EASTERN LEAGUE.

This is change-about day in the Eastern, the northern clubs beginning TODAY'S GAMES. Toronto at Scranton.

Buffalo at Wilkes-Barre. Syracuse at Providence Rochester at Springfield.

Providence with a firm grip on first place after one of the most successful trips in the history of the league, seems destined at home to improve its already big percentage. Of the teams on the road Toronto and Rochester may be expected to make the best showing, while Syracuse and Buffalo, especially the latter, will do well to win half their Scranton and Springfield, of the four home clubs, have been greatly strengthened and will show up strong in their future work. Springfield certainly will, and Scranton may if at least one strengthening pitcher is secured. Dissatisfaction among players. manager and directorate is spoiling Wilkes-Barre's chances.

DIAMOND DUST.

McGraw expects to rejoin the Baltiores in a few days.

Boston got only three hits off Terry, of the Chicagos, yesterday. Cardinal Satolli saw the game at Boston Thursday, it being the first base ball contest he had ever witnessed. Says the Toronto Globe: "What the Torontos lack is a home run hitter. Freeman last season performed that feat with great frequency, but this year, though he has improved notably in fielding, he has fallen off greatly in batting. O'Brien, from a hitting standpoint, is the star of the team but Dakhants is the star of the team but Delehanty is the star of the team but Delehanty is the surest and most reliable batsman. He makes the opposing twirfers pitch to him all the time. * * It is claimed by Manager Buckenberger that Left Fleider O'Brien is the best throwing fielder in the league. It is an easy thing for him to throw out a man at the plate from deep in the field. A trial will be made shortly to ascertain exactly how far he can propel the sphere."

Whew! what a roast for Jack Chapman! There must be trouble in the jabbering camp of Wilkes-Barre directors to occa-sion the following which appeared in yesterday's News-Dealer: Something has to be done to make the Wilkes-Barre club win games. We want a new manager and one badly. Chapman has been a fallure from the start and the results of his in-competency are growing more noticeable each day. The club instead of improving each day. The club Instead of improving is growing worse, the men are falling off in their playing and are putting up a game which they are doubtless heartily ashamed of, and every lover of the game shares this feeling. The boys can play much better ball, and they will do it under proper management. It is evident, however, that as long as Chapman remains in charge they will not improve mains in charge they will not improve. Many years ago Chapman was a fairly good manager, since then he has been a failure in every base ball venture he has undertaken. He does not know how to manage a team and there are many reasons for this. His ideas are gray-haired, he does not know the game as it should be played today, and is thus unable to en-At New York—

Naturally under this threat the bear are not anxious to try for hard chances and this is one of the reasons their playing has fallen off to such in extent. The dissatisfaction is not confined to the players and the people, the direc-tors, it can be stated on excellent authority, are greatly dissatisfied with Chap-man and some have already suggested his discharge. He was foisted on Wilkes-Barre by President Powers, and camhere with the understanding that he would make up his $1,000 salary by his good management. SCRANTON CLUB NEWS AND GOSSIP

Wilkes-Barre Shows Up Second Best in the First Series.

He Is a Brooklyn Semi-Professional Recommended by Hurper and Dave Foutz -- Will Ward or Hutchinson Play Second ? -- About the Griffin Deal -- After New Pitchers.

While the official record shows that won three games in the series just ly played, as one of the games was forfeited to Wilkes-Barre on a technicality by a score of 9 to 0. Our position was eighth and the percentage .261 when 'he series started, but at the close of the last game in the series Thursday our position was seventh and percentage to the select council Thursday evening .310, a gain in position and percentage notwithstanding the forfeited game.

The jump upward is one gratifying fact, but another cause for congratulation is that Scranton made one more run, six more hits and two more stolen bases than the Alligators, while they made four more errors. Scranton did it, too, with a patchwork team in every game but the last one. It was the first series Scranton has won since a period so long ago that the cranks cannot re-

A new first baseman, Charles Zeldler of Brooklyn, has been signed, who, with Griffin in the outfield, gives Scranton a full complement of men and to spare if Zeidler proves to be all that has been claimed for him. He has been playing semi-professional ball in and around Brooklyn and was recommended by Pitcher Harper and Dave Foutz, of the Brooklyns, with whom Zeidler prac ticed and tried for a position at the beginning of the season. He is now in the city and will possibly play in the game against Toronto today. He is about six feet tall, of slender build, and is 25 years old. The signing of Zeidler will, if he proves competent, make it possible to keep Hutchinson on second or send Ward back there, it being his regular position and which he played up to the time it became necessary to change the players around owing to the absence of a regular first baseman. Manager Mc Dermott will not return until today and in his absence it cannot be stated whether he will assign Hutchinson or Ward to second base. It is a position which needs to be filled by the most competent and experienced of the two candidates and Ward seems to be the right one. His selection at least would be better appreciated by the patrons of the game, but that is only one point in Ward's favor. His speed on the bases, his steals, hitting and superior knowledge of the game and points of advantage in a play are qualities which Mc-Dermott cannot very well overlook. It is not well to cast aside the opinions of the cranks; individually, their views are worthless, but collectively the popular wish of the patrons of the game is sougething which cannot be set aside.

