BICYCLE ORDINANCE SUBSTITUTE

Was Drafted by a Prominent Cyclist and Introduced by the Much, but Unjustly, Abused Mr. Lansing. Afraid the Trinidad Company Will Not Live Up to Their Contract.

According to announcement Mayor Palley last night submitted to select ouncil the apointment of John Fitzsimmons, to succeed Patrolman Joseph Taylor, resigned, and Peter J. McCann, to fill the vacancy on the board of park commissioners, caused by the death of Daniel P. Mannix. He also appointed Joseph Schoff, as permanent man at the Crystal Engine house, to succeed John Lily, resigned. Under the rules they were referred to their respective committees, to lay over until the next meeting, or maybe longer.

Mr. Lansing for the judiciary committee, of which he is chairman, reported a substitute to his original howl-raising bicycle ordinance. It was drafted by the president of one of the leading bicycle clubs, adopted by the committee, and as it eliminates the objectionable features of the rough original will doubtlessly meet with no objection from

It requires the rgistration and numbring of bicycles, as in the former ordinance, but reduces the fee from $1 to 25 cents and specifies that the money thus obtained shall be expended in repairing streets. Cycles must be equipped with bells and lanterns, coasting or riding with hands off the bars are forbidden, speed is limited to eight miles an hour, riding or propelling a cycle on a sidewalk is prohibited and the left side of the rode must be avoided as much as possible,

Should a rider collide with a person walking or standing on a cross walk, he must give his name and number if called upon to do so. The bell must be rung in approaching a cross walk. Penalties ranging from $5 to $25 are pravided for infringement of any of the sections of the ordinance. The measure was referred for printing, without

A petition was received from the property holders on North Washington avenue, between Gibson street and Electric avenue, praying that the city take steps to compel the Trinidad Asphalt company to repair the pavement on that portion of the street according to the term of the five year agreement. which expires in Augus next. President Sanderson presented a resolution directing the street commissioner to attend to the matter and it was adopted. In a conference with City Solicitor Torrey, the judiciary committee was told to pay no heed to the threat of the Turnpike company that it would repair West Market street at the city's expense, if the city did not move to do the same within five days, and on the strength of the solicitor's opinion and their own good judgment the committee through Chairman Lansing recommended that the Turnpike company's ommunication be simply filed. This was done, without discussion. Council reconsidered its summary action in killing the ordinances providing for parrowing Clay avenue from Pine street to the city line, and Mulberry street from Wyoming avenue to Adams, and in order that the petitioners might be given an opportunity of being heard the measures were held until a future meeting. Chief Hickey in a communication suggested that an amendment be made to the fire ordinance requiring that every engine in the fire department be given a run and worked for at least an hour every two weeks for the purpose of edu-

The three gentlemen referrd to are Messrs. P. J., M. P. and M. C. Judge, brothers thre who were born. and bred at the Delaware, and who are well known to many of our citizens. P. J. Judge, until recently, was the outside foreman at the Connell Coal company at Scranton. Mr. Judge has had a wide ex-perience in the preparation of coal, and was widely known even in his early days in this section prior to his leaving in 1868 He was taught the mysteries of prepar ing coal by George Spencer, of the Delaware mines, about one mile north of here, when but 12 years of age. After re-moving to Scranton he followed working in the mines, and eventually became con-nected with the Connell Coal company as foreman, faithfully performing the duties in that capacity for the past sixteen years at each of their four collieries. There are hopes that he may return home in the nca

Prosperity seemed to be in his grasp from the very beginning. The successes of the three in different fields of business speaks well for the early youths of Minersville, a number of whom have been eminently successful in Scranton, th most enterorising inland city of the state. The Messrs. Judges were domiciled at the Merchants' hotel. Pottsville, during their stay in Schuylkill county. CONDUCTOR HOFFNER'S TESTIMONY

He Swore That the Plaintiff Climbed Upon a High Wagon After the Accident--Closing Argaments Made by Attorneys Hand for the Defendant and Burns for the Plaintiff -- Gavigan Suit Also Ending.

