TRAINS RUN THROUGH A LAKE.

Remarkable Railroading Due to Floods in Missouri.

Sedalia, Mo., June 7.—The announcement made tonight that the "water is off the track at Schell City" is the closing scene in a chapter of most remarkable railroading. Twenty miles west of Schell City the Marmaton, Little Osage and Marais des Cygnes rivers, converging from the Osage, for the last fifteen days were higher than ever known by the oldest inhabitant, spreading out over thirty miles of bottom, destroying crops and in many cases whole farms. At Schell City, where the Missouri, Kansas and Texas crosses the Osage, this vast body of water was confined to a space of three miles by the high ground at Rockville and Schell City, causing it to rush through the narrow valley with great velocity.

For twelve days all trains have been passing over tracks at this point for a distance of three miles covered with this rushing torrent to a depth of thirty to thirty-three inches over the rail. For days the water came up to and sometimes over the second step on the coaches, but not a train stopped, not a wheel was derailed. The fact of holding rails, ties and ballast in place was was accomplished by the using of tens of thousands of sacks of sand placed on the ends of the ties to break the wash of the current.

BOOM IN SILVER CERTIFICATES.

Heavy Foreign Demand for the White Metal Reported on Wall Street.

New York, June 7.—A question that is agitating many speculators in Wall street is the probable continuance of the recently revived activity and strength of silver certificates. Predictions of sharp advance in the price of the metal are indulged in, and bullion dealers hope for a recurrence of the movement that marked the year 1890.

It is reported that a considerable demand for the white metal has developed in Europe. It is understood that this inquiry comes at present chiefly from France, and in lesser degree from Spain, for coinage purposes, and that orders have been received here direct, the bids being above the London parity. Many smelters are said to have sold their product for three months ahead, and there is, comparatively speaking, only a light stock of bullion on hand.

New Swindle Worked in Missouri.

St. Joseph, Mo., June 7.—A man claiming to be the state stove inspector has been going from house to house for several days inspecting gasoline stoves and charging the owners from 15 to 25 cents. He wore a silver badge giving him authority and for a week has been at work in the residence districts without interference. The police caught the man today and have him locked up. There is no such office as state stove inspector and the man is an imposter.

World's Record in Steel Making.

Joliet, Ill., June 7.—The old rod mill at the Illinois Steel company made the greatest record yesterday that has ever been made in the world. Eighty-one heats were turned out. There are sixteen billets in a heat and each billet weighs about 300 pounds.

Salt Lake Politics.

Salt Lake City, Utah, June 7.—The Democrats of Utah in convention yesterday adopted a platform declaring for the free and unlimited coinage of silver, the divorce of church and state and elected delegates to the Chicago convention instructed to vote as a unit for those principles.

GLANCE AT THE 54TH CONGRESS

Review of the Proceedings of the Session Drawing to a Close.

IMPORTANT MEASURES APPROVED

Only a Few Bills Out of the 225 That Received the President's Approval Are Worthy of Mention--Immense Number of Bills Introduced.

Washington, June 7.—The first session of the fifty-fourth congress, now in its closing hours, enjoys the distinction of being the shortest "long" session for a period of 30 years.

A senate passively indifferent in some instances, and, in others, actively hostile, with an executive not in sympathy with Republican party politics are the reasons assigned by the house leaders for the paucity of national legislation. Of the measures which have became laws, the most important, from an international standpoint, was the bill creating the commission "to determine the true divisional line between Venezuela and British Guiana." Of scarcely less general interest were the bills prohibiting prize fighting in the territories; permitting appointments in the army and navy of former United States officers who served in the rebellion and making one year's residence in a territory a pre-requisite to obtaining a divorce there.

Excepting these, however the remainder of the 225 bills and resolutions which received the president's approval were not of a character to deserve extended mention. The more important were the bills incorporating the national society of the Daughters of the Revolution; opening the forest reservations in Colorado for the location of mining claims; regulating proof of death in pension cases; providing for a naval training station in San Francisco harbor; making it unlawful to shoot at any railway train or any person thereon or to throw missiles into such train and repealing clause sixty-one of the tariff law providing for a rebate on alcohol used in the arts.

DELUGE OF BILLS.

If the session,however, be conspicuous by reason of its brevity, and the limited number of important laws enacted, it resulted in the introduction of a large number of bills in the house than during any similar period for a quarter of a century. The total number of bills introduced during the entire last congress was 5,987, of which 4,405 were introduced during the first session now drawing to a close and in which latter the aggregate is swollen to 9,500. Of these 2,300 were favorably reported by the committees to whom they were referred, and placed on the calendar. Notwithstanding that the session of next winter is limited to three months, scores of these bills are likely to be brought to the attention of the house. Many members will enjoy a degree of independence after the present year and their influence will be exerted to call up and pass measures that are now regarded as personally and politically "unsafe."