It was not known that Eddle Rafferty caught Thursday's game with a badly crippled throwing hand. His thumb was swelled to twice its usual size and the nail of the third finger was split nearly half of its length. He sustained the injuries in Wedner Wilkes-Barre.

Unless Rafferty's hand improve greatly, "Dutch" Berger, the jolly Teuton just signed, will catch Harper today. Berger can do it well enough, as he was Harper's support last year in nearly every game the twirler pitched for Rochester. Rafferty, however, will to make money, as he was supposed to be a shrewd manager and make big money. The matter in a nutshell is this: Chap-man is not a success as a manager and the quicker he is discharged the better not be kept out of the game any oftener than is absolutely necessary, as he has rounded into splenaid catching form, is steady as a clock, throws well and stood fifth in the league in hitting at the close of last month. . . .

Some of the Wilkes-Barre directors are still kicking and disposed to try to make trouble for their manager Jack Chapman, because 'Sandy' Griffin to Scranton. As far as the sale is corrected the Wilkes-Barreans cannot set the deal aside as Man ager Chapiene signed a written release which is in the possession of the Scrauton association and the purchase price of $200 was paid to Chapman when the release papers were delivered. Griffin is naturally cautious, knowing the trouble that has been brewing over the matter, and asked the Scranton management not to insist upon his signing a contract at once. His request was granted though Griffin was perfectly willing to sign if it was insisted upon The Scranton owners gave Griffin the some fair treatment which has from the start been accorded every player or the team, but there is an agreemen that he shall sign just as soon as he is satisfied that the deal was properly nade. He is perfectly satisfied to play here. There is no hitch on that account

Tom Power is yet in town, but he is slow to recover from the severe illness which began three weeks ago. No person regrets his inability to get in the game more than Power does himself and an injustice has been done him by some Eastern league writers who have hinted that he was playing sick in order to get his release. He has been a very sick man and even now is far from Toronto plays here this afternoon, Monday and Tuesday. If reports from Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse are correct it will take some mighty stiff playing to take two out of three games from them as they are a hustling, fight- on all sides as the winner and was ing animated lot who have well carned hurried to his quarters in the Lockthe title of "'Buck's' Scrappers." The name doesn't signify that they are pugliistic in a physical sense, but they are in the game to win from start to qualified and the race awarded to Alexfinish. Practically they are an aggregation of National farmers and what they didn't know about the tricks of Manager Al. Buckenberger.

A player named Outcalt has been secured by Scranton. But little is known about him as his negotiations were carried on with Mr. Simpson, who is out of town. Outcalt has been playing semi-professionally in Ohio and was notified Thursday night to report. He is a first baseman and, presumably, has been secured as reserve material in case Zeidler, the Brooklynite, doesn't come up to the standard.

There is a determined effort being made to get new pitchers, but on this point the management is silent. Mr. Brooks yesterday would not deny the fact that lines were out for two good men who have pitched in the National league this year, but who are not considered quite strong enough for the masuthority to whom he could appeal, but jor organisation. The Tribune has reason to believe, however, that at least one of these pitchers will be secured at ce, possibly today. BICYCLE NEWS AND GOSSIP.

The Green Ridge Wheelmen, headed by Captain Charles Corr, rode to Oly-phant Thursday evening. They were entertained by the Suburban whee of that town for a few hours. Light refreshments were served before the NEW FIRST BASEMAN IS SIGNED visitors started home.

Chairman Gideon of the League of American Wheelmen racing board, dropped his ax on the necks of the University of Pennsylvania's racing team last Wednesday, thereby declaring them professionals, which prohibits them from competing with amateurs. One of the victims of this latest declara-Scranton and Wilkes-Barre have each tions of Gideon's is the popular Johnny Corser, who rode with the Scranton closed, Scranton has won three and Bicycle Club's team last season. Corser is in fine form and up to date, his work this season has been of the giltedge variety and the transfer into the ranks of professionals is a heavy blow. Cause of removal was "expenses paid."

