MAY CHANGE HANDS.

The New Buffalo and the Old Butler

Collieries to Be Leased. It is rumored that the Butler breaker on Belmont street will commence operations shortly. The breaker will change hands and will probably be controlled by the Ontario and Western. W. W. Watkins has been making offers for the colliery but the Ontario and Western seem to be determined to have it. If the change is made and the colliery opened it will be a great benefit to Carbondale as it will give employment to a large number of men and boys. The report has it that the lease will be made out at once and work on the reconstruction will soon be going on.

Another report which seems to have a more substantial foundation is to the effect that the new Buffalo mines will be leased shortly to the Northwest Coal company. The mines have been operated by Williams & Lindsay, of Scran-whether due to the inheritance of some scrofulous disorder, or caused by a depleted condition of the system, is the cause of much agony. A terrible complexion, foul eruptions, and loathesome ulcers are but outward symptoms the sufferer should remember that all of the great organs of the body are likewise diseased, and the day cannot be long distant when death must surely ensue.

when taken for this trouble, is a means of salvation. It creates new flesh tissue and pure red blood corpuscles, and by giving strength to the great vital centres of the body, it enables them to perform their functions naturally, and thus dispel the existing poisons by the natural channels. It is not a medicine, but a powerful food preparation and invigorant, and is endorsed by over 25,000 physicians.

SERIOUS CAVE-IN.

May Affect the Delaware and Hudson Gravity Tracks.

Another of the cave-ins, which have been occurring on the South Side, took place yesterday. The fall is near No. I shaft but this may prove to be more serious than the previous ones. The hole is about ten feet in diameter and the earth has sunk about twelve feet. The entire land nearby is undermined and falls are frequent. As this one is near the Delaware and Hudson tracks and the ground is badly cracked around it, it may damage the tracks.

ARCHBALD.

William Brennan, sr., of Salem street, died at 10 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Brennan had been ailing for a long time, but it was only within the past few days that his condition became alarming. The deceased was one of the oldest and most highly esteemed residents of this borough. He came here about thirty-five years ago and his long residence and many good qualities made him a familiar and respected character. He was the father of William Brennan, Kearn Brennan, Michael F. Brennan, Miss Bridget Brennan, Mrs. Timothy Burke and Mrs. John Lane, of this place; Miss Mary Brennan, of Scranton, and Miss Annie Brennan, of Omaha, Nebraska, The funeral took place yesterday afternoon. At 3 o'clock the remains were taken to St. Thomas' church where the burial service was performed by Rev. T. J. Comerford. The remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery. The pall-bearers were: Andrew McDermott, of Green Ridge, and Thomas K. Munley, Martin Cum-mings, James Murphy, John McAndrew and James Laader, of this place. Th funeral was very large and it included many from every part of the valley.

The "Mystic Midgets," produced by the children of the public schools crowded Father Mathew Opera House last evening. The little ones who had been preparing for the past few weeks, acted their parts with remarkable skill and the singing especially was worthy of note. The teachers who had charge of the performance are to be congratulated on their success. The entertainment will be repeated this evening.

WHAT FAMOUS WOMEN

HAVE SAID ABOUT MEN "When a man is capable of self-knowledge he is rarely deceleved as to his own state; and presentiment is oft but judgment in disguise."—Madame De Stael.

"There are men whose presence infuses trust and reverence; there are others to whom we have need to carry our trust and reverence ready-made."—George Eliot. "If all the truth were known, most men would look foolish; and the men who thank God that they were not as other men, soonest of all."—Mrs. Humphrey

"Even a man who has practiced himself in love-making till his own glibness has rendered him skeptical may at last be overtaken by the lover's awe."—George Ellot.

"A man nowadays is, in the long run, personally profitable, far more by what he is than by what he has—so far at least has 'progress' brought us."—Mrs. Humphrey Ward. "No man-or, so it seems to me, at least unless he has passed all his life before a mirror, or as a portrait painter-can have a yery exact idea of his own appearance."

"It is always incomprehensible to a mar that a woman should ever refuse an offer of marriage. A man always imagines a woman to be ready for anybody who asks her."—Jane Austen.

"A man loved by a beautiful and virtuous woman carries a talisman that renders him invulnerable; all feel that such a one's life has a higher value than that of others."—George Sand. "You meet some men jealous enough to stab their rivals, others sufficiently mod-est to accept the second place in the es-teem of a woman whose company they enjoy."—Madame De Stael.

"A sensible man ought to banish from his mind whatever can be of no service to himself or others. Are we not placed here below to be useful first, and conse-quently happy?"-Madame De Stael.

"I don't say that men are not so con-stant as women, but they have a greater capacity for seeing more than one side of a question."—Edna Lyall. "Women are told that 'the great, the important business of their life is love,' but men know they are born for something beter than to sing mournful dittles to a mistress' eyebrow."—Maria Edgeworth.

"Half-hearted and ouble-faced men resemble husbandmen who prune sallent twigs from a poisonous plant, by that very pruning strengthening the deep-seated, unattacked root."—Christina G. Rossetti.

"To be the strength, the inmost joy, of a man who within the conditions of his life seems to you a hero at every turn— there is no happiness more penetrating for a wife than this."—Mrs. Humphrey Ward.
