SURVEYOR HARRISON IS AT LIBERTY

The State Department Relieved of Tremenduous Tension.

The Venturesome Englishman Clearly Out of His Territory -- The Public Clamor in England Against Vene-Boundary Disputes in a Fair Way

Washington, June 26.-Senor Rojas' dispatch announcing Harrison's release relieved the state department and diplomatic circles of the tremendous tension they have been under for several days, notwithstanding the prevailing confidence that the blame would not be found to rest altogether with the Venezuclans. The main question which is understood to have caused Secretary Olney most concern was the exact lo cation of Harrison's defiance of the written Venezuelan protest. All doubts on this point were set aside when the geopraphical experts consulted decided that the proposed line of road from the upper Barinia to the Cuyuni where the surveying party was stopped was clearly west of the Schomburgk line, and therefore in territory which the British had hitherto refrained from violation. The Acaragisi river and the Schomburgk lines are identical at and near the Cuyuni, the Venezuelan dising named for the river. A number of Englishmen and Americans are engaged in mining and other pursuits in this district, but they recognized Venezuelan jurisdiction and operate under Venezuelan licenses. The British Guianan police militia has not 1895 its output was 50,890,267 fine ounces, attempted to exercise authority in the

THE CLAMOR MAY CEASE. It is thought among officials that in view of the latest development public clamor in England against the Venezuelans will promptly subside, and that in a spirit of fair play the authorities of the South American republic will be treated hereafter with much greater respect. Under such circumstances, confidence is expressed that the incident will give a strong impetus to the movement in favor of settling the whole question by arbitration, instead of undoing all that had been accomplished through Secretary Olney's firm and persistent demand that all boundary disputes on the American continent must be included in any general arbitration treaty between England and the United States. Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British embassador, had an interview with Secretary Olney this afternoon, presumably on that point:

WIFE 88 YEARS OLD IS DESERTED.

Young Husband Said to Have Gone With Her Daughter-in-Law. Chicago, June 26.-Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson, aged 88 years, desolate, in a one-story frame cottage at 9740 Escanaba avenue, South Chicago, has had no food for days, except what neighbors have taken to her. A few years ago Mrs. Thompson, it is said, owned a small piece of real estate and had several hundred dollars. Today she is penniless and has been deserted, it is said, by her husband, who is 42 years old.

When she was 66 years old she married Daniel Thompson, who was 21. The couple moved to this country from Denmark, and the husband found emplayment in the Illinois Steel Company's works at South Chicago. About a year ago Mrs. Thompson's son, by a former marriage, Frank Severson, accompanied by his wife, came to live at his mother's house. A few months ago, it is said, he became lax in his habits, and according to his mother's statement, has not worked a day since. Mrs. Thompson says he has squandered her money. During this time, the neighbors say, an intimacy sprung up between Thompson and his wife's daughter-in-law. Early last week Severson absented himself from home for several days, and Wednesday, when he returned, he found that his wife had disappeared. He was told she had gone away with Thompson.

The couple had four children, and these the wife took with her. He found als mother alone and destitute, for in leaving, her husband and daughter-inlaw, she asserted, had taken what little money she possessed and several hundred dollars worth of securities.

When Severson found that his wife had left with Thompson he disappeared also, and his mother has not seen him since. The police say Thompson and Mrs. Severson are in Indiana.

PLAN TO ROB A BANK.

Los Angeles Police Discover a Plot Suggestive of Dime Novel Villain. Los Angeles, Cal., June 26.-One of the most daring attempts at bank robbery ever perpetrated was discovered by the local police a few days ago and the facts made public last night. A suit of mud stained clothing was recently found in the rooms occupied by three noted crooks which led the police to suspect that the trio were tunnelling under some bank or safe deposit vault. Search was instituted and it was discovered that the vaults of the First National bank had been undermined. A saloon one hundred feet distant from the bank building was placed under surveillance, and a secret examination of the premises disclosed a tunnel two and a half feet square leading from the cellar of the saloon to the basement of the bank. In the cellar was found a tub containing 31 sticks of dynamite and a quantity of giant powder. The tools used in digging were also found carefully concealed in the tunnel. The discovery was made none too soon for another day's work would have sufficed to weaken the vaults enough to permit the use of explosives with certain success. Meanwhile the proprietor of the saloon has disappeared and the three crooks have also taken flight. An accomplice of the robbers was arrested yesterday and the police are hopeful of landing their men.

The First National bank carries not less than $300,000 in currency in its vaults at all times, and the loot if accomplished would have been one of the largest in the history of bank robber-

The Transvaal output will not increase as rapidly as has generally been expected. Australia may regain second place, but the United States promises to hold the first place as a gold producer for many years to come. Mexico is now the greatest producer of silver in the world. ## WAITING ATTITUDE.

