THE CELEBRATION HAS COME TO AN END

Close of the Anniversary Services of the Asbury M. E. Church.

DR. IGLEHART'S LOGICAL SERMON

It Tended to Show the Necessity and Means of Building and Uplifting. A Comprehensive Reference to Christ's Divinity—Evening Sermon by Rev. Dr. D. H. Moore, of Cincinnati—A Notable Event.

The close of what will be a memorable season in the annals of Asbury Methodist church, Green Ridge, which since Thursday, has been celebrating its twentieth anniversary, took place yesterday. There were two special services, one in the morning when the sermon was by Rev. Dr. F. C. Iglehart, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and another in the evening when Rev. Dr. D. H. Moore, of Cincinnati, preached.

Special music, of which the organ voluntary and postlude, by Mrs. John Baker, and "The Lord's Prayer," by the male octet, were delightful features, and responsive readings and special congregational singing were included in the morning service. Prayer was offered by Rev. Wilson Treble, of Wyoming.

FOR BUILDING AND UPLIFTING. Dr. Iglehart's sermon was a finished and scholarly plea for the building of the church and the uplifting and strengthening of Christianity. He made practically no effort in an oratorical way but rather strove to move and impress his hearers through logic and force of argument. Of the Methodist church he was especially enthusiastic in his several direct references to that church's strength and nobility of character.

His text was: "He loveth our nation and he hath built us a synagogue;" St. Luke VII:5. The passage referred to the story of the call sent to Jesus by the centurion whose servant was dying. The centurion, though devout, noble and high in authority, had held himself and his house unworthy a visit from Christ, who, however, had remarked to the people who followed him that such faith he had not found in all Israel. Those who then went to the house where the servant was lying found him healed.

Dr. Iglehart used the episode as an illustration of the benefits that will follow faith, humanity and Christian work and dwelt upon it in connection with his argument that the church needed to be built upon and Christianity needed to be continued and constantly strengthened. Those who love the nation, he said, and built synagogues, are loyal and worthy, and, as was the centurion, will be benefited by divine aid. Loyalty and worthiness, though, require something more than ineffectual and intermittent effort; the work to be lasting must follow lasting effort.

THINGS WHICH INTERFERE. Three conditions which are nowadays particularly strong in interfering with church building and which are thoroughly at variance with those characteristics which the centurion possessed, were mentioned as follows: First, "bars of gold;" second, "inordinate pride and ambition;" third, "walls of caste."

The first was man's love and greed for wealth, for wealth that was not to be given to God, at least not an equitable share of it. Christian duty receives interference through pride and ambition, especially because those evils grow rapidly and swallow humanity so deep that it requires all the strength of friends and church to draw the victim back to true life. "Caste," fortunately, is not so prevalent in Methodism as in some other churches, but where it prevails it is ruining one of the most important of common religious ethics and is defying the very personification and embodiment of Christ's teaching.

So the centurian's belief in the divinity of Christ won his help; it was not only his acknowledgement and belief of it, but his conception of its true meaning. An acknowledgement of Christ as the Son of God is too half-hearted a recognition to insure divine blessing. It is necessary to man's well-being that he should recognize all that goes with that divinity, that he should recognize its charity, well-doing, self-denial, faith and love. In plainer words, he who tries to follow the precepts taught by Christ is he who recognizes Christ. That was what commended the centurion. There never was a work and sacrifice done for the church, said Dr. Iglehart, that did not reap its reward here and lay up a treasure in heaven. What ever had been done for Asbury church had been followed by reward. God's gifts and benefits do not fall unattracted nor ungranted.

IN THE EVENING.

There was a large congregation present in the evening. After an organ voluntary the Gloria Patri was sung and the Lord's prayer said by the congregation. Then was sung a hymn and prayer was offered by Rev. F. A. Chapman. "Hark, the Song of Jubilee," was sung by the male octet. Rev. E. R. D. Briggs read the scripture lesson.

Dr. Moore's discourse was received with close attention and great favor. He has served several of the large churches of the west and now edits the Western Christian Advocate.

With the close of the service there ended one of the most ardent and successful of the several church anniversary celebrations which have taken place in the city.

AT CEDAR AVENUE M. E. CHURCH.

Two Largely Attended Services Held and Preaching by the Pastor.

A congregation that is fast increasing in membership is that of the Cedar Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, and at its present rate of progress will flourish soon beyond the accommodations of the edifice. The pastor, Rev. J. L. Rice, preached in the morning on the resurrection of the Savior from the death which He suffered for the redemption of sinners. His evening text was from Isaiah. "Thus saith the Lord, let thine house be in order for thou shalt die and not live." The lesson taught by this part of the scriptures, said the pastor, is the absolute necessity of a preparation for the world to come, and of being ready.

Captain Masland and Lieutenant Green, of the American Volunteers, conducted the afternoon meeting of the Railroad Young Men's Christian Association.

