SCRANTON, JUNE 20, 1896.

The Tribune is the only Republican daily in Lackawanna County.

THE REPUBLICAN TICKET.

NATIONAL. For President, WILLIAM MCKINLEY, of Ohio. For Vice-President, GARRET A. HOBART, of New Jersey.

STATE.

Congressmen-at-Large. GALUSHA A. GROW, of Susquehanna. SAMUEL A. DAVENPORT, of Erie.

Would General Harrison accept the secretaryship of state?

The Gold Standard Illustrated.

A recent transaction of the Illinois Trust and Savings bank, of Chicago, which was reported at the time in the Chicago papers, throws light upon what would happen if the mints of the United States were thrown open to the silver of the whole world.

Or, take another illustration. In the present American silver dollar there are 371.25 grains, while in the Mexican silver dollar, there are 371.7 grains of pure silver.

Unlimited free silver coinage would eventually put our dollar down to the level of these cheap foreign dollars, and would consequently be a ruinous mistake.

According to M. Paul Leroy-Beaulieu, the French political economist, the nomination of McKinley "will cause anxiety." Yes, in Europe and among Democrats.

The Future of Silver.

The Cleveland World suspects that the intention of the bolting silverites is to nominate an independent Republican silver candidate for president, in the hope that he may draw off Republican votes enough to throw the election into the hands of representatives, where the vote is by states.

In a minority in congress, be so distributed as to determine the majority of the congressional vote in twenty-three stages. The World doubtless voices the thought which led Mark Hanna to endeavor to prevent the adoption of a radical gold plank.

In this connection the language of Senator Hoar, who is now in Paris, is significant. He said only this week: "I am confident that the time is ripe for a settlement of the silver question and the reestablishment of bimetalism by international agreement and with the co-operation of England."

Those who predict that Senator Teller will be nominated at Chicago appear to forget that Senator Teller is a protectionist while the Chicago convention will be a body of free traders.

"Is Underselling a Crime?"

"There is only one honest way of doing business—to make the best article you can for the money, and make some profit out of the transaction. You have no right to cheat your customer. Neither have you any right to ruin your competitor by selling goods at less than it costs you to produce them."

The foregoing is a sentence from a timely article in the London magazine, Machinery, by E. J. Smith, a prominent English trade-unionist. Mr. Smith goes even further. He contends that underselling though not legally is morally a crime, because it "ruins manufacturers and drags even the skilled workmen down to starvation wages."

Michigan dentists want the state to supply tooth inspectors. Such a plan would doubtless be a good thing for dentists with strong "pulls."

THE CURRENCY PLANK.

From the Philadelphia Press. The Republican plank on the currency ought to please the business interests, because it promises a certain continuance of the money of the country has enjoyed since 1878.

just lost? And who is the culprit, the man who wants to squeeze the price down below the level of fairness, or the manufacturer who wants to keep it up to that level?

Twenty years ago the Republican national convention urged that "efforts should be made to unite all commercial nations in the establishment of an international standard which shall fix for all the relative value of gold and silver coinage."

It has been figured out that the St. Louis convention cost $4,000,000. The Chicago News explains that if this sum were to be paid out in dollar bills and the bills made in a carpet the carpet would be 1,000 feet long, 650 feet wide and cover fifteen acres and the capitol at Washington if set down in the middle of it would appear as a toy house in the center of a big rug.

Although the last two congresses have not responded as liberally to the call for appropriations for developing our inadequate coast defenses as the gravity of that call would seem to warrant, it is gratifying to note that preparations will soon be begun for the expenditure of the sums which were voted for this purpose.

The St. Louis convention wisely took sober second thought on the Cuban question. The roga draft of the Cuban plank called for armed intervention by the United States in behalf of Cuban independence, but the plank as subsequently revised pledges the use of this government's "influence and good offices."

Michigan dentists want the state to supply tooth inspectors. Such a plan would doubtless be a good thing for dentists with strong "pulls."

It looks as if the convention did a good deal more for St. Louis than St. Louis did for the convention.

Weather and Other Predictions for the Coming Week.

Sunday, June 21.—Mercury bi-quantile to Herschel. Weather fair. A child born on this day will be careless and extravagant and will probably be poor all his life.

TOLD BY THE STARS.

Daily Horoscope Drawn by Ajacchus, The Tribune Astrologer.

Now that the convention is over, a child born on this day will naturally expect Mr. Burke to contribute a little amusement by placing another smile in the Herring stereopticon exhibition.

While our esteemed contemporaries are congratulating themselves upon extra convention editions, The Tribune may be pardoned for putting itself on the back at the thought of yesterday's issue.

We have a suspicion that our esteemed neighbor, the Times, hath propensities for pilfering thunder when it claims glory for the convention dispatches that appeared on The Tribune bulletin boards on Thursday.

Ajacchus' Advice.

Do not imagine that you have heard all the news until you have read The Tribune.
