The night was warm and the window was open. The young lady, tired of dancing, noticed a bird cage hanging among the vines which grew over the veranda, the inmate of which was roused to its sweetest strains of song by Sammy's fiddle. Tapping with her fingers lightly upon the cage, the girl felt what she thought was the vine buds playing about her hand. 'Heavens!" cried one of the dancers, as ; he looked toward the girl, "look there!" A shrick from the girl, and she fell to the floor. A huge snake was circling down her arm from the cage and across her shoulders, and as she lay prostrate it coiled itself upon the floor near her. The moment was one of intense excitement. The snake's mouth was wide open and its fangs were set. The ominous rattle was heard. Then Uncle Sammy's riddle gave forth one - ' its liveliest and, and the reptile quickly crawled away toward the music and out of the house. Snakes are seduced away by music, and Uncle Sammy's fiddle undoubtedly saved the giri's life. The snake was followed and killed. It have their annual picnic at Shohola Glen, Aug. 6.

The managers of some railroads might profit by the workings of the great Delaware and Hudson road. The old reliable Delaware and Hudson never has strikes; its employes are contented, and paid promptly; and its dealings with the public are on the square. It's no woner that its stock is glit-eaged.

The Erie will expend $100,000 in raising its tracks in Jersey City. Several freight crews have been taken off the Delaware division. The road is running trains about a mile long, and few of them.

DEAD SOLDIER WAS A WOMAN.

Remarkable Death and Burial of a Hermit Farmer in Kansas.

Topeka, Kan., Jne 23.-A story comes from Butler county which is as romantic as it is strange and peculiar. While a terrific storm was raging Otto Schaffer, a hermit farmer who had lived there many years, took shelter in his cabin and was offering up a prayer for protection when a bolt of lightning demolished the house and killed bim. Neighbors found his body on the floor and summoned the coroner, who prepared the body for burial, and in doing so made a discovery that has been the talk of the country. He says Schaffer was a women. The deceased was an exsoldier, and participated in many battles of the war. Despite this discovery, the Grand Army veterans turned out and gave Schaffer a soldier's burial. An incident happened in the burial services which the old comrades believe was a warning sent from God. As one of the comrades fired a last salute over the empty grave into which the coffin was being lowered it was found that the gun was loaded with ball as well as powder, and the shot killed a dove which was flying over. The dove flut-tered and fell on the coffin dead. Schaffer leaves considerable property, but not one in the country knows of any

CHICAGOAN'S ODD INVENTION.

Devises a Fishing Rod That Jerks the Fish to the Shore.

Washington, June 23 .-- A new friend of fishermen has been found in Chicago in the person of Oscar Plath, a butcher of 5126 South Artesian avenue. He was granted a patent today on a fishing rod that will meet the approval of latter-day disciples of Izaak Walton. Plath claims to have discovered the solution to the problem, how a man may fish and sleep at the same time. The rod and holder are poised and as if going to see a near relative. It is cocked upon a strong spring. In this believed that the animal got on the train position it may be left on the shore by tself after the owner has baited the hooks and cast it into the water. When a fish seizes the balt, the tug it gives the line opens a trigger and the fish is jerked ashore and landed high and dry by the uncolling of a spring.
