latham opened with a sizzling ground hit which was too hot for Smith to field. Hutchinson sent a grounder to Earl, who assisted to McMahon in time to out Latham and the ball was returned to Earl quick enough to make Hutchinson the second out on a snappy double play. Meaney was thrown out at first. Lyttle went at Harper in a fashion which looked ominous. He rapped a liner into left for two bags and reached third on Lezotte's out from Harper to Ward, but the ticklish period ended on a high foul to Ward and a fly to Horner.

FIRST RUN-GETTING. Second inning-Ward flew out to Smith. Eagan dropped a two base fungo into short left field which Lytle ran over, Eagan reaching third on Rafferty's out at first. McMahon fumbled Maguire's grounder and Eagan scored. Harper went out to Earl. For Wilkes-Barre Earl popped a high fly which Hutchinson muffed back of second.

Smith's fungo sent Earl to second and after McMahon flew out to Maguire Earl and Smith started a double steal. Rafferty threw high over Latham and Earl scored. A high foul to Rafferty and a fly to Meaney ended the inning.

Score 1-1. Third inning-Horner fanned, Latham had the third strike called on him and Hutchinson was put out trying to steal second after reaching first on a hit. With two out Betts singled and reached second on a passed ball. Bonner flew out to Ward.

Fourth inning-Meaney struck out and Ward singled, but Eagan flew out to Betts and Rafferty fouled out. Earl cuse Tried Three Pitchers Against singled and stele second. Smith went out from Maguire to Ward and Earl reached third on McMahon's out on Harper's assist. Wente hit a long high one which Eagan gathered in on foul territory after a long, hard run.

Fifth inning-Magnire singled and Harper bunted safely. Each advanced a bag on Horner's sacrifice and both scored on Latham's hard line drive to right center. Latham tried to make two bases on the hit and was out on Lezotte's assist. Hutch fouled out to Smith. Three Wilkes-Barrean's failed to reach first. Score 3-1.

THREE UNEARNED RUNS. Sixth inning-With Meaney disposed of at first Ward singled and went to second on Bett's muff of Eagan's fly Rafferty flew out to Lezotte. Maguire hit a liner to Lezotte which bounded through him to the fence, allowing Ward and Eagan to score and Maguire to make the circuit with a foot or two to spare. Harper flew out to Bonner. Betts was retired at first and Bonner singled to right. Earl smashed one toward Meaney which seemed destined for the Susquehanna river but Patrick captured it. The catch was a beaut and deserved the applause which followed. Smith drew the only base on balls in the whole game. McMahon flew out to Eagan. Score 6-1. Seventh inning-Two fly-outs and grounder to Earl disposed of Horner, Latham and Hutch. Only three Alligators faced Harper, an outfield and infield fly and an assist to first doing the business. Eighth inning-Meaney hit a pretty liner to left, went to second on Ward's sacrifice and crossed the plate on Eagan's double to left. Rafferty's out at first sent Pete to third but Maguire flew out to Betts. With one out Maguire made a good one-hand stop of Betts' bouncer, but could not recover in time to field it successfully. It was not a costly hit, for Bonner fouled to Ward and Earl flew out to right. Score

FINAL DOUBLE PLAY. Ninth inning-Harper and Horner flew out and Latham reached first on McMahon's error but made a failure of an attempt to steal. Smith singled to right. McMahon flew out to Meaney. Wente hit a high foul back of third Syracuse-Rochester.

Syracuse, N. Y., June 3.—Syracuse was deluged today. She never saw the light of day after the sixth inning, when Roch-ester wielded the willow with such effect that the runs piled up in spite of the ter-rific efforts of the Stars to stay defeat. Whitehill was in no form whatever, lacking speed and control of the ball. Mason and Delaney were in turn substituted.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

The champions won from Pittsburg the sixth consecutive game of the season. It was bitterly contested throughout, the umpires and players being involved in wrangles from start to finish. The first five runs scored by the Brooklyns were sent in by Corcoran, who hit safely each time he toed the plate. Philadelphia turned the tables on Cincinnati and managed to win one game of the series. The Quakers fielded without an error and batted when hits were needed. At Washingon there was a great pitching battle between Mercer and Young with the honors about even. In the ninth inning singles by Rogers and Brown and Joyce's two bagger tied the score. In the tenth McGuire's three base hit and Rogers out put Washington in the lead, but Burkett's home run again tied the score. Tebeau was put out of the game in the tenth inning for abusing Umpire Emsile. The game was called at the end of the eleventh inning on ac-count of darkness. Loose fielding on both sides characterized the game at Boston. The Chicagos managed to wir from the New Yorks because they hit the ball harder. Clarke was relieved

LIVELY COLLEGE GAME.

