CITY IS SUED FOR DETECTIVE BILL

Filed in Court.

EVERY DOLLAR IS ACCOUNTED FOR

Inrring & McSweener's Men Were Not Very Lucky at the Gambling Table -- They Lost Nearly Onefourth of the Amount of the Bill. The Rest Was for Salary and Barring & McSweeney, by their attorneys, O'Brien & Kelley, brought suit yesterday against the city for the detecive bill of $177.70 with interest from Dec. 31, 1894. The amount is for services renfered as detectives in obtaining evidence against the gambling houses of the city on which a general raid was made over a year ago.

The police captured a number of devotees of the pasteboard and the fines imposed amounted to about $3,000. The paraphernalia was confiscated and by order of court was burned in the back yard of the municipal building.

The detective agency in the statement made in beginning the suit says that W. L. Connell, then mayor of Scranton. on Sept. 24, 1894, engaged them to obtain evidence to warrant a raid upon the gambling rooms. The bill was pre-sented to councils and after much wrangling the city fathers refused to approve of it.

The itemized statement given below interesting. The terms of the agency in working up a case are $6 a day for each operator, subsistence, meaning board, and expenses. The detectives sent out to watch the gamblers did not have very good luck when they took a hand in. The total amount lost by them at cards is $81.80. The itemized statement of the entire claim is as follows:

HANDSOME OFFICE SUITE.

Attorney W. W. Watson's Apart-ments in Traders' Bank Building. Of the many offices which have been or are being established in the city's several new and modern business structures, one of the handsomest, most convenient and best equipped sultes is that of Attorney W. W. Watson in the Traders' National bank building. The five large rooms, closets, vault and private hallway occupy nearly the whole of the third floor of the building. The rooms are light and airy, and each commands an unobstructed ming avenue or both. Opposite the elevator is the main office entrance leading into the second stenographer's and reception room. To one side of this room is the office of W. S. Diehl who has been associaed with Mr. Watson for a number of years and whose name is prominently associated

ATTORNEY W. W. WATSON.

Mr. Watson's private office is in the corner and middle department of the suite and looks out upon the two business streets below. It is a large and com fortable room and has an electric call connection with the other rooms.

Beyond Mr. Watson's room and accessible. If necessary by a private passageway, is the chief stenographer's room, and beyond this is the large itbrary containing about one thousand law books and furnished with a view to use it for meetings of directors of the many companies in which Mr. Watson is interested. A large fireproof and burglar proof vault, closets and a private telephone complete the office arrangements. Over the hardwood floor are laid handsome rugs. Mr. Watson came to Scranton from Montrose in 1883, and since then has by his integrity, energy and ability, won a high place among the city's bestknown professional and financial element. He is treasurer, director or manager of a number of large corporations, and the demands of these interests and his volume of professional business have made it necessary for him to increase his office force. On August 1 he will have with him Edward K. Hall, a graduate of Dartmouth college and of the law depratment of Harvard university, and John L. Kemmerer, a graduate of Amherst college, and also of the Harvard law department, two

Title of a Book Issued by D., L.

W. Passenger Department. A volume for the guidance and information of summer travelers has just been issued by the passenger depart-ment of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company. The title of it is "Summering on the Lackawan-na." In the introduction the purpose of the volume is set forth as follows: "The Delaware, Lackawanna, and Western Railroad company, in issuing its summer excursion book for 1896, places before the traveling public, and particularly before the vacationists, holiday seekers, and those who are in search of a summer resort, a complete register of all the rural and urban spots in which the summer months may be advantageously spent, available in the states of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York, along their line, between the cities of New York and Buffalo. A description of each place is given, much space being devoted to such among them as rank as summer resorts of na tional fame. "A feature that will commend itself at once is the exhaustive list of routes and rates that is given, and which can be utilized in connection with tickets purchased via the Lackawanna road; and these in search of rest, recreation, or sport have only to glance over these pages, and from among the many mountain, lake and river resorts described as well as those where wealth and fashion reign supreme, select a place to their taste. The work is profusely illustrated and handsomely printed. WILL BRING THEM TO TIME.

Mr. Clark Proposes to Pitch Into the Traction Company. At the next meeting of select council M. E. Clark, of the Sixth ward, will in troduce an ordinance imposing a tax of $100 a year on each car running on the Traction company's lines through the newly annexed Bellevue district.

This action will be taken for the purpose of forcing the company to abolish the double fare which it is now charging on that line. The company acquired the right of way through Hellevue be-fore it was made a part of the Sixth ward and claims the right to collect an extra fare from all who continue on the car outside the boundary of the Fifteenth ward, which was the old city line. Mr. Clarke and those compelled to use that portion of the line centerd that the company, according to the provisions of its franchise, has no right to charge two fares within the city limits, and while it may have a legal right to make an extra charge in this particular case, morally it should not and if they can prevent it, will not. The company having refused to grant the petitions of the people. Mr. Clarke proposes to take measures that will

ANNIVERSARY OF CRYSTAL COMPANY

Celebrated by the Members and Their Friends with a Banquet.

ONE FIRE THEY DID NOT ATTEND

Chief Hickey Had Allowed the Company to Go Out of Service for One three Years Old -- Those Who Attended Last Night.

The Crystal Fire company, No. 4, celebrated the twenty-third anniversary of its organization with a banquet at Tropp's hotel, on Lackawanna avenue, view of either Spruce street or Wyolast night. Nearly all the members of the company and many prominent guests, including several city officials, were present and enjoyed the exceptionally good time that is so characteristic of this yearly event. The tables were set in the dining room on the second floor front and were arranged in the shape of a cross. President D. J. Newman sat at the head. At his right in the seat of honor sat Rob-ert Robinson, select councilman from the Eleventh, who as chairman of the fire department committee in the lower branch championed the Crystals in their little differences with ex-Mayor Connell and the city last summer.

Foreman Harvey Long occupied the second post, the seat to the left of the president, and below these two, according to their rank or prominence sat the following members and invited guests: Harry Hermans, vice-president; Theodore Fahrenholt, first assistant foreman: Wallace Moir, second assistant oreman; A. M. Aylsworth, treasurer; C. E. Tropp, secretary; Select Council-man Wade M. Finn, George Connor, George Carroll, Frank Scholl, George Becker, W. P. Welchel, John Lilly, Danlel Martin, Harry Storms, Charles Gesler, William Martin, J. L. Moser, H. P. Wilcox, Henry Hines, H. T. Thomas Joseph Schoff, W. G. Ferber, T. J. Norton, George McLeod, Fred. F. Schoen, P. F. Kilmartin, Robert Marshall, W. H. Davis, E. A. Needham, Henry Kiefer and Isaac Tice. After creating an immense void in Mine Host Tropp's well stocked larder regrets were read from Chief P. J. Hickey and ex-Chief H. F. Ferber and then President Newman, who was chosen toastmaster, called on various members of the company for entertainment of the soulful kind. Speeches were Glass made by Councilman Robinson, Foreman Long, Messrs. Schoen, Connors Wilcox, Scholl, Moir, Kilmartin and others and Harry Storms gave a recitation The festivities were at their height when the alarm from box 24 sounded, and it came within an ace of breaking up the banquet. Foreman Long locked the door to the banquet hall, put the key in his pocket and calmly told then to sit down, that they couldn't go to any fire that night.

When quiet had been restored he explained that Chief Hickey had allowed them to go out of service for one night. This settled matters somewhat, but there was a very decided spirit of rest lessness evident until the "fire out" taps
