Harmonies Defeated the South Side

Team in a Good Game. Oneo f the largest crowds of base ball enthusiasts that ever assembled on the enthusiasts that ever assembled on the brickyard grounds was there yesterday afternoon to witness the game between the West Side Harmonies and the South Side team. Hastings handled the sphere for the South Siders, and although a trifle for the South Siders, and although a trifle wild in the opening innings, pitched a spiendid game up to the eighth, when he was relieved by Fallon. Hurst was in the box for the Harmonies and was an enigma at critical times, when hits meant runs. In the second inning things looked blue for the would-be champions, as the South Siders had scored six runs to their opponent's one. In the seventh the Harmonies, coupled with the delivery of Hastings and aided by ragged fielding, sent seven men across the plate. The weather was threatening throughout and in the eighth inning Jupiter Pluvius set him to improve on her.

AFTER THE FIGHT.

......060000010-7117 Opinion That Sharkey Is an Over-rated Lump of Strength-Gives Fitz a Chance to Chew.

Either Tom Sharkey of California is a better man than most sportsmen have put him down to be, or else the statements of the contest between himself and James J. Corbett the other night were colored to a greater or less extent in the ex-sailor's favor, says the Buffalo Enquirer. There is much to consider in the latter statement. Corbett has been hounded for several years past, in fact ever since he put the pride of the country, the great John L. Sullivan, out of the fighting business at New Orleans. Everything he does is wrong and some newspaper men go to extremes to show their ill-will for the champion. Espec ially is this true of Philadelphia, Chicago and New York papers and writers. That Sharkey is above the average is proved by his aggressive work the When Springfield has to resort to Ned other night, But there is not a sportsman Crane for pitching material the team is in this country who has seen Corbett about as hard up for box talent as the box who will for a moment believe that in this country who has seen Corbett he is anyway in the champion's class. After the match Corbett did not have a scratch on him and declared that Sharkey made a wrestling match out of it instead of a boxing exhibition. Sharkey professes that he can secure backing for $10,000 for a finish fight with Corbett and says he will force the pomfulfill his threat.

It is 50 to 1 that Corbett can knock him out inside of ten rounds and it would be like finding money to make such a match. Sharkey's head is swelled now, but so was Charlie have started an investigation of lead-Mitchell's and other men whom Corbett ing amateur riders, regarding the payin the clam town, and they believe it will put to sleep. No one today regrets his more than himself. It is next to imposan antagonist to sleep in four rounds if will probably suspend C. W. Hadfield, the number is stipulated in a an agree. | the Newark rider who violated the racup Courtney, and Sharkey thinks he is til he can explain satisfactorily the rua world better, yet he was groggy three times in the contest, being nearly put out in the first round. Here is a chance for Fitzsimmons. The reports will go to England that Corbett did not succeed in putting out a third rate man. It will be an additional excuse for Fitz to chew through the press, but woebetide the same red-headed boxer if he ever so far forgets himself as to enter a 24-round ring with James J. Corbett, Esq., of San Francisco and New York. The betting was 10 to 8 that Corbett would not stop Sharkey. There was no Corbett money in sight at these odds. Corbett was seconded by Billy Delaney. Jim Carr and Geodge Green. Sharkey's seconds were Danny Needham, Tim Mc-Graht and Paddy Ryan of Vallejo. The articles provided that Corbett should weighs but fourteen ounces to the pair receive 50 per cent of the gross receipts whether he was beaten or not. Sharkey to receive 35 per cent. of the net receipts if he stayed the four rounds. The gross receipts were estimated at $25,000. It was Corbett's first public appearance in his home since his memorable 61-round draw with Peter Jackson at the Califonia Athletic club five years ago and as he was to be expected. the pavillion was crowded, fully 10,000 being present. Both men had trained faithfully for the contest and entered the ring at 179 pounds each. The fourth round should be taken as a criterion of the fight. One report says: "Sharkey leads and Corbett ducked cleverly. Both men clinched. Sharkey struck viciously at Corbett and a short mix-up and a clinch followed. Referee was unable to separate fighters. Sharkey fought viciously. He threw Corbett heavily. There was little or no leading done and the men finished the round in a clinch. Sharkey's right eye was closed, while Corbett was without a scratch. After the call of time it recorner and Corbett protesting to the Corbett was seen immediately after the encounter by a reporter to whom he said: "Why, it was no fight at all. first time he has been There was not even one round of fight- since the World's fair. ing. That fellow made a wrestling match of it. He hung on for all he was worth. I could not get in on him. Call it a wrestling match will you?" Sharkey has shown himself to be of the improving kind. A peculiar feature of this fighting is that the higher class man he goes against the better he performs, That such is the case is shown by the poor battle he fought against Big Miller and Jim Williams while with Aleck Greggains, Billy Smith, Joe Choynski and Corbett as opponents he fought like a coming champion.

