NEW OPERATING ROOM AT MOSES TAYLOR

It is Not Surpassed by Any Other in the State.

SUMMARY OF ITS APPOINTMENTS

Conrad Schroeder Was the Builder and the Plans Were Prepared by Architect L. C. Holden—Work Was Supervised by Architect C. F. Winkelman—Will Be Ready for Occupancy Next Week.

No finer operating room than the new one just completed at the Moses Taylor hospital can be seen in this state. The exterior finish is of red brick with brown stone trimmings and copper roof in keeping with the style of the other building. It is 42 feet and 8 inches wide, 47 feet and 4 inches long, and 27 feet high. It will be ready for use next week.

The interior arrangement is a model of architectural skill, the work of Architect L. C. Holden, of the Commonwealth building. Architect C. F. Winkelman, of Mr. Holden's office supervised the work of the construction, and to his ability is due in a large measure the success of the improvement. Conrad Schroeder was the builder, the plumbing and sanitary work was done by P. F. and M. T. Howley, of Wyoming avenue.

When the patient is taken out of the ward he is carried along a corridor leading to the operating room, which is located between the south ward and the kitchen. After leaving the corridor the patient is carried into the etherizing room, the dimensions of which are 11 feet, 4 inches by 12 feet, 6 inches. This room has a marble mosaic floor and white marble wainscoting.

THE OPERATING ROOM.

From this room there is an entrance to the operating room, which is fitted up with large windows with western, northern and southern light. There is a large ventilator and skylight. The dimensions are 18 by 20 feet, and the most improved sinks and basins are provided. The wainscoting is of white marble and is 6 feet high. The floor is marble mosaic and drains to a cess pool in the center. There is a glass operating table and the usual paraphernalia. The sink is arranged so that the water can be turned on and off with a person's foot, to avoid the necessity of the physician handling the valves when his hands may be stained with the effects of the operating table. The wainscoting is made six feet high so that the blood may not spurt on the plastering.

Opening off from the operating room is the sterilizing room, 11 feet, 4 inches by 10 feet, 6 inches. There are kept the cloths, bandages, applications, and the water used in infectious cases. The instrument room is off from the sterilizing room. The dimensions are 12 feet, 6 inches by 10 feet, 6 inches. The instruments are kept there in glass cases.

From the operating room the patient is removed to the recovery room, the dimensions of which are 18 by 19 feet. After an operation the patient is never removed sooner than from 2 to 10 hours back to the ward. In connection with the recovery and etherizing rooms there is a dressing room for the surgeons, fitted up with lavatories and lockers.

MARBLE USED EVERYWHERE.

The etherizing, dressing and operating rooms have marble mosaic floors and marble wainscoting. The recovery room has a polished hard wood floor, with marble base. The sterilizing and instrument rooms have marble floors and marble base finishing. All the rooms are plastered with Keene's cement, which makes them almost impervious to water and matter. They are rendered further impervious by being painted with a white enamel finish.

The doors and jambs of the operating room are marble, and the sashes of all the windows are marble. In fact there is no wood at all in the operating room. The window frames are iron and the panes are obscure glass. The angles at the floor and ceiling are rounded out and there are no corners provide a lurking place for germs or the accumulation of dust. There is very little wood used in the construction of the annex to the end that it shall be absolutely fire proof.

The annex is heated by indirect steam and every room is well ventilated and lighted by gas and electricity.

NORRIS BROTHERS' SHOW.

One Hundred Trained Shetland Ponies and Dogs Will Perform.
There is certainly a treat in store for Scranton amusement seekers and more especially the children, whose fondest dreams will be realized when they are permitted to visit the famous Norris Bros' trained animal show which will exhibit at Adams avenue and Mulberry street all next week at popular prices.

The company consists of 100 handsome and well trained Shetland ponies and dogs, furnishing an entertainment that is highly amusing and instructive and one which, in the result of kindness to the brute creation is fully illustrated.

A very novel street parade will leave the show grounds at 11 a. m. Monday and pass through the principal streets of the city, giving everybody a chance to see the largest and handsomest collection of trained domestic animals in the world, including snowflakes, the only pure white Shetland pony in existence; Caesar, the white Newfoundland dog; Forepaugh, only Portuguese cattle dog in America; five carriages loaded down with handsome and intelligent dogs from all parts of the globe, and a number of beautiful little chariots drawn by cute little ponies.

