St. Louis Convention Adjourns Until Ten O'clock This Morning.

SCENES IN THE GREAT HALL

Presentation of Gavels at the Opening Exercises—Reports of Various Committees—The Addicks Delegates Turned Down—Applause for Tom Platt and Other Leaders. Teller Will Not Support a Gold Plank.

St. Louis, June 17.—The most striking incidents of the day were not in the convention, although the proceedings were a trifle more animated than yesterday, but in the rooms of the committee on resolutions, where Senator Teller declared that he could no longer remain in the Republican ranks after it had been committed to the single gold standard. The high personal esteem the members of the committee entertained for Mr. Teller and the heartfelt regret he so plainly showed in being compelled to sever life-long ties gave to the scene unusual interest. To that extent it was dramatic, but it was more pathetic than anything else, because it was evident Mr. Teller took this course as a matter of conscience and principle and without any other reason. This was fully understood and it was for this reason his associates exhibited equal marks of friendship and regret. Notwithstanding that this was a family quarrel in which two factions were arrayed against each other, it was characterized by a genuine interchange of courtesies which robbed it of all the bitterness which usually accompanies such a contest. Senator Frank Cannon, of Utah, still in the thirtieth—a Republican from boyhood and deeply attached to the principles of the party—exhibited almost equal feeling at the termination of his political affiliations. Notwithstanding the radical position assumed by the silver men, it is noticeable that only four senators—Teller, Dubois and Cannon and Mr. Cleveland of Montana—announced that they would leave the party. Two other members of the committee, Representative Hartman, of Montana, and Dr. Mott, of North Carolina, stated that they would still remain in the party. When the convention adjourned till tomorrow instead of taking a recess until 8 p. m., as it was expected to do, in order to hear the report of the committee on resolutions, which it was stated would be ready by that hour, rumors were circulated in the convention hall that this course had been taken because several states had threatened to bolt because of the financial plank. Investigation failed to disclose any foundation for these rumors. The vote of 54 1/2 to 35 1/2 by which the convention at the bidding of the credentials committee refused to recognize any contested cases settled by the national committee clearly showed that the Ohio leaders had the convention well in hand, even in matters where many of the delegates felt a strong personal interest. Members of the committee on resolutions expressed much indignation to night that in a cabled account of the platform published this morning they should have been represented as declaring war against Spain by pledging the Republican nominee to armed intervention in Cuba. They state that the language employed in the platform simply pledges the good offices of the United States to bring about a peaceful settlement.

A MCKINLEY PARADE

The big McKinley parade tonight, though delayed by a thunderstorm, came off eventually. There was a very large number of clubs in line and the display was as effective as abundance of red fire, music, numerous banners and McKinley pictures and cheers and general enthusiasm could make it. A new march, composed for the occasion, was played with success.

MARTIN'S CHANCES

Mr. Milholland and other anti-Platt men, of the New York delegation, are still of the opinion that Mr. Platt will endeavor to bring about the nomination of Governor Morton for the vice presidency.

Gavels Made from Historical Wood Are Presented to the Chairman. St. Louis, June 17.—There was the usual delay in calling the convention to order for the afternoon session, but the waiting time was pleasantly whittled away by strains of sweet music. There was great pressure in all parts of the immense hall, the galleries were packed and there, as well as on the floor, palm-leaf fans were in constant agitation. The heat was very oppressive.

It was 2:45 when the chairman (Mr. Thurston) hammer knocked for order and announced that the afternoon session would be opened with prayer by Bishop Arnett, of Wilkesbarre college, Ohio. The bishop invoked blessings on the convention and on the country and gave thanks for an assemblage representing the culture, the wealth and the refinement of more than forty centuries. He gave thanks that God had given to the country a Lincoln who broke the fetters from the limbs of more than four and a half millions of people. He prayed that the victory to be gained in the future through the work of the convention might redound to the blessing of every section, and that protection and liberty and civil and political rights

THE SILVER MEN WILL RETIRE

Western Republican Leaders Refuse to Support the Gold Plank.

MR. TELLER'S IMPRESSIVE SPEECH

The Loyal Senator from Colorado Bids His Party Farewell at a Meeting of the Platform Committee, Cannon, Dubois and Hartman Follow Suit.