Last night in the Holy Rosary church, Providence, a reception of members of the League of the Sacred Heart took place. A short sermon on the life of St. Aloysius was preached by Rev. J. J. O'Toole, as yesterday was the feast day of that saint who is the special patron of young men.

The final services of the Church of the New Jerusalem (Swedenborgian), were held in the morning at their rooms at 412 Adams avenue, where Rev. George G. Starkey, of Philadelphia, preached at 11 a. m. His subject was "The Lord's Prayer," explaining the natural and spiritual meaning of this popular form of petition.

WAGON WRECKED, TWO MEN HURT.

Vehicle Run Into by an Electric Car on Clay Avenue.

A wagon owned by Hewitt & Son was struck by a Laurel Hill Park car on Clay avenue Saturday night and wrecked to a wreck. It was about 11:35 when the accident occurred. John McFarlan, of Providence, was driving the team of horses attached to the wagon and a man named Miller, also of Providence, was riding with him.

McFarlan was endeavoring to get on the track when the car came tearing down upon him, the fender taking hold over the wagon and throwing it over on its side. Miller was thrown out and badly shaken up but uninjured. The driver held to the reins and was dragged some distance before he managed to quit the frightened animals. He was able to drive the horses to his home although badly bruised and shaken up, but Miller had to be taken home by Traction company employees.

TROUBLE OVER TRANSFERS.

The Conductor Called Two Policemen to Eject a Passenger.

On the last car leaving the city for Taylor last night the conductor discovered, as he alleges, that the transfers offered by three or four persons were late. He refused to accept the tickets and asked for money or a valid transfer. These passengers refused to pay and all got off except M. C. Judge, of Taylor.

When the car reached Main avenue the conductor called Patrolmen Peters and John Thomas, who took hold of Mr. Judge and ordered him from the car. He obeyed them readily and upon reaching the sidewalk told the officers that he was willing to pay his fare. He stated that he refused to pay in order to be put off the car so that he would have a case of trespass against the Traction company. He claims the transfer was all right.

A handsome portrait in colors, of Hon. William McKinley, will be given with every copy of next Wednesday's twelfth-page Tribune.

THREE YEARS IN THE PENITENTIARY

Such Was the Punishment Imposed on Mrs. Maggie Conway.

WEPT BITTERLY AT HER SENTENCE

Marshall Goodman and William Kane Each Get Two Years—William Morris, of Taylor, Sent to Jail for Four Months and James Murtaugh, of Kelly's Patch, Will Be There Three Months.

Judge Edwards on Saturday morning passed sentence upon the defendants who had been convicted or had pleaded guilty during the week. Mrs. Maggie Conway got the severest dose of punishment. She will spend the next three years in the Eastern penitentiary and will pay a fine of $100.

Ex-Judge Stanton, her counsel, made a plea for mercy and reminded the court that she had two small children and has already been three months in jail; that she is yet a young woman and hoped not to be judged as severely as one of mature judgment. District Attorney John R. Jones argued that it will be a blessing to the children to be deprived of the associations and environment that would surround them with her and that they would be abundantly taken care of by Mrs. Dugan.

Judge Edwards told her that the evidence showed great depravity on her part, that she must have been lost to all sense of virtue, to lead astray children of tender age. The punishment, he said, would be as much against her as to deter others from embarking in similar pursuits. Mrs. Conway wept bitterly as sentence was pronounced upon her.

William Kane was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and serve two years in penitentiary. He was caught burglarizing Tidwell's gun store on Penn avenue and when arraigned for trial, admitted his guilt. He is 22 years old.

TWO YEARS FOR GOODMAN.

Marshall Goodman, the colored waiter at the Paurat house who stole a diamond pin and silverware from there and confessed his guilt, was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and serve two years in the penitentiary.

Joseph Pepper, alias Toni Lodoli, who pleaded guilty to stealing a check from the office of the Spring Brook Water company, forged the endorsement of Secretary R. C. Adams, and passed it on L. Posner, of Lackawanna avenue, was sentenced to pay a fine of $15 and serve one year in the county jail.

John Barrett, who was caught after breaking into Burger's saloon on Wyoming avenue, was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and spend nine months in the county jail.

Michael Cannon, of the South Side, was sentenced to serve three months in the county jail for robbing Thomas Judge, of Old Forge, of his watch and $1.75.

James Murtaugh, of Kelly's Patch, will not resist any constables for three months. Sentence was suspended until October on William Nervey, who was nipped up in the transaction with Murtaugh.

FOUR MONTHS FOR MORRIS.

William Morris, of Taylor, will be behind the bars for four months for the aggravated assault and battery committed on Hotelkeeper John Weisenluh, and two boys, who were sentenced to pay a fine of $25.

Peter Hart, who pleaded guilty to receiving goods stolen from the Mayfield road of the Ontario and Western railroad, was sentenced to make restitution and spend three months in jail.

