PLOTTING AGAINST MAJOR M'KINLEY

Eastern Opponents Accused of an Attempt to Prevent His Nomination.

NO CHOICE ON FIRST BALLOT

Chauncey L. Filley Expresses the Opinion That the Favorite Sons Will Be Numerous Enough to Make at Least Two Ballots Necessary.

St. Louis, Mo., June 7.—It was reported that the eastern members of the nomination of Major William McKinley have formulated plans to place one million dollars in St. Louis to help in carrying the convention for an eastern man.

Chauncey L. Filley, who has lately been exercising in his mathematical gymnasium, declares that McKinley's nomination on the first ballot is an absolute impossibility.

MAN IN HER ROOM.

Excitement in a Cottage at Which a Vassar Graduate Was a Guest. Poughkeepsie, June 7.—At midnight last night piercing shrieks and the ringing of a dinner bell in the cottage of Mrs. McGlyn, just beyond the Pines at Vassar college, startled people in the neighborhood.

A WOMAN'S STORY.

It Should Be of Interest to Every Thinking Woman.

Women who reason well know that no male physician can understandingly treat the complaint known as "female diseases," for no man ever experienced them.

This Lydia E. Pinkham taught them twenty years ago, when she discovered in her Vegetable Compound the only successful cure for all those ailments peculiar to the sex.

The following testimony is straight to the point, and represents the experience of hundreds of thousands of now grateful women: "For six years I was a great sufferer from those internal weaknesses so prevalent among our sex.

After having received treatment from four physicians of our city, and finding no relief whatever, I concluded to try Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has proved a boon to me. It can truly be called a "Saviour of Women."—Mrs. L. A. PERHAM, Waynesboro, Pa.

Neighbors found the household in a state of excitement, caused by the act of an unknown man who had clambered in a room on the first floor, occupied by one of the Vassar alumnae who is attending a class reunion at the college.

He was discovered before he had a chance to steal anything and ran away as fast as he could go. The lady whose room was entered had entertained a number of friends at dinner, and the guests made an elaborate display of jewels.

It is supposed the thief peeped in the windows while the festivities were in progress and saw a chance to make a haul. All information was referred as to the name of the lady who occupied the room.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