The Monetary Outlook Is Perplexing to Many Business Men-Boot and Shoe Industry Booming.

New York, June 26,-R. G. Dun & Co. will say tomorrow in their weekly review of trade: Failures for the week have been 217 in the United States against 256 last year and 24 in Canada, against 22 last The monetary outlook is not yet clear to some. The strength shown in recent conventions by advocates of sliver coinage, and expectation that all elements favoring that policy may yet be concentrated, incline them to a waiting attitude. Their uncertainty retards improvement, norwithstanding the more widely prevalent feeling that is full of sunshine. Thousands of inthe monetary action of the St. Louis convention will be sustained by these people. But many mills have waited as long as they can with safety and signatures have been given by enough cotton mills of Fall River to ensure a temporary stoppage, it is stated, the nature of which is now under discussion in conference with the Providence manufacturers. Meanwhile the Pacific of Lawrence, and the Naumkeag of Salem, have closed for a time, and practically all the southern cotton mills will be represented at a meeting on Monday with the same object. Woolen mills are acting without concert but 14 are mentioned in despatches as having closed this week. There is no similar movement in other industries, though the period of summer closing is at hand in many of them and important controversies as to wages of iron puddlers and other hands make it likely that the annual stoppage in that industry may last longer than usual.

The weakness of wheat, which has declined 2.10 cents, and of cotton, which is an eighth lower for spots, though less for futures, have full explanation in decidedly good crop prospects. It may be doubted whether the boot and shoe industry has ever been in better shape on the whole, though manufacturers complain that an advance in price is necessary, which dealers are very reluctant to pay. Leather is slightly lower for kinds not controlled by the Leather company, and at Chicago packer hides are steady, while country have advanced a shade with small receipts. The great combinations, which, the Iron Age wisely reasons tend to cause disastrously low prices hereafter, still control the markets both for material turies ago. Near there are the homes of and finished products of iron and steel though it is reported that lower prices will soon be made for coke owing to better utilization of bye products and for nails owing to the heavy decrease in consumption.

ARIZONA'S CLIMATE AND SCENERY

Rev. Lewis Shelhorn, the Evangelist, Writes an Entertaining Narrative of His Tour of the Far West--Narrowly Escaped Assassination.

Special Correspondence to The Tribune. San Francisco, June 10.—A large number of friends in Scranton want me to write them about my work and the climate and mining in Arizona. As I have not the time to write to each person, I will write a letter for your paper and let the persons buy a copy or two. First-My work in Arizona. At first my world was somewhat blockaded. The first week at Winslow I received a letter from some of the devil's workers to leave the place inside of twenty-four hours or I would go out a dead man. I remained the twenty-four hours; then the workers of the devil banded themselves together, not to eat a mouthfull of food while I was there. I told them they would get hungry before I left, as I was going to stay my time out which was two weeks longer. I think someone got hungry, as the next night I was shot at three times; twice coming from the church and once in my room. The that of the Transvaal by $3,836,331, and last ball came only two feet from my head, and would have gone through my head, but just as my assailant shot I stooped down to pick up my bible to read a chapter before retiring for the night. The ball went through the walls and struck a brick chimney; I have the ball in my possession, which I will show the people in Scranton when I return. Before I left Winslow, the person who shot at men was converted and scores of others. I visited and held meetings on every charge in Arizona, resulting in about three and four hundred conver-

> A GREAT EMPIRE. Second-About the climate and scenry of Arizona. Prospectively, Arizona, is a great empire. Its possibilities are wonderful even beyond the stretch of the most sanguine imagination. Lieutenant Wheeler, of the United States geographical survey, has estimated that twenty-five per cent, of the area of California is of that character. In the development of her resources, Arizona is in her infancy. She is building her railroads and canals, storing her water and prospecting her mines, planting schools, colleges and fine churches, thus wisely preparing the way for the immigration which is pouring in every day in the year. The climate of Arizona is the best in the world, there being a noticeable absence of cloudiness and dampness. Nearly every day in the year valids have proved by experience that the pure, dry air has helped them. I > have traveled through the south and West Indies and thought the climate over there was grand, but this climate is simply perfect. MAGNIFICENT SCENERY. Arizna, too, has the best scenry in the world. In all my travels, Arizona downs all the places for scenery. The Grand Canon in Arizona is worth a trip out here. It is a chaotic gorge 217 miles long, from nine to thirteen miles wide, and midway more than 7,000 feet below the level of the plateau. Its beauties and marvelous wonders can never be told: thousands visit and go away in astonishment at such a masterpiece of nature. From San Francisco pe near Flagstaff, can be seen the far-fam ed cliff villages of the Moqui Indians fifty miles a way. Near Flagstaff are those ruins of extreme interest-the cliff and cave dwellings. These are the primitive homes of a very ancient people built upon the face of precipitous canon walls or in the spout-holes of dead volcanoes. A few miles beyond this is "Canon Diablo," a rather tremendous gash in the face of nature. Nearly all the geologists say this was caused by some comet striking the earth at that place. Just a few miles beyond this can be seen Holbrook and the petrified forest. Here some whole trees have turned into stone. This is the most wonderful of the marvels with yhich nature has been so profuse in the little known territory of Arisona. East of this petrified forest are extinct volcanoes and black rivers of lava, cooled to solid rock centhe Pueblo Indians, and many small Mexican vilalges, composed of huts of adobe, surrounding the little church which is always present with them. Much could be written about the scenery of Arizona but have not the time.

