GREAT PERFORMANCE GIVEN.

Norris Brothers' Equine and Canine

Show Largely Attended. There was a large and delighted crowd of children and not a few grown persons at the matinee given by the Norris Brothers yesterday afternoon in their tent at Adams avenue and Mulberry streeet. The wonderful and amazing performances of the trained dogs and horses aroused the greatest enthusiasm in the audience.

Last night rain interfered somewhat with the attendance, but a fine performance was given, nevertheless. During the engagement in this city Manager H. S. Rowe has extended a complimentary invitation to all the orphan children of the city, who have attended in large numbers and enjoyed this unique entertainment. The show remains the balance of the week at Adams avenue and Mulberry streets, and is certainly worth seeing.

Miss Rachel Tolles, the secretary of las year, loked into the future and closed her innual report with an exhortation, using the words of Michael Angelo, "Amplius-let it be broader." Although I have been connected with this association only two months, yer I feel that the members and friends of the association have heeded the exhortation, and that the work is broad-er, notwithstanding the shadow which was cast upon the association, when the former secretary was called home in De-cember by the death of her mother. During the interregnum of secretaries. Miss Cora R. Perry, the assistant, and Miss Anna Van Nort and Miss Esther Rowlands assumed the duties of the association and gave most valuable service.

The aim of the association has not been lost sight of. We wish to develop a perrealize that in order to do that we must have a symmetrical association, consisting of the following departments, the physical, social, educational and spiritual; besides these we bring into the association many sub-departments which partake of feature of the larger orders. have thirteen committees consisting of one hundred and thirty-eight members which plan and do the work of the association prospective opposition to the Traction company, he replied that it was not. ENTERTAINMENT COMMITTEE. Mrs. F. D. We afternoon and tomorrow will ride over tendance of three thousand one the lines up and down the valley to see and sixty. The importance of this dewhat condition the property is in. be happier.

The physical department, as an aid to both mental and spiritual development, has been conducted by Miss Janet Adams, of Posse school, Boston, and has been rep of Posse school, Boston, and has been represented by eighty-three pupils, who are enthusiastic in their expression of the work which they have done. Under this department, of which Mrs. I. F. Everhart is chairman, verious talks have been given; one on "Health" and one on "The Care of the Eyes." At the close of the year an exhibition of the work done was given in the gymnasium, In the seventeen educational classes opposition, Mr. Clarke said that it would there has been a total enrollment of one hundred and eighty-six. This has been the first year that remunerative classes sides making it more expensive to the have been tried, and they have met with success as the report of the chairman, cure a transfer from one line to the Mrs. E. Indeed, the interest has continued throughout the year and been greater in the paid classes than in the free, as the scholars felt that a value had been athad a conference with General Man-ager Silliman and others interested in tached to the study.

OTHER DEPARTMENTS.

Mrs. Koehler has had an interesting class in German, Miss Morgan taught mil-linery; Miss Helen Sanderson's class in higher English was enthusiastic over their work. Mrs. Wilson directed the class in chart cetting and Miss Belle Harris had charge of the class in plain sewing and embroidery, while Mrs. Breck taught algebra and geometry, and Miss Sara Jones instructed the girls in penmanship. Classes were also taught in the elementary

A junior club was organized in Novem ber. Mrs. George Mahy and Miss Board-man conducted this class throughout the year. At the close an interesting party was given to the young girls.

At the close of the classes an entertainment was given and a new club organized, which is "The Laurel Club." This society will be one of the features of the educational department next year. The object is to develop the young women in the va-rious departments of work. It is organized on parliamentary principles, and it meets every Thursday night. Although it has just started it has a membership of has just started it has a membership of fifty-two. Musical and literary features are introduced, besides the Biblical work. Mrs. H. J. Carr, who has conducted the Chautauqua Circle for three years, has won the hearts of the girls in such a way that faithfulness and increased interest is manifested in this circle of sixteen The spirtual work is difficult to measure Statistics do not tell it. When I tell you that Gospel meetings have been held every Sabbath at 3.45 p. m., weekly noon meetings, and that many other religious services have been held, making a total number of one hundred and thirteen, having a total attendance of five thou-sand two hundred and forty-four and seven known conversions, can you then measure the spiritual work of this asso-ciation? We know that the meetings have been earnest and practical, and in pass-ing we want to tell you that the spiritual atmosphere has been stimulated by the isits from the secretaries of the work.

THE SPIRITUAL WORK. Many interesting facts might be told of the spiritual work that goes on in the rooms, were it not that work is and must be confidential. We have found that in order to win success for the Lord, we must use our association motto constantly, "not by might, nor by power, but by My Spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts." Some one has said "the religious work runs so like a golden threed, through the 3. BOLAND, others, uniting and vivifying all the ef-City Treasurer. forts put forth, that it is impossible to thread which runs through all our departments of work.

The lunch department, under the supervision of Mrs. C. P. Matthews, is a delight to the girls, a help to the association and also a help to the secretary. Mrs. Knapp, in her genial way, has served dinner every noon and lunch on Saturday evenings. The average daily atendance at the lunch room has been forty-eight, with a total attendance of fourteen thousand nine hundred and thirty-one. GREETING THE VISITORS. The reception committee, with Miss Es-ther Rowlands as chairman, has been faithful as hostesses at the rooms, greeting the girls who visit there in a cordial manner. Our rooms have been kept in order and made attractive by the watchfulness and care of Mrs. C. D. Simpson and her com-. These statistics cannot be exact. ly accurate as many duties crowd our work and many visits are not recorded. The summer rest committee, of which Mrs. H. D. Gardner is chairman, has not had the demand or much work, but what they have done is worthy of commendation. The committee has furnished us with a boarding house directory, which we find verp helpful.