The bicycle ordinance was presented in a slightly modified form. Indeed so slight were the modifications that it is nearly as objectionable as before. The registration fee is reduced from $1.00 to 35 cents and specifies that the money thus obtained shall be expended in repairing streets. Cycles must be equipped with bells and lanterns, coasting, or riding with hands off handle bars is forbidden. Speed is limited to eight miles an hour, riding or propelling a cycle on the sidewalk is prohibited. After talking to many wheelmen on the revised edition of the ordinance of which the foregoing is the substance, the writer finds that they all object to the clause compelling them to register their wheels, and also to that section which prohibits the riding or propelling cycles on sidewalks. They say that as regards riding on sidewalks the ordinance is all right but the word "propelling" is the source of a big "kick" as it prohibits a rider from walking with his wheel on the sidewalk. In case of accident-a puncture for instance-which frequently occurs-and whenever a rider, either lady or gentleman, comes to a steep grade, so many of which can be found in our city, he or she (being unable to ride) must walk in the dusty road, it being a misdemeanor to walk on the sidewalk with a bicycle. Walking in the road is disagreeable to anyone and wheelmen are human. Another question which is agitating the cyclists is "Will out of town wheelmen, who pass through this city daily, be liable to arrest unless their wheels are registered in this city. If so the registration clause is impracticable, and should be stricken out along with the word 'propelling."

An old lady visiting in Buffalo during a cycle club parade seeing the sign of a popular Syracuse wheel reading Bicycles," exclaimed: swan, if that ain't good advice. I ain't done nothin' else since I got here.'

The officials of our cities seem to be leaving no stone unturned for the safety of pedestrians from bleycle accidents. The cyclist is compelled to have a bell and lamp on his machine in most cities, which is no more than right. At the same time when the pedestrian becomes a bicycle rider what protection does he get? The "lamp law" should work both ways. Drivers of vehicles on publie thoroughfares after dark should be compelled to carry lamps. Its a fact that about 9 per cent of the vehicles, ther than delivery wagons, etc., have side lamps which burn either candles or oil, yet one is seldom lighted. Every bicycle rider knows how easy it is to run very close to a wagon or carriage after dark on some of our streets before seeing them. This is especially true of the boulevards and in case of collision the wheelman is invariably the injured person. It is a fact that a lamp or candle on a carriage or wagon is not at all troublesome as compared to the trouble a cyclist is in, constantly trying to get a lamp that will burn bright and keep light and at the same time not get hot, and many other faults which the bicycle lamp manufacturers have not been able to overcome. A human life is worth as much on a bicycle as off and it is time our law makers arrived at that conclusion.

The newest cycle organization in this city, the West Side Wheelmen, is in a flourishing condition. They have not secured a club house as yet but have several desirable houses in sight and will be permanently located in a short thne. The membership has already reached the fifty mark.

HADFIELD GOES TO LAW.

Will Ask for a Chancery Decision on His Disqualification. unpleasantness in connection with the winning of the Irvington-Milburn road race has become more serious. The race was by far the best ever contested on the famous course, and wheelmen are annoyed that notoriety should be connected in any way with the cycling derby. The disqualification of Charles Hadfield and the awarding of first prize to Alexander has made matters so serious that the affair will go into the courts. An injunction is to be applied for in the chancery court by President Freedman W. Neefus of the Vim Bicycle club, restraining Mr. Pitman, the refereee, or the Metropolitan Association of Cycling clubs from distributing the prizes until Charles Hadfield of Newark, who won but was protested, shall be given an opportunity to disprove the charge that he was paced, which charge led to his disqualifleation.

On Hadfield's finishing he was hailed wood hotel, rubbed down and put to bed. ander, who finished second. Hadfield, against the advice of his friends, got out of bed, dressed himself and went their trade has been taught them by to the Hilton hotel, where Mr. Pitman, the referee, and a number of the rac officials had gathered. He was again told that he had been disqualified, and was also informed that the action had been taken because he had permitted himself to be paced. Hadfield denied the charge most vigorously. The protest, he was told, had been entered against him as soon as the officials had assembled at the Hilton hotel, immediately after the race. Many of the of-ficials themselves said that they had noticed the alleged pacing, and it was largely upon their testimony that Had-field had been disqualified.

Hadfield asked why such action had been taken before giving him a chance to be heard, and was told that he had been sent for but could not be found. He asked whether there was any higher isfaction. Who it was that gave the alexcept that it was a young man in red racing suit, who wore no number, outsider. Several who had watched the racer and the alleged pacer say that the intentions of the latter were not at all friendly to Hadfield.
