Canton, June 26.-Charles Emory Smith left at 4 o'clock for Cleveland, partly to escape the wretched Canton notels and partly to have a quiet talk with Mark Hanna about organization of the executive committee. He will return on Saturday and make one of the principal speeches at the great ratification meeting in the afternoon. The reception this afternoon by the ladies of Canton to Major and Mrs. Mc-Kinley and the venerable mother of Major McKinley indicates that the candidate nominated at St. Louis appeals in some way with great power to the sentiment of the women of this community for they came forth by the nundred and by the thousand without regard to party, or sect or color, to do henor to Major McKinley and the two ladies. For Forty-one Cases and Four Deaths at more than two hours an unbroken stream of women, two and sometimes three abreast, passed in at the front doors of the spacious Miller residence, thence to the receiving room and out by a side door. There were women of all ages and conditions. While the women walked through the house the orchestra, concealed behind a great bank of ferns, palms and flowers, played and the movement of half a thousand tongues did not wholly drown it. The thickly studded with tin and electric and the incandescent burners blazed forth amid the bloom and leaves, and church, bearing on his arm his aged mother, and on last Sabbath morning, into the church of his early faith, walked our future president and with A Square Meal and Clothing for 3,000 him walked his mother. With home anchorage such as this we women have no fears that under the coming adminstration hearth fires will burn dimmer or counting rooms be closed. Our men may deal with questions of tariff and finance and political policy; we women believe that the importance of pure living is higher than this, and are satisfled that should you be called to prewould feel proud to know that the steppings of their little boys might be

AN AFFECTING GROUP. All the mothers with little boys felt the future glow with hope when the speaker uttered these words and they applauded her vigorously when she finished. Major McKinley in a dozen words thanked the ladies for their presence and took his place with his wife and mother to receive the women of his town. It was an affecting group. Mrs. McKinley and the major's aged mother who is an attractive old lady, sat in large chairs on a diaz. There were palms and flowers around them Major McKinley stood at the left of his wife and made the introductions. He was deeply touched and visibly moved by the character and the manifest sincerity of the interest which the women of his town showed in him and his family. He perhaps never received a more emphatic and gratifying tribute of neighborly, not to say sisterly, affection in his life. On the wall back of the receiving party, almost five feet above Major McKinley's head was a large white crown, the outlines of which were traced by $8 glowing electric

The reception today was the first formal expression on the part of the wo-men of the liking they have for Major McKinley and it was a very unique, successful and significant function. This evening a delegation of cheerful shouters from Norwalk, some 300 in number, called upon Major McKinley and trampled the last spots of verdure from his beloved lawn. Major McKinley took much pride in his lawn and counted it the most beautiful in Canton.

Tonight it is a wreck but he bears his loss with becoming good humor. In addressing the Norwalk Republican club, Major McKinley made a speech longer than any other he has de livered since his nomination. Among other things, he said: "No man anywhere through the country doubts where the Republican party stands today. It stands for a re-united country; it stands for the American factory, the American farm, the American fireside, for American labor and American wages and American prosperity throughout every part of our much loved land. It stands for a protective tariff that protects every American interest (loud applause); it stands for a reciprocity that recipro-cates—that gets something for what we (June 25). give from the nations of the world. It stands for the reciprocity of Blaine and of Harrison, and of the great Republican party (loud applause), and it stands now, it has always stood for sound now, it has always stood for sound money (vociferous cheering) with which to measure the exchanges of the people; a dollar that is not only good at home, but good in every market place as special agent of the treasury departof the world (cries of "bravo"), and ment with headquarters at Chicago durwith these principles emblazoned on our

No Better Man Could Have Been Selected to Conduct Campaign. Cleveland, Ohio, June 26.—An inti-mate friend of Major McKinley said today: "The appointment of Mark Hanna as campaign manager was about the shrewdest political move Mc-Kinley has made in all his career. Hanna not only devoted his entire time to ward its expense. A canvass existing over several years is an expensive undertaking and the money had to com-

from somewhere.
"Mr. Hanna has said recently that the canvass cost him $100,000. Of that amount $38,000 was contributed by friends of McKinley throughout the country. As one item of the expense It may be said that the cost of keeping the friends of the cause posted on its progress was $2,500. It was done by mailing 1,600 copies daily of one of the local official organs to the convention delegates and leading Republicans in all parts of the country. That was done for several months and was but a single feature of one of the most

