Yesterday's games caused no changes in the positions of the Eastern league clubs. Scranton lost to Rochester in one of the best games of the season in this city. The pitchers cut quite a figure in the two Syracuse-Wilkes-Barre games, the first being a pitchers' battle and the second witnessing poor work by Coakley and Luckey which cost Wilkes-Barre the game. Providence won handily from the Bisons, and Springfield won in an exciting and heavy-hitting game from Toronto.

SOME OLD-TIMERS.

What with Shannon at second "Sleepy" Johnson at center, Daly in right. Ollie Beard at short and Mulvey on third, the Blackbirds presented a pretty lot of old-timers. But they played the game. Shannon and "Sleepy" were accorded a great deal of applause when they first came to the

Dan Stearns, who played first base for Scranton last year and who has been grath on a 0 0 0 0 made a regular Eastern league umpir presided over the game. He made more mistakes of judgment than usual fall to the lot of any good umpire, as can be criticized for only one weaknes that of being to willing to argue wit the players. An umpire who makes few mistakes as did Stearns yesterda is a good one, as far as judgment is con cerned. However, it was a close ar hard-fought game and on this accou was given roastings which he did no

Undoubtedly his one error of jud ment in the sixth cost the Barons a ru and might have changed the final r sult to their favor. There were to runs in, one out and Eagan on secon Herger was declared out at first on Reilly, 3b 5 4 4 0 1 Shannon's fly to center, but, in view of Delaney, p 4 1 1 0 3 Berger being declared out, the fly retired the side. For two innings neither side scored. In the last of the third Bottenus pushed himself in front of a slow one and ambled to first and stole second. Shannon drove a liner to left, the ball boundover Eagan's head. Bottenus scored and Daniel reached third. Daly walked to first. Shannon scored and Daly reached second on Beard's hit, the ball being driven at Harper's legs. Mulvey drove another one at Harper, who fielded the ball to Latham to stop Daly. Latham let the leather go through him and Daly scored, Mulvey going to second on the error. A strikeout and high foul flies to Ward and Latham ended the inning.

During the next four innings only fourteen batsmen faced Harper. Meanwhile the Barons had tied the score.

BARONS TIE THE SCORE. In the sixth Ward pounded one down the left line for two bases and Griffin got a walk. Eagan's single to right scored the senator and sent Griffin around to third. On Maguire's fly-out to left and Boyd's error Griffin scored. Eagan went to third on Berger's out at first and Harper flew out to center.

In the seventh with one out Hutchinson's triple was followed by Meaney's out at first. Ward bunted safely between second and first and Hutch brought in the tally that tied the score. Griffin flew out to left. The Barons went down one, two, three in the eighth.
Rochester pushed in the winning run in the last of the eighth. After two were out Johnson bunted safely and came in on Boyd's triple to right. The Barons missed a golden opportunity in the ninth. Harper got a walk and was sacrificed to second by La-

Wiikes-Barre and Syracuse Divide the Honors in Two Games.

Wilkes-Barre, June 15 .- Fifteen hundred people witnessed the first game this afternoon between the Syracuse and the home team. The visitors played an errorless game in the field. Wilkes-Barre won in the eighth inning by Lezotte's two-bagger and Earl's single. The features were brilliant catches by Eagan and Garry. Mason pitched good ball but Yerrick pitched better ball for the home team. The contest was exciting throughout.

In the second game Syracuse had a walk-over. After Coakley had sent two men to bases on balls, and was hit for three bases, he was taken out, Luckey taking his place. He, too, was wild, and before Syracuse could be retired in the third inning they had scored eight runs, which virtually gave them the game. Luckey steadled down after the third inning, but the home team were Cincinnati Reds, of the National league unable to overtake the big lead. The

The funeral of the late Martin Cummings, jr., who was killed in a mine accident on Friday last, took place yesterday morning and it was one of the largest ever seen here. Work at White Oak mine was entirely suspended and the whole community mourned for the R.H.E. estimable young man whose life was so suddenly and unexpectedly taken. Long before the hour fixed for the funeral the home of the deceased was thronged with sympathetic friends who had assembled to do honor to his memory. The casket containing his remains den by the mass of flowers and tokens of loving friends. At 10 o'clock the pro-had respected him in life and in death lay in the parlor and it was almost hidcession moved to St. Thomas' church, where a high mass of requiem was sung. Father Comerford, the pastor. was celebrant of the mass and at its close delivered an edifying and impres sive eulogy. He made fitting reference to the exemplary character of the deceased young man, who, he said, was attentive to his duties as a Christian and in the general conduct of his life afforded an example that might well be followed by other young men. His remarks were filled with consolation for remains were conveyed to their last resting place in the Catholic cemetery. The cortege was preceded by the Fath er Mathew society and the East Side band, of which he was a member, and there were also many of the Young Men's club. The Serenade band was also in the line and played dirges on the way to the grave. The pall bearers were T. W. Loftus, John Mahady, A. J.

Cawley, P. J. McAndrews, T. P. Moran and James F. Philbin. The floral designs, which were very numerous and beautiful, were carried by his late com-panions of the East Side band. They were P. F. Kielty, Michael Duffy, W. R. Gilroy, W. Gilroy, jr., James Loftus, Patrick McGrath, Joe Hughes, Thomas Reilly, William Burke, Michael Corcoran and Martin Mahady. The attendance at the funeral was so large that it taxed St. Thomas' church to its utmost. There were many persons present from Scranton, Carbondale and