DEATH OF MRS. RICARDO.

It Has Caused a Big Stir on Ferdinand Street.

For several days rumors of a sensational character have been in circulation concerning the death of the wife of Raffal Ricardo, of Ferdinand street, North End, on Friday of last week. About 5 o'clock the day preceding her death Dr. Ray, of Green Ridge, was called in and found her suffering from congestion of the brain. Mr. Ricardo claims that this congestion was brought about by continual weeping. It seems that Mr. Ricardo erected fence posts a few weeks ago and some of the neighbors took advantage of this and tied their clothes lines to them.

This not being in accordance with Mrs. Ricardo's liking, she ordered them to desist. They complied with her request, but before doing so Mr. Ricardo claims that they made numerous threats. Mrs. Ricardo took the threats seriously and continually worried about them. Three weeks ago she went to an alienist, and after stating her case tried to obtain some means whereby the alleged continual threatenings of the neighbors might be stopped.

The alienist advised her to go home and not worry. She paid no heed to his advice.

Thursday morning Dr. Strang was summoned, who told a Tribune reporter yesterday that the mind of the woman was somewhat deranged, caused by a continual worryment. The neighbors whom Mr. Ricardo accuses, do not relish the statements he makes, and propose to force him to make a retraction if he continues to circulate the stories.

They claim that the mind of Mrs. Ricardo seemed to have been slightly affected and yesterday morning, in order to find out the real truth of the matter, they waited upon Dr. Ray, who told them that he had on several occasions attended her for congestive headaches.

HIGH SCHOOL FACULTY.

Some Announcements Expected Next Monday Night.

There will possibly be some announcements in connection with the faculty of the new high school next Monday night at the board of school meeting. The high and training school committee held a meeting last night behind closed doors to discuss this and other matters relating to the new school.

The members of the committee said that in justice to the applicants they could not give out anything regarding the meeting, but if they came to any definite conclusion it would be announced at the meeting; if not it would go over until the next meeting.

FELL INTO RESERVOIR.

Ten-Year-Old John Phillips, of This City, Drowned at Chinchilla White Fishing.

One of the employes of the Providence Gas and Water company, while fishing in the Griffin reservoir at Chinchilla yesterday morning, pulled up the body of John Phillips, the 10-year-old son of Zida Phillips, of Edwards court, West Side.

The boy was drowned the day before about noon time, but he was not missed until his body was recovered. Dr. E. M. Pennypacker, deputy coroner, in the afternoon empaneled a jury consisting of T. J. Akerly, Loren Akerly, M. P. Akerly, James Griffin, James Leach and Avery White. Evidence was taken before the jury which resulted in a verdict of accidental drowning.

The boy left home the fore part of the week and was visiting his grandfather, Hosea Phillips, at Justus, Scott township. The old man lives a mile away from the reservoir, and close to the reservoir lives a married half-brother of the boy. The deceased spent his time alternating between both houses and in that way was not missed.

On Thursday morning he went to the reservoir with his half-brother and they arranged some nets in the water near a submerged stone wall. The top of the wall was only a few inches below the level of the water. The man went back to the house at the call of his wife and left the boy at the water. How he was drowned was probably by walking on the submerged wall and falling from it into the water. There was a contused wound on his temple, showing that he struck against something, likely the edge of the wall, in falling. His half-brother thought when he did not come to his house that he went over to his grandfather's. The funeral will take place there. The body was not removed to his father's home in this city.

IN TWELVE SHORT YEARS.

Wonderful Work That Has Been Accomplished by S. L. Gallen.

This week will mark the twelfth anniversary of the beginning of the business career in this city of S. L. Gallen, proprietor of the Penn Clothing and Shoe house, at 137 and 139 Penn avenue. He proposes to make the occasion memorable by a grand bargain carnival, during the coming week, at which men's clothing, boys' clothing, shoes, hats and general furnishings goods will be sold at prices that will be a real treat to the words can possibly describe. As a further evidence of his appreciation of public favor, Mr. Gallen also announces that during the sale referred to he will donate one-half of one per cent. of the profits of the entire sales for the week of the grand bargain carnival, to be equally divided among the several charitable institutions of the city.

Mr. Gallen's success has been remarkable as well as merited. The store in which he began business twelve years ago was 20x50 feet in size, but year by year he was compelled to increase his facilities until his establishment reached the gigantic proportions it possesses today. This steady growth in favor with the buying public was the result of the broad, liberal policy pursued by Mr. Gallen from the moment he launched his business.