The Nicaragua canal bill is one of these measures. After many months of consideration in the committee it received a favorable report in the face of an absolute certainty that it would not be taken up during the present session.

MEASURES THAT SLUMBER.

The bill to liquidate the indebtedness of the Pacific railway to the government is another measure of far-reaching importance which is also upon the calendar with a favorable report, but which, for prudential reasons, will continue to slumber there. Others are the service pension bill reported by the invalid committee the Arizona, New Mexico, and Oklahoma statehood bills the Pacific cable bill, and the joint resolution conferring the rank of lieutenant general upon Major General Miles.

The popular interest in the Cuban revolution was shown in the large number of resolutions, more than fifty in all, that were introduced and referred to the committee on foreign affairs. After a careful consideration a concurrent resolution was reported, for which was subsequently substituted, in conference, the senate resolution expressing the sympathy of the United States with the insurgents, recognizing their belligerency, and calling upon the president to use his good offices to secure the independence of the island. Being a concurrent and not a joint resolution, it did not call for the president's signature and its only effect was to express the sentiment of the American people as reflected in the two houses of congress.

Measures for which there has been a widespread demand that have passed the house and will probably receive consideration from the senate next session, include the bankruptcy bill, providing for an educational test for immigrants; the labor commission and labor arbitration bills and the bill simplifying the rules of the pension office, so as to facilitate the adjustment of private pension cases. The early weeks of the session were a busy period for the ways and means committee. Of the 187 measures referred to it, thirty were acted upon.

THE BOND BILL.

Of the bills reported, the two of greatest importance were the bond and revenue bills. The bond bill passed the house, was sent to the senate and returned with the addition or an amendment providing for the free coinage of silver. The revenue bill died in the senate committee on finance. Among other measures of interest reported by the ways and means committee were the bills permitting the killing of all the fur seals in Alaskan waters, the "filled cheese" bill, amending the law permitting a rebate on alcohol used in the arts, amending the administrative features of the tariff law with a view of preventing the undervaluation of imports and additional measures regarding the distillation of brandy from fruit and providing for the bottling of spirits in bond. Hearings were given on a number of the foregoing measures and a special investigation was made to show the effect on American agricultural interests of the repeal of the reciprocity clause of the McKinley law. An exhaustive report upon this last named subject was prepared by a sub-committee and formally adopted by the full committee by a strict party vote.

PENSION COMMITTEE'S WORK.

The committee on invalid pensions, of which Mr. Pickler, of South Dakota, is chairman, had a busy session and broke all previous records for work. Upwards of 2,800 were referred to it, of which 700 private bills were reported to the house. Among the measures reported in addition to those which passed the house were bills giving members of state militia a pensionable status; granting pensions to re-married war widows; broadening the scope of the law pensioning army nurses; increasing the pensions of those who lost limbs in the service and providing for the payment of pensions by check.

The pensions committee, which deals with a different class of measures from those which are referred to the invalid pensions committee, disposed of 240 of the 600 bills referred to them. General bills were reported granting an increase of pension to the survivors of the Indian and Mexican wars and their widows and extending the provisions of the Indian war law of 1890 to the survivors of Oregon and other Indian wars prior to 1856.

The senate bill prohibiting the issue of bonds, except by direct authority of congress was reported adversely by the ways and means committee and died in that committee.

The president vetoed two appropriation bills, viz: The river and harbor, which was passed over the veto, and the general deficiency bill. The veto of the latter bill was sustained by the house and that body passed a new bill, omitting the objectionable features. This has not yet been acted upon by the senate.

RESULTS IN THE SENATE.

The results accomplished in the senate during the session just closing are entirely out of proportion with the legislation that was introduced. Up to Saturday there had been introduced a total of 3,261 bills, more than were introduced during the whole of last congress. Of the same ratio of increase is found in the flood of memorials and petitions that have been laid before the senate. Out of this array of proposed legislation, but little has been done. The finance committee to which was referred 1,105 different measures has succeeded in getting through the senate but three of any importance that have become laws —the filled cheese bill; the amendment to the administrative features of the tariff act permitting express companies to pay the duty on packages valued at not more than $500 and deliver to the residence of the importer direct, and the bill to repeal the free alcohol clause of the tariff law. The Dingley bill came out of committee with a free coinage amendment which prevailed in the senate and this proposition to increase the revenues through tariff duties has ever since been hung in the air between the two houses.

Bankruptcy and the contempt of court bills, the two most important measures emanating from the committee on the judiciary, were not even considered by the senate. The favorable report from the committee on privileges and elections for an amendment for the election of senators by popular vote, became the text for many speeches but never got beyond that indefinite stage. From the committee on military came two great measures, for the re-organization of the army and a similar bill for the re-organization of the militia, neither of which have been considered. The committee on territories reported favorably on the admission of the territories of New Mexico and Arizona, but beyond the reporting of the bills no action has benen taken. One important measure was, however, got through by this committee, that relating to divorces in the territories, thus removing an evil that had for years cried aloud for radical legislation.