MINERALS AND MINING.

Third-About the minerals and mining. Arizona has all the minerals. She has enough coal to last hundreds of years. Has plenty of gold, silver, copper, iron, steel, salt, petroleum, sulphur and whisky. Some persons in Scranton want to know if there is much gold out here. There is plenty of it for every man. From Alaska to Patagonia, Mexico, there is hardly a square mile in the long mountain chain that does not have the glorious stuff. The trouble with it is that it is not waiting to be shoveled up in sacks and carted off to the mint. It is disseminated, finer than flour, finer than the naked eye can see it all through quartz or porphyry or other formations. Getting in out is where it gets its value. It must be found, mined, developed, capitalized and there is where the value comes in. I visited the "Minas Prietas Camp" in Sonora, Mexico, just across the line of Mexico and Arizona, one of the largest gold districts in the world today, probably the greatest of them all. The appearance of this camp was not inviting. It was dusty with a thin white dust that clings to everything and floats on every breeze; treeless without a blade of grass, the abiding place of centipedes, scorpions and varlous other uncomfortable specimens of insect and reptile kind. The weather was warm beyond anything that patience and reason can endure. If there is any place on this earth that approaches hell, this Minas Priestas is Gold is a compensation for many inconveniences. Men would go into hell for it if they could come back to God's country afterward to spend it. There were men and women there enduring There is not a remedial agent in the world that will cure Fever and Ague and all other Malarious, Bilious and other fevers, aided by RADWAY'S PILIS, so quick as RADWAY'S PEADY RELIEF.

Travelers should always carry a bottle of Radway's Ready Relief with them. A few drops in water will prevent sickness or pains from change of water. It is better than French brandy or bitters as a stimulant. sylvania and Scranton. To the latter right after dinner. The miners were packed into the cages of the big hoist, and shot downward 900 feet below. Quick as a wink after the signal was given to the engineer, they droppe from sight. After they had gone down with a ministerial friend and the fore man, I made my descent. Darknes instantly dropped over us and we seemed to be falling without any restrain of cable. Down, down, down, we went; or two heard in the distance and darkness again. "The Six Hundred" said the foreman. Another flash of electric lights, a blow or two heard in the distance and darkness again. "The Eight Hundred," cried the foreman. At the ninth hundred we stepped out. The air ness that the heat outside never has. Nearby there was a terrific hammer ing going on. It was the miners at the drills. Around were standing some of the men we had seen above. Above they had on clothes. In the mine they had or a piece of burlap, a straw hat and a pair of coarse shoes. They brought in cars and then hastened away in the tunnel's opening on both sides. In one of the rear chambers the men were engaged in putting drills home in the quarts and swing their two-handed hammers, with a dexterity, grace and percision that was pretty to see. Striking fire in one corner of the chamber was one of the burly drills at work Compressed air is the source of the power. The hole is made by a combination blow and revolution, with far greater speed than can be done by hand. When the shots have been fired the miners rapidly shovel up the ore into the cars, run it to the shaft, and it is sent flying heavenward to the light of

Only two levels of this wonderful mine have been worked out, the first and second. In all the rest there is ore, and the greater the depth the greater the richness. Another hoist is being put in which will permit working to a depth of 1,500 feet. No doubt a still greater depth will be made.

ON EARTH ONCE MORE. Back to the shaft we went, away from the deafening racket of hand drills and Spanish language, as foul as the air was. We stepped again into the cage; away up and up, high as the sky itself emed, was a little white spot in the great darkness that seemed about an inch square. It was the mouth of the shaft. The cage went up as swiftly and easily as it had descended. More flashes of light, and we passed the 700 the 600, the 500, then a moment of darkness and a rush of sweet, fresh air, and a glare of daylight, and we stepped forth into the world again, and never will I go down another gold mine. If you miners in Scranton want to come out here and work in the gold mines for $10 a day, you can do so and take all the gold home with you; but I won't. I am at present holding meetings along the Pacific coast and expect to reach Great Falls, Montana, in July, at which place I may be addressed. Lewis Shelhorn.