FINE MONUMENT TO JEFF DAVIS

Its Corner Stone to Be Laid with Great Ceremony in the Former Capital of the Confederacy -- Other Prospective Exercises of a Notable

Richmond, Va., June 26.-During the three days beginning with June 30 this city will be filled with ex-confederates and their friends to see laid the corner stone of the Jefferson Davis monument. At the same time will be held the sixth annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans. The reunion and laying of the corner stone will bring together the largest gathering in the south since the war. The advisory committee, of which General Peyton Wise is chairman, have been hard at work for weeks preparing for the reception and entertainment of the veterans, and it is estimated that not less than 100,-600 people will attend the reunion These will come from each of the southern states, from some of the western states and the District of Columbia. and not a few from the north and northwest. There are in the organiza-tion known as the United Confederate Veterans nearly 1,000 organized camps. Many of these will come to the reunion in a body. In addition to the veterans, more than twenty camps of Sons of Veterans will be here, and a large proportion of the members of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, representing each of the southern states, besides thousands of prominent citizens from all over the south and southwest will individually help to swell the immense gathering. Many mili-tary organizations will be quartered here at that time. General Alonzo L. Phillips, commanding the First Brigade Virginia Volunteers, is at the head of the committee to receive and quarter the military. Crack companies be taken to prevent the introduction of infantry, cavalry and artillery of the south will be here to the number of at least 20,000 to take part in the ceremonies. Letters of inquiry about Mrs. Alice D. Jones. She stood in the carries sanitary inspectors to intercept rates and quarters are pouring in upon the committee from all parts of the country, and a conservative estimate places the number of people who will visit Richmond at that time at 90,000.

ENTERTAINMENT PROVIDED. All of the committees are making pre-parations upon an extensive scale to receive the visitors. The city council has made an appropriation of $22,000 to assist in the appropriation of $22,000 to assist in the appropriation of the alander which had been disseminated by the appropriation of the alander which had been disseminated by the appropriation of the alander which had been disseminated that the appropriation of the alander which had been disseminated that the alander which had been disseminated the alander which had been dis this amount. In addition to the usual business, such as proposed changes in the constitution, the election of officers, appointment of committees and selection of the next place for meeting, a question of great importance to several southern states will be brought up for decision and final action by the body. This is the location of the Charles Broadway Rouss Confederate Memori, museum. Mr. Rouss a wealthy merchant of New York, and who was a soldier in the confederate army, offered to give $100,000 for the es tablishment of this Confederate me mcrisl museum, if the Confederate veterans would raise a similar amount to be added to this donation. Already nearly the entire amount has been raised by the camps, and this, it is

At the last reunion the question of the location of this museum came up, and among the cities asking for it, were Nashville New Orleans, Atlanta, Charleston S. C., and Richmond. A committee consisting of one member from each southern state was appointed at Houston to make a recommendation to the United Confederate veterans. This committee met at Atlanta, Ga. last October, but failed to reach a decislon. They will hold several meetings during the reunion here and are expect ed to recommend one of the cities com peting. The principal arguments used in favor of Richmond are that she was the capital of the Confederacy, and that there is already a large Confederate museum here in the old Jefferson Davis mansion (formerly the white house of the Confederacy) with relics to the value of $100,000. It would make a fine nu cleus around which to establish the proposed battle abbey of the south. funds for the establishment of this great museum will reach something like $250,000 before the structure will be erected.

Pottsville, Pa., June 26.-A large and TABLEAU OF SOUTHERN BEAUTY. Another important question will be the recommedation of a history of the United States to be used by the public schools of the south. With the histories in use there has been great dissatis faction upon the grounds that they are not accurate and are prejudiced by sectional spirit. The committee appointed for this purpose is expected to recommend to the general body the adoption of a history-which gives more glory to the Confederate soldier and leans more toward the south's view of the late war. Ther will be many interesting features of the reunion. One of these will be the tableaux of southern girls who dam; Scandia, at Hamburg(June 25). will act as spop ors for their respective Sailed for New York: Normania, from states. These young ladies have been selected by the several state commanders of the veterans on account of their social distinction, their personal beauty or by reason of gallant services rendered by their fathers in the civil war. Some of the young ladies are recognized belles country, died at 11 o'clock this morning at of the south. The sponsors will be entertained here by the Daughters of the Confederacy, and will be given a reception which will be ab rilliant socia function, bringing together the beauty. fashion and wit of the state and many distinguished people of the south. Another intersting feature of the reunion will be the mammoth chorus of 1,000 trained voices, under an efficient director, who will crowd into an evening as muny Confederate songs and south-rn plantation melodies as possible "Dixle," "I'm a Good Old Rebel," "When This Cruel War Is Over," and other songs that "Johnny Reb" loved to hum while treading the picket lines will be heard on the slope of the capitol square, beneath the shadow of the old Confederate statehouse.