AFFECTING SEAMEN.

An important matter relative to the laws relating to American seamen reported from the committee on commerce by Mr. Frye will probably come up next session. It repeals all obsolete laws and codifies and simplifies those now on the statute books affecting better conditions for seamen and also protecting the rights of ship owners. For those who go down to the sea in ships it is the most important measure that has come before congress in many years. The tonnage tax bill and several other proposed measures emanating from this committee are still on the calendar and will not be taken therefrom.

The senate committee on pensions shows a better record for accomplished results. Senate pension bills aggregating to 1,020, were referred to this committee. Similar bills aggregating 220 came over from the house. Two hundred and seventy senate pension bills were passed by the senate of which the house passed but fifty. On the other hand the senate passed 110 of the house pension bills out of a total of 220 passed by the house. Up to Saturday the president had vetoed four of the senate pension bills and six of the house bills. Out of all this proposed legislation but 83 bills became laws, as follows: Senate bills without the approval of the president 11; senate bills approved, 27; house bills become a law without approval, 8; house bills approved, 37; total 83.

JUDGE HARDESTY THRASHED.

A Client Who Was Suing for Divorce Found Him Living with His Wife.

Buffalo, June 7.—Ex-Judge L. D. Hardesty was assaulted in his apartments early this morning by William H. Higham, a furniture dealer, who alleges that he found Mr. Hardesty with Mrs. Higham. Mr. Hardesty received some severe bruises, but no serious injury. The trouble grew out of divorce proceedings which Higham instituted some time ago against his wife, retaining Mr. Hardesty as his counsel. Higham alleges that instead of prosecuting the action for divorce, Hardesty became intimate with Mrs. Higham, and that they have been living together for some time.

This morning Higham and his friends obtained entrance to the boarding house where Hardesty and Mrs. Higham were, and Higham attacked Hardesty and administered a severe beating, while Mrs. Higham fled in her night attire.

Mr. Hardesty came here a few years ago from Ohio and became prominent in local legal circles by his defence of Sadie and Clarence Robinson for the murder of Montgomery Gibbs.

Premature

is deplorably prevalent in this nineteenth century. Thousands die annually—young in years, but as completely worn out as though the full allotment of their time had passed over their heads. The man who feels that he is "breaking down," experiences loss of strength, sleep, and appetite, should at once take that greatest of concentrated food preparations. It is not a medicine, but a builder-up of brain, nerve, and flesh tissue. By its strength-giving properties, and its action as an invigorator of each of the great life-maintaining organs of the body, it stops the decline, and gives to the prematurely broken-down sufferer a new lease of life, wherein poor health is an unnecessary adjunct if its use is continued.

KILLED WIFE WITH AN AXE.

David Wilson Said to Have Been Led to Murder by Jealousy.

Morristown, N. J., June 7.—David Wilson, a colored man, 40 years old, killed his wife Melinda this afternoon with an ax. The Wilsons occupied four large rooms on the top floor of "The Folly," a large tenement in Speedwell avenue.

Mrs. Wilson, when she married Wilson several years ago, was a widow with one son, John Taylor. Wilson was seen to go into his rooms today about 12.45 o'clock. At 1.10 Taylor went home. He asked his stepfather where his mother was, and was told that she was asleep. The boy pushed open a bedroom door and saw his mother lying on the floor, with blood flowing from a wound in her head. He ran out and summoned the police. Wilson was arrested soon afterward in the barroom of the West End hotel, where he was found drinking a glass of whisky.

To Justice Stillwell he confessed that he had murdered his wife. He is a gardener for Dr. Charles Y. Swan, on Egbert Hill. He ordinarily is sober, but he and his wife have had frequent quarrels. She was handsome and he was of a jealous disposition.

The murder was committed with an ax with a broken handle. This ax was found behind the kitchen stove, where the murderer had thrown it after wiping its edge on a towel, which he left on the kitchen table. It is believed he struck his wife while she was asleep on the bed and killed her with one blow. There was blood on the bed, but there was no evidence of a struggle.

BLACKBURN IS NOT SERIOUS.

His Only Ambition Is to Be Re-Elected United States Senator.

Louisville, Ky., June 7.—Senator Blackburn does not take seriously his nomination for the presidency by the Democratic state convention. This statement is made on the authority of State Senator Bronston, of Lexington, one of Senaor Blackburn's lieutenants. Mr. Bronston says that Mr. Blackburn does not believe that any man who wears a confederate button can be elected president and his only political ambition is to be re-elected United States senator.

He is said to favor Boies for the presidential nomination.