St. Louis, June 17.—It was 10:30 when Chairman Foraker called the full committee on resolutions together. The platform was read by paragraphs, the agreement being that each paragraph should be voted upon separately. The preamble was objected to and the phraseology was ordered to be changed so that the wording of the paragraph should be less obscure. Mr. Teller, of Colorado, arose and stated that he prepared a minority report which he would present when that subject was reached. The remainder of the platform, he added, was entirely satisfactory to him. The tariff plank was agreed to unanimously. The sugar plank was finally adopted in the words sent out by the United States early this morning. A strong declaration was made for a protective duty on wools and woolens. The protection of American ship-building and the development of American commerce were also demanded. All of Mr. Teller's amendments to the financial plank were voted down.

A PATHETIC SCENE

There was a pathetic scene in the committee room when the financial plank was reached and Senator Teller, of Colorado, presented his minority report. It took the form of a substitute and declared in general terms for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1. Senator Teller spoke for three minutes. His utterances were followed with deep interest, for all present realized that the hour had arrived when the four members of the Republican party, a man who has been conspicuous in Republican councils for a third of a century, was taking a step which would separate him from his party friends. Mr. Teller spoke with deep emotion and the sincerity of his purpose was so manifest that his words produced a deep impression. He spoke of his long connection with the Republican party. It was the party of his young manhood; the party of his choice. It was the party with which he had affiliated for thirty-five years. It was a party that had given him great honor and he was carried away by the importance of his subject. It was purely a matter of conscience and principle. There was no question of personal ambition involved. He might be wrong; he believed not. Time alone could tell whether he was the framer of this plank was right.

OTHER STATES WILL BE LOST

Mr. Cleveland, of Nevada, asserted that with such a plank his state could not remain in the Republican ranks. Mr. Cannon, of Utah, like Mr. Teller, created a profound sensation by the earnestness of his remarks. His voice was choked with emotion several times, and he proceeded with great difficulty. He pointed out that Utah had been converted from a Democratic territory into a Republican state, but that it would be irrevocably lost if the party were committed to the gold standard. Mr. Dubois, of Idaho, also announced that he would follow his associates, Messrs. Teller and Cannon, in leaving the party, although he regretted that it necessarily compelled him to take this step. He spoke at some length of the loyalty of the Republican party and the Republican party. Each has two Republicans in the senate, but the same could not be said of many of the eastern states, whose representatives were adopting a course that was driving the silver men from their party associates. If this gold plank was adopted, the Republican party, would, he said, lose control of the senate and not regain it in a quarter of a century. Before a vote was taken on Mr. Teller's sixteen to one substitute, Mr. Darlington, of Pennsylvania, arose and repudiated specifically to Senator Teller's declaration that the Republican party had fallen under the dominion of Lombard and Wall streets.

MR. HARTMAN OF MONTANA, BOLDLY ANNOUNCED THAT HE COULD NOT AND WOULD NOT SUPPORT A CANDIDATE STANDING ON THIS PLATFORM.

The Republican platform in 1892 had declared for gold and silver as the standard money. This platform contained a declaration for gold only and the silver men demanded both. The silver men stood by the party principles and until such time as the party might return to the double standard they could not support its candidate. Mr. McKinley was an honest man and would honestly interpret the platform. The silver men were not antagonizing men but principles in this struggle and in this campaign McKinley would stand for gold.

MR. FESSENDEN, OF CONNECTICUT, EXPLAINED WHY IT WAS NECESSARY TO ADOPT THE GOLD PLANK AND EXPRESSED HIS REGRET AT THIS DIFFERENCE OF OPINION WITHIN THE PARTY.

RESULT OF THE VOTE

The vote was then taken on the Teller substitute and it was defeated—ayes 10, noes 41. Those voting in the affirmative were the delegates from Colorado, California, Utah, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Arizona, Nevada, North Carolina and New Mexico. Before the sense of the committee was taken on the gold plank, Mr. Lafollette, of Wisconsin, arose to a personal explanation. He directed attention to a statement made by Mr. Teller that himself and Mr. Gear, of Iowa, had performed the principal work in the prepara-

BUT ONE STANDARD.

Maine Democrats Favor the Pure Yellow Metal. Portland, Me., June 17.—The Democratic state convention met here today and elected the following delegates-at-large to the national convention: Dr. S. C. Gordon, John Scott, Frederick Plaisted and Charles W. Snow. The financial plank of the platform declares:

That under the present conditions there can be but one standard of value and that every kind of currency should rest upon a gold basis so long as gold is the standard recognized by the great commercial nations of the world, and that our present standard should never be departed from except by international agreement and we are therefore opposed to the free coinage of silver as tending to the debasement of the currency. We realize that this is a silver producing country and we would favor as large a use of that metal in our circulating medium only as is consistent with a stable monetary system and we believe that the money of whatever kind coined or issued by the government or by its authority should be equally good, and equally interchangeable one with the other and be of equal purchasing and debt-paying power.