The employment bureau sometimes seems quite a hindrance, yet it opens the way for personal work. Employment has been given to fifteen women. Perhaps a new system may be adopted in which the work may be carried on more satisfactorily. The membership committee, under the leadership of Mrs. H. J. Carr, has assisted the association in many ways, but partic-ularly in bringing into the association many new members. The enrollment of paying members is four hundred and sixty-live. Three hundred and fifty-one of these are active members, eighty-two associate, twenty-seven sustaining, and five life members.

JOURNALISTIC WORK. There have come to pass during the year, events not particularly connected with any one department, but vitally affecting the association as a whole. Three of our young women attended the summer conference at Northfield and nineteen went to the state convention at Bloomsburg, Pa. The work of this year has had the seal of journalism stamped upon it as two papers have hade their debut, since February.

The first was "Our Young Women," which is the organ of our association. It is published by Mrs. L. M. Gates every two weeks. It contains the current events of the association and it is designed to spread the news of our work in such a way as to create new interest, for the work, among our members and friends. The undertaking of any new enterprise or the starting point of any work is of great consequence. This has been real-ized by those faithful women who issued "Our Woman's Paper" May 14. It was a gala day in the history of the association. The thought originated in the minds of the gymnasium committee; wishing to as-sist in some manner the finance committee n meeting the current expenses; later "Our Woman's Paper" was decided upon by joint committees; realizing the great undertaking, the women of Scranton united to making the enterprise a financial success. Later it was decided to use the proceeds as a nucleus for a building fund for the Young Women's Christian asso-

The blaze was located in the woodwork of a tinsmith's bench and in the window casing above it and was quickly extinguished by the Phoenix chemical company. The fire started near a tinsmith's stove. The damage was not more than $50.

FIRE IN HIGH SCHOOL. The new high school was visited by fire last night. Shortly before 11 o'clock an alarm was sent in by Lieutenant of Police Davies from box 24, corner of Washington avenue and Mulberry street. A woman pasing by the building saw an unnatural light in one of the windows. When the fire companies arrived the blaze was quite large and the smoke forboded a large fire. A door in the second floor was burst open and the chemical hose hoisted through a window. A pile of wood was burning in one of the study rooms at the northeast corner of the building. A few minutes, only, was required to extinguish the blaze. How it started is unknown. Incendiarism is improbable as the wood was near the center of the room and the floor is of stone. There was no paint or other liquids in pails or otherwise to cause combustion. The damage was small

BRIDE OF TWO WEEKS CAUGHT ELOPING

The Couple Were Arrested and Are Now in Jail.

THEY HAIL FROM AVOCA BOROUGH

The Woman Took All the Money She Could Lay Her Hands on Belonging to Her Brother-in-Law to Enable Them to Get Away -- They Were Not Successful in Their Endeavor.

There is one man whose confidence in roman experienced a rude shock yesterday, and he is no less than Kosciusko amack, of Avoca. Two weeks ago he led Mary Ferrett to the altar. Mary is about 23 and she has a very captivating

Everything went along as blissfully as a midsummer night's dream until yesterday. Though Zamack was very happy, yet he was not unmindful of the prosaic side of life, knowing that it was necessary to work if he would eat; so he was in the habit since the day after the wedding of going each morning to the mines, until yesterday when he took

He was as trusting and as confident of his wife's affection as he could be, while she came in and out of the room with toast and tonies for him until about noon. Then her visits ceased. But he was not selfish. He thought she might have taken a resulte from her cares for a short time to get a little leep. Nor was his constancy disturbed until his brother John came into the room about 2 o'clock.

BAD NEWS FOR HIM.

John told his brother to get out of bed and prepare to hear bad news. Kosciusko refused to believe the story until the evidence of it was not to be gainsaid. The woman in whom he had reposed his trust had been caught in the act of eloping with a fellow named Laurent Franktz, and what added insult to inury was the fact that in appearance there is nothing to be said in his favor, while the husband she forsook is handsomer than the average man.

Kosciusko mourned his wife, and his brother mourned $13.75 which she stole out of his trunk. They decided to punish her and her lover, and they took the next train to Scranton and called at the office of Alderman Millar, before whom they swore out a warrant on the charges of elopment and larceny. QUEER VIEWS OF MATRIMONY.

Mary and Franktz were brought be fore the alderman at 11 o'clock last night and were given a hearing. The defense they offered was that the cere mony of marriage between Mary and Zamack was performed by a justice of the peace, and they agreed that in five weeks that would go before a priest and have the marriage blessed. Not having had the blessing Mary thought she was free to go with Franktz, and so she went. She could not explain why she took her brother-in-law's money.

The man she eloped with was base enough to throw all the blame on her in order to avoid going to jail, but it did not have any weight and Alderman Millar required both to give ball in the sum of $500 for their appearance at court. They were not able to furnish the amount and were committed. On account of the lateness of the hour they were locked up in police headquarters until today, when they will be taken to jail.