Georgetown Defeats Cornell in a Pretty Contest at Athletic Park---Each Had a Star Twirler.

Scrantonians yesterday had an opportunity of seeing a real collegiate game of base ball, but despite the fact that the opposing teams, Georgetown and Cornell, are among the most notable, and that the weather man was simply delightful, only about 700 persons were in attendance.

These 700, however, made up in interest and enthusiasm for the poverty of numbers. Three-fourths of the audience was composed of close adherents of the two universities, and they let no occasion pass to show that they were still in touch with alma mater. They all wore colors, the crimson and white of Cornell, or the blue and gray of Georgetown, and throughout the game there was an incessant alteration of "Hola - Hola - Saxa - Hola - Hola -Georgetown-Hoia," or the war whoop of the Ithacans, "Cornell-Cornell-I-yell-I-yell-Cornell." A goodly portion of the attendants came to the game in carriages, which, with their decorations and decorated occupants, added additional college flavor to the secene There were also many out of town people present, Pittston, Wilkes-Barre and Carbondale each sending delegations of alumni or friends of the under graduates. SOME OLD-TIMERS.

Among the spectators were Rev John J. Healey, of Pleasant Mount, and M. P. McCann, of this city, who comprised the Georgetown battery in the latter part of the '80's; Dr. Robert F. Carmody, of Towanda, who was one of Georgetown's pitchers last year, and Attorney John J. Murphy, of this city, who held down third bag for the blue and gray last year.

The Georgetown adherents had a great number of opportunities for yelling, as the southerners had the best of it by a slight margin all through the game, winning finally by a score of 8 to 5. It was close and exciting to the very finish, and although it was a lively, well-played game, It lacked in a degree the snap and dash that are characteristic of college games. The me were as lively though as could be expected under the circumstances. Both have been on long journeys and are just winding up their annual tours. George town's team did not arrive in the city until 3 o'clock, and in consequence of this and a break down to their bus on the way to the grounds it was after 4 o'clock when they reached the grounds Only a few minutes were given to warming up and at 4.15 Umpire Beatty Williams, of Princeton, called the game, Cornell going to the bat.

TWO STAR PITCHERS.

Much of the interest in the game centered in the two pitchers, Mahoney and Young, both of whom have won big reputations on the college diamond. Mahoney stands six feet, four inches, weighs 210 pounds and is an all round athlete, being one of the four members of the Georgetown relay team which has as its leading man Wefers, the world's champion sprinter. Mahoney is a heady pitcher and has terrifle speed, but owing to the fact that his catcher this year is not heavy enough to stand a constant cannonading, he has to rely in a great measure upon his wide curves and change of pace. Young, the Cornell twirler, is as small as Mahoney is big, but he has a great left wing and good head. After pitching against the University of Pennsylvania the day before, making eleven strike-outs, he had no hesitancy in going into the box again yesterday and remarkable to state the longer he pitched the stronger he seemed to get. He led his team in batting, fielding faultlessly and is the boldest and best thief seen on the Scranton diamond in many a day, one of his feats being the theft of second, third and home on hard chances. Berger has not been playing steadily this season. Negotietions were made with him by the Scranton owners during Manager McDermott's trip. McDermott could have signed Berger during the club's series at Springfield and Providence. His fielding percentage rank last year was seventh among fourteen averages; he hit .288. The signing of Berger is timely, as Rafferty has rounded into splendid form and is entitled to occasional relief and rest, something he has not been able to get until now. Rafferty will be the first and regular team catcher,