A striking feature of the reunion will be the gathering of Mosby's fam-ous rangers, followed by an elaborate banquet at night. Among the speakers who will respond to toasts on this occasion will be John C. Ropes, a wellknown historian of Boston, Mass., and Major W. H. Forbes of the United States army, an ex-federal soldier who was captured by Mosby's men at the battle of Aldle.

LAYING THE CORNER STONE.

The crowning feature of the reunion will be the laying of the corner stone of the Jefferson Davis monument. The ceremonies incident to this will be conducted by the Grand lodge of Masons of Virginia. General John B. Gordon, who is commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, will be chief marshal of the parade, which takes place at 2 o'clock, and is expected to be the grandest ever seen in the south. General Gordon's chief of staff will be Adjutant General George Moorman of the United Confederate Veterans. General Stephen D. Lee, commander department east of the Missis sippi United Confederate Veterans, will be the orator of the occasion, and Bishop John C. Granberry of the Methodist Episcopal church of Virginia, will offer the prayer.

Mrs. Jefferson Davis and Miss Varina Davis, familiarly known as the "daughter of the confederacy," will be pres ent as the guests of the Jefferson Davis Monument association. It is expected that there will be about 70,000 per the parade. The committee on design offered $1,000 for the best design, $300 for the second and $200 for the third. Many well-known architects submitted lesigns and the monument will be the largest and handsomest ever erected by southern people. Already a large amount has been raised, and it is expected that the monument will cost about $200,000. It will be placed in the center of Monroe park, one of the most beautiful spots in a fashionable quarte of the city. The site was donated by the city council of Richmond.

DEMOCRACY'S CRISIS

Preparing to Receive the Discordant Elements at Chicago.

THE APPLICATIONS FOR PRESS SEATS

Largely in Excess of the St. Louis Convention -- Senator Morgan, of Alabama, Discusses Bimetallium. A Letter to William Whitney.

Chicago, June 26 .- The sub-committee on general arrangements, press and telegraphic facilities for the national Democratic convention consisting of National Secretary Sheerin, of Indiana Mr. Walk, of Milwaukee; Shirley, of Louisville and Prather, of St. Louis, assembled at the Palmer house at 11 o'clock for the purpose of further considering the matters under their charge It was stated that the applications fo press seats were largely in excess of those of the St. Louis convention and that a pruning down to meet the facilities would be necessary. Prepar-ations are being made to have delegations of the Iroquois club and other Democratic organisations meet incom-ing delegations to the national Democratic convention.

Wherever delegations arrive in a body an effort will be made to meet them at the station with an escort consisting of marching club and a band of music to escort them to their respective headquarters.

Those delegations which have de-cided to come to Chicago in a body hould write and telegraph the train and time of their arrival to Mr. Harry Wilkinson, secretary of the reception committee at the Iroquois club, Chica-go. They will be notified in return of the specific preparations made for their reception. Delegations not coming in a body will be met by committeemen and directed to their quarters, if application is made to the reception com mittee.

MORGAN TO WHITNEY.

Alabama Senator Disenses Bimetal ism .- Country Should Not Wait.

Washington, June 26,-Senator John T. Morgan, of Alabama, has addressed an open letter on the silver question to William C. Whitney in response to the intter's communication of June 21. After saying that Mr. Whitney's letter is "entitled to the simeere respect which it receives from the whole people," Mr. Morgan discusses the question of an international agreement, and says:

"It seems to be a very vague and dis tant hope that Great Britain will ever yield to European or American states a real participation in her financial policy by treaty agreements."

The senator assumes that no American statemen can present such a plan Holiday will soon be her) tution, and makes the friendly chal-lenge to Mr. Whitney to state the plan which you would advise the De racy to eccept as a basis, at least for an international agreement."

The senator concludes as follows: "As rou seem to agree with the Democracy of the south and west that silver should be fully remonetised, I respectfully sub-mit it to your candid judgment whether this restoration of the rights of our peo from the action and power of our own government that has never failed in such an effort, than from Great Britain or any combination of European now ers, who will do nothing of the kind, ex-