James Dougherty was fined $20 for beating Thomas Gledhill, of Dunmore, and John Walsh, of Moosic, was fined $25 for tapping the Traction company's wires to obtain electricity for rheumatism.

Charles Hollow, of Dunmore, was sentenced to pay a fine of $75 to the Scranton poor district. Marlon Van Nort and Thomas Mervin were sentenced to pay a fine of $5 and spend thirty days in the county jail. They were convicted of assault and battery upon each other.

HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI BANQUET.

Programme That Will Be Observed Tomorrow Night.

The high school alumni banquet tomorrow evening at the rooms of the Scranton Bicycle club on Washington avenue, will be conducted on somewhat different lines than in previous years. The business session will begin at 8 o'clock, followed by the serving of refreshments under the direction of Huntington. The banquet will differ from those of former years in the fact that the time will be devoted to re-association of classmates. The banquet will be served during the exercises. The programme of entertainment is as follows:

By the President. David Owens Introduction of Toastmaster.

By the Toastmaster. George B. Davidson, Esq. Address.

"Class of '96." John McCourt Vocal Selection. Miss Irene Kann "The Old Woman." Emma D. Owen "What a High School Graduate Can Not Tell About Law."

John J. Murphy, Esq. Class Fulfillment. R. J. Beamish, Esq. Recitation. Miss Bernice Cooper "Capital Punishment."

Hon. John P. Kelly Advice. Superintendent George W. Howell, Professor J. C. Lange, Professor John Wagner. Dancing.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS HELD.

Those Who Will Guide Lackawanna County Irish American Societies.

A meeting of Lackawanna county council of Irish-American societies was held last night in A. O. U. W. hall, 421 Lackawanna avenue. The only business, aside from the reading and approval of bills, was the election of officers, to serve for the ensuing year.

The election resulted as follows: President, John H. Devine; vice president, Richard Shevlin, of Providence; secretary, James McGuinness; executive committee: M. J. Burns and M. H. Griffin, of Bellevue; John J. Costello, of the North End and John J. Sweeney, of John McTiernan, of Hyde Park. The council will meet on Sunday night, July 18.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied, for publication, by the writer's name. The Tribune will not be held responsible for opinions here expressed.

Mr. Miller's Request.

Editor of The Tribune. Sir—In the malicious proceedings against me by Polly Nallin I respectfully ask my friends to withhold judgment until the matter is finally terminated in court.

where I am sure I will be able to set myself right before the public. This woman Nallin has hounded me to death for the past two years; she has persecuted me in every manner, shape and form, and has been the cause of my removal from the position of patrolman. Not only that, but she extorted $200 from me when I was first arrested. I paid it to her for the reason that I have respectable relatives and did not want them to hear of the malicious proceedings. The understanding was, after the payment, that all the proceedings would be quashed, and I have papers to that effect which will be presented in due time. Thomas E. Mills. Scranton, Pa., June 21, 1896.

DUNMORE.

Friday evening, July 6, the Young Ladies' Mission circle of the Presbyterian church will hold a lawn social at the home of George Raught, Blakely street. An orchestra will furnish music for the occasion.

Children's Day was observed in the Presbyterian church last evening. The floral decorations were very beautiful and the programme was above the usual standard of excellence.

Rev. Rogers Israel, rector of St. Luke's church, Scranton, held services at St. Mark's Sunday evening. He presented a full report of the parish for the past year as presented to the diocesan convention.

All members of Division No. 17 A. O. H. are urged to meet in their rooms Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Nominations for officers of Loyal Temperance legion, which were to have been made Saturday evening have been deferred until next Saturday evening. A full attendance of members is requested.

Mr. McKinstree, of Indiana, brother of Mrs. Fannin, of Dudley street, died at his home last Wednesday of typhoid fever.

The game of alley ball at Logan's alley ball park Saturday afternoon between James McDermott, Michael Miles, Patrick Naughton and Patrick Dougherty was won by the former pair. Score 31 to 11.

The excursion of the Men's Guild of St. Mark's Saturday was a great success. One of the most interesting as well as amusing features was the bull game between the following lines: Max Miller, C. H. T. Houser, P. J. Stuart, I. B. L. Egle, 2b.; Fletcher, 2b.; J. B. Bronson, ss.; W. Stuart, cf.; W. Wilson, rf.; P. Pinckney, lf. Mr. Bronson was captain of this nine. The other nine was composed of the following: La France, c.; Joe Seelig, p.; W. La France, 1b.; W. Brundage, 2b.; Roy Keilam, 2b.; Wes Finch, ss.; Andy Marsh, rf.; Gallagher, sf.; Ed. Ousterhouse, lf. The score was 11 to 3 in favor of the former. The fielding of J. Bronson and the batting of Louis Engle were the features of the game.