BICYCLIST WANTS $100,000 DAMAGES

Because He and Others Were in Bicycle Costume and the Plaza Hotel Waiter Wouldn't Serve Them. Racing Board Investigating Amateur Riders -- Smaller Nubs of Wheel

Several scorchers were arrested in Philadelphia recently. Magistrate Jer mon had this to say when they were ar raigned before him: "It is perhap fortunate that no person was injured o property destroyed as a result of their careless riding, or they would have bee subject to the act of March 31, 186 against furious racing and driving, the penalty for which is a fine not exceeding $500 and imprisonment not exceeding five years." The men were held in $800 ball for trial.

A fair bleyclienne of Philadelphia has attracted some attention as she pro-gresses on her wheel to the merry tinkling of small silver bells attached to the spokes of the forward wheel of her machine. The bells continuously chime warning of her approach. The idea of substituting the tinkling or whirring bell on the handlebars with a string of jingling bells is English, and is being quite generally followed since Princess Maud set the fashion in Hyde Park.

Attorney Graham H. Harris has brught suit against James S. Maltby and Clinton J. Warren, proprietors of the Plaza hotel, Chicago, claiming damages in the sum of $100,000 for refusal to serve him and a party, including two ladies in bloomers, with refreshments Mr. and Mrs. Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery went for a blevele ride one evening, and stopped at the Plaza for a meal. They waited some time, and then a waiter informed Mr. Harris that the party could not be waited on while in bicycle costume. Mr. Harris was startled, but he presently repeated his order and offered the price, $1.25, for what he had called for, according to the bill of fare, but the waiter persisted in his refusal, wherefore the suit.

Some one rises to remark that it is cold day when the really ingenious cyclist is compelled to walk home with an injured wheel. No one thinks any more of going out without the appli ances for a tire repair. A rider recent ly, while miles from home and far from any relief, broke his handle bar at the joint with the post. The accident hap pened in a locality where birch trees flourished and he selected saplings and lashed a section to each fork, the upper ends being securely fastened to the handle bar near the grip. Another plece was lashed to the bar across the top of the post and to each upright stick There was some loss in motion, to be sure, but the device enabled the ingenlous young man to ride home. If a sup ply of strong string and a pocket knife padour boxer to make the match. It are included in a tool kit, and suitable would be next to suicide on his part to timber can be found, this repair may be duplicated by any one who meets with a similar accident.

The racing board of the League of American Wheelmen is reported to ment of their expenses during the cirmaking the match for four rounds cuit races and the charges that they are receiving remuneration from the sible for any man, however good, to put trade. It is said that Chairman Gideon ment. It took Corbett eight rounds to do ing rules in the Mullburn road race, unmors that he is in the employ of a bicycle firm and competing in amateur races. In addition to Hadfield's case, it is alleged that a racing team on the New York state circuit is having its expenses defrayed by an athletic club in New York. The racing board is kept well informed this year of the movements of the racing men. It is stated that one blcycle manufacturer has a list of 350 racing men who are riding his wheels in amateur events throughout the country, and that they receive from $3 to $5 for every win and $2 for every second place they score. This practice it is further said, has been in operation since the opening of the racing season. A pedal which does away with toe clips and rubber bands, and which is made by a Chicago concern. framework of the pedal is bolted to the cross pieces in such a manner that the end plates may be set at various distances apart. At these end pieces are inclined inwardly from the level of the foot plates, the sole of one's shoe may be set into them in such a way that a secure hold is obtained. The foot may be instantly released but will remain in position when riding or back pedaling. The tred of the pedal, it is claimed, is narrower than any on the market.

The wheelmen of New Jersey are pleased over the nomination of Garret A. Hobart for the vice-presidency, as he was largely instrumental in securing the passage of a good roads bill, introduced by the League of American Wheelmen in the New Jersey legislature several years ago.

The first septuplet ever built, a machine which carries seven riders which will be used by the Stearns for pacemaking purposes in France, was seen on the streets of Syracuse recently for quired three policemen to keep Sharkey the first time. The wheel weighs 140 from Corbett. Sharkey struggling in his pounds and is geared to 124.

A minister of the gospel, active in temperance work, said at a public meeting in New York the other evening that the bicycle had done more for the cause of sobriety than all the red ribbon, blue ribbon, league, band or brotherhood movements of the past twenty years.