He kept faith with the public and gave them at least a dollar in value for every dollar they expended. That is the foundation stone on which his success was built.

CAPTURED A HORSE THIEF.

This Was Some Time Ago, and Now the Captor Wants the Reward.

A rule was granted by the court yesterday on the county commissioners to show cause why they shall not pay $20 reward to Henry Smith for capturing a horse thief. Mr. Smith is represented by Attorneys Jones & Powderly.

His son, Owen, last September drove up to the Benton Baptist church to attend a social, and when he came out he saw a horse and carriage had disappeared. The petitioner went on the trail and traced the outfit to Mill City. Fourteen-year-old Johnny Green, who is now in the Huntington reformatory, was the thief. Mr. Smith caught him and handed him over to Constable William Knight, of Benton, who brought him to jail.

JOHN CRANE INJURED.

Crushed by a Fall of Top Coal in No. 5 Colliery.

John Crane was crushed beneath a fall of top coal in No. 5 colliery of the Pennsylvania Coal company at Dunmore Thursday evening. He was engaged in tearing down a loose piece of rock when the accident occurred. The injured man was removed to his home on Potter street, where it was found that his collar bone was broken and his right knee dislocated. He will recover.

DR. M. J. WILLIAMS SUCCEEDS STRANGE

Chosen Out-Door Physician for the Providence District.

DR. JENKINS WAS ALSO NAMED

Director Shotten's Arguments in His Behalf Did Not Win the Other Members of the Board--To Readvertise for Bids for an Electrical Plant on Account of an Omission in the Specifications.

Dr. Morgan J. Williams, of the West Side, was yesterday chosen out-door physician by the poor board for the Providence portion of the district to succeed Dr. A. Strange who was at the last meeting of the board chosen re-reading physician at the Hillside home. Dr. Williams has for some time been out-door physician for the West Side but will now have charge of both and receive therefor $400 per year.

Thomas Shotten, the director who represents Providence, nominated Dr. Jenkins as Dr. Strange's successor. He said that it would be unjust to the people of his portion of the district to go to the West Side when they needed the services of a physician and that it would be much better for all concerned to have a physician located nearer to the people he will be called upon to treat. Dr. Strange's successor, Dr. Williams, Mr. Shotten's argument evidently did not have a very powerful effect on the directors for Dr. Williams was chosen. Dr. Palmer, Mr. Fuller, Mrs. Swan and Mr. Langstaff voting for him and Mr. Shotten and Mr. Tereppo for Dr. Jenkins.

READVERTISE FOR BIDS.

After the minutes of the previous meeting were read Mr. Fuller of the home committee announced that in his mail yesterday he received a bid for the electric plant at the Hillside home.

There was no mark on the envelope to indicate what it contained and he opened the letter and found that the bid enclosed was unaccompanied by a check for five per cent. of the amount bid. He looked up the specifications and found they did not provide for the five per cent check. In view of this omission he moved that all of the bids be returned unopened, that the specifications be corrected and new bids advertised for. This motion was seconded by Mrs. Swan and unanimously agreed to.

The case of Mrs. Catharine Sampson, colored, the mother of six children, who was deserted by her husband five weeks ago was referred to Director Fuller with power to render assistance. It was decided to purchase special eye glasses for a boy named Henry Epstein, who has been a hospital patient and whose parents are unable to buy glasses for him.

SAD PROVIDENCE CASE.

William J. Thomas, of Providence, who is almost blind as a result of a mine accident, was allowed $6 per month for three months. Superintendent Beemer reported that Patrick Maguire, who was in the insane department some time ago and was released by order of court, returned to the institution voluntarily last week. Steps will be taken to have him examined and regularly committed.

A communication was received from James Jones, of the Jenkin township poor district, asking if this district can take care of their urgent insane cases. He was requested to appear before the board yesterday but failed to do so.

The superintendent's report showed that during May there were 11 males and 20 females in the home; number at last report 149, number admitted 10, discharged 16, died 2, number there at present 141.

The report of Dr. Ben T. Evans as resident physician for May was read by his successor, Dr. Strange. Number of patients treated: June 5, Insane 29; number of patients in asylum May 30, 170; received during month 7; discharged 2; remaining June 1, 175.