Chairman Johnson in closing his address named William E. Russell as the choice of the Democrats of Maine for the presidency. Edward R. Winslow, of Portland, was nominated for governor by acclamation. When the majority report of the committee on resolutions was presented it declared for a gold standard unless some other standard should be adopted by international agreement. A minority report favoring the placing of two metals on an equality was also submitted.

BRITISH STEAMER SINKS.

Three Hundred and Fifty Passengers Find a Watery Grave. London, June 17.—A dispatch received here today reports that the British steamer Drummond Castle, which sailed from Table Bay May 28 for this port, with 350 persons on board, has been sunk near Ushant, the most western of the islands off the coast of Brittany, France, in a collision with another vessel. Two of the ship's company have been picked up by a fishing vessel. A telegram was received tonight at the admiralty office from the commander of the British ship Sybille, which is cruising in the bay of Biscay, confirming the reports previously received regarding the suddenness of the foundering of the Drummond Castle. The British states that the Sybille lowered her boats and did all that it was possible to do to rescue those on board the steamer, but so sudden was the collapse of the vessel that the efforts of the cruiser's men were of no avail.

EARTHQUAKE AND TIDAL WAVES

Terrible Disaster on the Island of Yesso, North Japan.

SHOCK FELT FOR TWENTY HOURS

Whole Town Destroyed—Every Part of the Island Badly Shaken Up. Over 150 Shocks Felt—The Shipping Seriously Damaged.

Yokohama, June 17.—The island of Yesso, which contains the northern provinces of Japan, including Shiretsho, Oshima, Furi, Hitaka, Tokachi, Ishikari, Kishiro, Teshiwo, Kitami and Nemoro, has been visited by a terrible earthquake, which has resulted in the loss of a thousand lives. All these sections of the island seem to have been more or less shaken. The subterranean disturbance lasted about twenty hours, and during that period a state of the utmost terror prevailed on all sides. Shock followed shock in almost uninterrupted succession about every eight minutes. In all, it is estimated, there were 150 shocks of greater or lesser strength. It is impossible to obtain for the present, accurate details of the disaster, as communication between the mainland of Japan (island of Hondu) and Yesso, from which the former is separated by the strait of Tsugaru (Sanger), is said to be interrupted, or, more likely, in the hands of the authorities. The whole town of Kumishi, however, is reported to have been destroyed.

AMOUNT OF DAMAGE.

Popular rumor has it that the number of lives lost and the amount of damage done is far in excess of the figures contained in the brief official dispatch, which simply says that an earthquake accompanied by a tidal wave has caused destruction and loss of life in the northern provinces, and that the town of Kumishi is believed to have been destroyed with the loss of probably a thousand lives. Japan has suffered from a number of serious earthquakes during the past few years, especially in 1894, when three thousand houses were destroyed in the latter part of October of that year, with the loss of about three hundred lives. Earlier in the same month Yokohama and Tokio were thrown into a state of consternation by a series of severe earthquakes, and in June, 1894, there was another subterranean disturbance which caused considerable damage and immense loss of life. There was an earthquake of importance in February, 1895, and there have been several slight disturbances since that time.

WALTER BEERWITZ SAYS IT WAS GIVEN HIM BY A FRIEND.

The charge of theft lodged against Walter Beerwitz of the Columbia by Mrs. John Albert on Tuesday night was yesterday withdrawn and the accused discharged. He alleges that the pin was given to him by one of Mrs. Albert's boarders who found it on the floor of his room where it had been crushed by someone stepping upon it. After Beerwitz came into possession of it he had it cleaned and repaired and considered it his property. That's the reason he had it in his tie when arraigned for a hearing.

HIS HAND BADLY CRUSHED.

Scranton Man Falls from a Train at Wimmers Last Night. George Stockhite, of 815 Irving avenue, fell from an Erie & Wyoming Valley freight train near Wimmers at 11:29 o'clock last night and had his right hand crushed beneath the wheels. He was at Wimmers visiting his mother and boarded a freight car to come home. In some unaccountable manner he fell from the car with his hand across the rail. Amputation, it is thought, will be necessary.

MILLS ARRESTED AGAIN.

The Ex-Patrolman Arraigned Before Alderman Miller Yesterday. Ex-Patrolman Thomas Mills was arraigned before Alderman Miller yesterday afternoon and held in $500 bail on a charge preferred by Polly Nally, a girl with whom he had the trouble which led to his dismissal from the police force. The charge against him this time is failure to live up to an agreement which he entered upon the settlement of the original charge.
