WEEK'S DOINGS IN RELIGIOUS CIRCLES

Arrangements Being Made for the Big Christian Endeavor Convention.

WILL HAVE THREE MEETING PLACES

The Frothingham Theatre, Academy of Music and Elm Park Church Will Be Used and Meetings Held Simultaneously in Them -- Notes About Church Workers -- Sunday Services in the Churches.

The Christian Endeavorers have solved a big problem in connection with the big state convention to be held here Oct. 6, 7 and 8. For months the executive committee had been trying to devise some plan for a temporary convention hall that would seat from four to six thousand persons but without success, inaccessibility being the chief impediment. Finally it was suggested that meetings be held simultaneously in Elm Park church, the Frothingham theater and the Academy of Music.

This has been decided upon. The convention will begin at 4 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, 6th inst., though the formal opening will not be until the evening. In each of the three places in the evening there will be an address of welcome. The response in one meeting will be by Rev. J. T. Mc-Crory, of Pittsburg, president of the State union; in the second by Rev. Charles Hoads, D. D., of Philadelphia, ex-president; and in the third by Rev. George B. Stewart, D D., of Harrisburg, also ex-president. The reports of President McCrory, Secretary George Mc-Donald, of Altoona, and Treasurer H. J. Raymore, of Erie, will be given in each. At 6.30 Wednesday and Thursday morning there will be sunrise meetings in each section of the city.

PROGRAMME FOR SESSIONS. The programme for the morning, afternoon and evening sessions of Wednesday and Thursday is to be duplicated so far as possible in each place of meeting. The morning meetings will close at 11.30 o'clock for short noon services. At 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoof all meetings will be closed and there will be one general service for junior societies. Wednesday evening each society will give a reception for the delegates whose headquarters are in their particular church. The closing meeting on Thursday evening in each meeting place will be a consecration service. Three choirs have been organized, one for each of the places where the con-vention will meet. The central city choir is under the direction of Prof. Chance; the North Scranton choir in charge of Reese Watkins, and the Hyde Park choir, led by Lewis Davies. Each of them is now learning an anthem, and the united chorus is also at work on one. These will probably be sung at a mass meeting late in July.

There are to be four squads of fifty