Judge Archbald will charge the jury this morning in the Luxemberger trespass suit against the Scranton Traction company, and Judge Edwards will charge the Jury in the Gavigan trespass suit against the Atlantic Refining com-Dany

Testimony of the defendant's side in the Luxemberger case sought to prove that the woman's condition is due more to an attack of la grippe which she suffered in 1893, that to the violence of the accident she sustained on Jan. 6, 1894, for which she is saing to recover damages. William Hoffner, the baseball player, was conductor of the car on which she was riding and he swere that after the car had jumped the track he found her with the other passengers thrown from the seats to the floor of the car but that she got up unassisted and walked out of the car and climbed up on a high wagon on which she rode the rest of the way to Taylor. A stone on the rail was what threw the car off the track.

Dr. W. E. Allen was called to testify as an expert and he said that if Mrs. Luxemberger had a severe attack of the grip in 1893 it might be the cause of her present condition. She is lame and the lower limbs are varicose. She suffered also from subacute spinal

MATTER OF COMPENSATION.

Mr. Newcomb among other questions on cross-examination inquired from the witness what compensation he gets as an expert witnes for the Traction company but the court sustained Judge Jessup's objection and the doctor was not required to answer the question. Dr. Charles W. Burr, of Philadelphia, gave expert testimony. He examined Mrs. Luxemberger last Monday and found her short of breath and in a debilitated condition. He diagnosed her case as enlargement of the heart and not as the result of the street car accident.

Attorney Horace E. Hand made the closing argument to the fury for the defendant and Attorney I. H. Burns closed for the plaintiff. Mr. Hand argued that Mrs. Luxemberger was not entitled to recover because her condition did not arise from the accident. and because the company was negligent. A small stone on the rail threw the car off the track while the car was going only at a moderate rate of speed.

THE CLOSING ARGUMENT. Mr. Burns argued that the testimony showed the car to be going at a high rate of speed. Mrs. Luxemberger said it was going like a streak. He scouted the idea that she was in court trumping up a case against the company would not exchange her health if she had it for all the money the company was bound to carry her safely and when it did not is liable for damager pay her for loss of health and the loss to her family for the pain she has suffered.

Hon, W. W. Watson closed the case for the defendants in the suit of James Gavigan against the Atlantic Refining company and Hon. John P. Kelley closed for the plaintiff.

A New Remedy Which Will Do It.

Chronic Dyspepsia is considered by many people to be nearly if not quite incurable. No good reason can be given why they think so except that perhaps they have tried various remedies without much, if any benefit.

But the progress in every branch of medicine has been such that among other things a lasting cure for indigesion in its chronic form as well as gestion in its chronic form as well as temporary has been discovered and is now placed before the public strictly on its merits as a permanent cure for all stornach troubles or difficulties with the digestive organs.

This new treatment is called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, being put up in tablet form so as to be easily taken and also to preserve its good qualities for an indefinite length of time.

This remedy has produced surprising effects in the worst forms of indiges-tion, and in many cases where ordin-ary remedies failed to give even relief. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have fully on stomach diseases or ask your drug-

Hon. M. E. McDonald, representing Vito Girardo, of Dunmore, commenced an equity suit against the borough of Dunmore and Street Commissioner George Jackson yesterday. Judge Gunster granted a preliminary injunction and made it returnable on Monday, June 8, at 9 a. m.

The plaintiff keeps a saloon on Willow street and owns two lots across the street from his place of business. The street commissioner a few days ago began to excavate on Laurel street for the purpose of constructing a pipe line to receive the water from the hillside above. Girardo claims that this water will empty on his two lots on Willow street and he asks the court to stop the street commissioner from proceeding further.

The case will be heard on depositions. This is the second time the same plain tiff has objected to the borough in diverting water to his land.
