TORE THE BRIDGE DOWN.

But Manager Wright, of the Traction Company, Will Rebuild It.

The little trouble between the Trac tion company and W. L. Beers, of the Clark company, has been settled and affairs are once more running smoothly in the vicinity of the Eighth avenue bridge. The trouble arose in Manager Wright, of the Traction company, having the narrow foot bridge which runs along the trestle over which the company's road runs removed, probably for fear the company would be involved in a suit for damages should any ac-eldencident occur.

On discovering what had taken place W. L. Beers, who had the bridge erected for the convenience of pedestrians, called upon Manager Wright. They had it hot and heavy for a while, but Wright finally caved to Beers' superior arguments and agreed to have the bridge replaced. The rebuilding of the bridge will be of great convenience to people in the vicinity.

D. & H. REPAIRING PROPERTY.

The Damage Caused by the Settling of Old Workings.

The Delaware and Hudson employes are busy repairing property which has been badly damaged by the settling of old workings. This damage in some cases has been quite severe, causing houses to settle badly.

At present workmen are engaged on the property of Mrs. Cooke and Michael Loftus on Gordon avenue. The fall of last week extended under both houses on the ground. Planks have been put beneath the buildings to prevent further injury by settling. In one place the foundation wall will have to be entirely rebuilt, as it is now in a tottering condition. The house is now being raised by jacks in order to have the necessary work done at once.

AUTHORITIES NOT TO BLAME.

Patrick Brown's Cuts Were Probably Caused by a Fall.

A letter has been received from authorities at Danville giving in detail the manner in which Patrick Brown received the cuts and bruises which were found on his body.

The latter states that he was taken sick last Friday and became much worse on Saturday. Some one was obliged to stay with him as he constantly endeavored to leave his bed, As this passed away he was left alone, and soon after tried to jump up. He was very weak and fell, the cut on his forehead being received then. His condition from that time gradually grew worse until he passed away on Monday afternoon. The explanation seems to be very satisfactory and all, especially the poor board, will be glad to hear that our patients are treated properly.

HALLSTEAD.

Burt Austin was instantly killed in the D., L. & W. yard at this place Wednesday night. Conductor Thomas Walsh, for whom Mr. Austin was braking, was just preparing to start out on his usual run, and his engineer had taken his caboose from the switch on which they are kept. Mr. Austin, thinking they would switch the caboose on switch No. 14, stepped on the one down which they had just brought the caboose. But instead of switching it on No. 14, they switched it right back up last the switch on which he was standing. Just as the caboose was within a few feet of him he turned and started to walk down the track. No sooner had he turned than he was knocked down and the caboose and engine passed over his body. Besides a wife, he is survived by a father, mother, two brothers, three sisters and two small children.

A CHILD WITH POLKA-DOT SKIN

Four Hundred Cases of Menstes Agitate Fair Susquehanna -- Railroad Racket -- Congressman Amos Cummings in Town--Mixed Mentions of a Personal Character.

Special Correspondence to The Tribune Suspuehanna, June 16 .- Mr. and Mrs. James Morgan reside near Stevens' Point, on the Jefferson branch. Their daughter, Jennie, each season this time is in the habit of gathering berries for market. A year ago last fall when Jennie returned home one day from gathering berries she complained of pains in her stomach. Family remedies were applied in vain. A physician was called whose prescriptions were useless, and the pain increased. Finally the doctor told the girl to fast for three consecutive days. The fast ended on Saturday last, when the girl told the doctor she suffered from a choking sensation. She was required to open her mouth while the doctor slapped her moderately on the back. She commenced to choke, when the doctor forced a pair of pincers into her throat and threw forth a snake of the garter species that measured sixteen inches in length. At the sight of her tormenter the girl fainted, any silver were the expert miners. The but is now fast recovering. She thinks that she drank the reptile when it was small when drinking from a brook.

Orders have been given for the construction of five "class A" passenger ocomotives in the Susquehanna shops. It has been figured that if an express train moving at the rate of fortyfive miles per hour, were to stop suddenly it would give the passengers a shock equal to that of falling a heighth of fifty-four feet.

There comes the saddening news that the Canaan silver mines have slumped and that the only fellows who received "16 to 1" idea prevalled from the outset -16 tons of rock and dirt to 1 grain of silver. In Brooklyn they bored for oil. They struck "good indications," salted water and a defleit. They drilled for coal in Starrucca and struck rock and the bottom of the treasurer's pocket. Somebody "planted" oil in Susquehanna some years ago, and the drill was set down nearly to China. The shareholders found that they had been fooled.
